Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Nov. 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Both political sides are arguing over who will control Congress. With this cockeyed system we have where you are elected one year and take office a year and a half from then, why it simply comes down to "who will be living then."

Now in December Congress meets, but that's not the ones that were elected: that's the ones that were defeated. If you are defeated you stay in Congress and if you are elected you stay out. The only way to get a man in Congress is to elect a young man who looks like he will live till he is seated.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

DAM BLAST ADMITTED BY FARMER

Long Fight Over Water of Hat Creek Culminates in Wrecking of Structure

REDDING, Nov. 10. (AP)—Culminating a prolonged fight over rights to waters of Hat Creek, a small wooden dam of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company on the creek was dynamited today.

About a third of the creek's flow ran through the opening which the explosion tore in the twelve-foot structure. Company officials estimated damage at $3000 in addition to reducing the power of the plant to which the water was diverted from the dam. The dam was not used for storage.

A rancher admitted the dynamiting, James Martin, company hydrographer, declared tonight. The property owner declared he was justified, Martin said, contending the company was under a court order to restore half of the stream's flow.

Despite the purported admission, company officials had taken no action tonight. O. M. Chenowith, electric company attorney here, said a meeting will be held tomorrow to determine whether the rancher will be prosecuted.

Three sacks of dynamite were apparently floated downstream to the upper face of the old structure where they were discharged by a long fuse. Guards who had previously been stationed at the dam were recently removed.

ELEPHANTS RUN WILD

London Festival Crowd Periled

No One Seriously Hurt and Colorful Pageant Goes on to Conclusion

LONDON, Nov. 10. (AP) — Three frightened elephants stole the Lord Mayor's show today as they caught sight of a make-believe lion in the parade ahead of them and charged into the crowd which thronged the Thames Embankment. Fifty spectators were pretty badly jostled as those at the curb sought safety.

It was the most gorgeous parade in years and not the least colorful spectacle in the parade was Sir Phene Neal, himself, the new Lord Mayor of London, in the ornate carriage which has carried his predecessors to their inaugurations for generations.

The elephants, in a tableau representing India, plodded along behind a group of Kings College students who carried a model lion as their mascot. Suddenly their leader saw the traditional jungle enemy and rushed toward it, trumpeting.

COVERED WAGON USED

The great beast seized the lion in his trunk as the students scattered and dashed it to the pavement. Then he and the two others headed for the crowd. Mounted police soon herded them back into the line, however, and the pageant proceeded. Up to that point the most exciting feature of the parade had been a real covered wagon, used by British pioneers who participated in the opening of the American West. It was convoyed by a band of American Indians in full regalia.

The historic Lord Mayor's show is a dozen circus parades and this year was bigger and better than for generations. With empire premiers and Indian round-table conference delegates here, old London did herself proud. Every school child attending school within one and one-half miles of the route had been given a Lord Mayor show holiday today.

SCORES OF FEATURES

The colorful spectacle winding through the labyrinth of streets from the old Guild Hall in the heart of the city to Charing Cross and back again featured an American Wild West section, an empire pageant, dozens of floats, tableaux, Boy Scouts, craftsmen from the old guilds, state trumpeters, elephants, artillery, hussars, infantry, plumed cavalry, mounted bands, foot bands and naval bands.

All day long the mile square area of ancient London was packed to suffocation with people. After dark the rich and the great, business barons, Cabinet ministers, foreign potentates, diplomats and other notables gathered at the Guild Hall for the annual Lord Mayor's banquet, at which are served the rarest vintages from city cellars.

LORD MAYOR PAYS

It's a great day and a great show, and after it is all over the Lord Mayor himself digs deep into his pockets and pays all the bills. It costs the taxpayer nothing. One or two other city dignitaries fumble with their check books, but it is the Lord Mayor's day and the Lord Mayor pays. His bill is anywhere from $10,000 to $20,000.

And not one Londoner in a thousand can ever tell you the name of the Lord Mayor. There is a new one every year. For a year he lives at the Mansion House, gives banquets and receptions and pays for them, and then slips back into the business world.

The central figure of today's festivities is plain Mr. Phene Neal, a lawyer, and the first of his profession to hold the historic post for half a century.

Amelia Earhart Marriage Denial Made Unanimous

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—George Palmer Putnam, publisher and explorer, has a license to marry Amelia Earhart, first woman to fly the Atlantic, but he said today they aren't married. That made it unanimous, for Miss Earhart denied the marriage reports last night.

"To marry Miss Earhart would be swell," Putnam said, "but while it seems pretty definite that a marriage license has been issued we have not been married, and I cannot say when we will be."

METEORS NEARING EARTH

Vast Swarm of Leonids Shooting Downward and First Expected to Be Seen Saturday

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10. (AP)—Coasting earthward down a 17 deg. slope in space the thickest swarm of meteors known to science is nearing this plane.

So vast are its numbers that although its main section is still three years' distant its advance guards to the number of a dozen or more an hour are expected to appear in the early morning Saturday, as well as for a few days before and after.

KNOWN 1000 YEARS

The swarm is the Leonid meteors, known for 1000 years past, visiting the earth three times a century, and occasionally filling the sky with a rain of fire.

Figulatively they are coming from above the earth because their orbit is inclined 17 deg. to the plane of the earth's orbit.

Astronomers plan to count the outriders of this meteoric host from today to the 17th inst., because the numbers seen may indicate whether the Leonids are likely to put on another great fireworks display in 1933, or to throw a dud, as they have done more than once in the past.

A call for volunteers to assist in watching both Saturday and Sunday morning was issued here today, volunteers from the lay public, hardy persons to spend the night out in the cold, to strain their eyes for hours to see perhaps a few dozen meteors, and to spend their own money for a 2-cent stamp to inform science of the results.

VALUE OF SERVICE

This is real scientific service and those who attempt it will experience some of the ordinary routine of astronomers, including paying their own expenses.

The count may enable astronomers to calculate whether the center of the big shower is headed just right to hit the earth. Its main concentration is estimated as not more than 120,000 miles wide and is now several hundred million miles distant.

The request for volunteers was made by Dr. Charles P. Olivier, director of Flower Astronomical Observatory of the University of Pennsylvania.

"It is useless to look for them before 11:30 p.m.," he said. "The part of the sky to watch is due east and about half way to the zenith. The number of meteors seen each hour, and the condition of the sky both should be carefully recorded."

AMERICANS TRAPPED BY CHINA REDS

Hankow Consul Reports Six Unable to Get Away From Kwangchow

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Frank P. Lockhart, American Consul at Hankow, reported to the State Department today that six Americans, two British and four Germans have been endeavoring for several weeks to leave Kwangchow, Honan, which is endangered by Communists, but the road is unsafe from that point.

The Consul's report is based on information received from two persons described as Dr. Skinsnes and Father Megan at Sinyangchow.

Lockhart transmitted to Gen. Ho Ying-ching a request from his informants that an effort be made to take the foreigners out by airplane. He also has taken up the matter with Hankow authorities. The two informants request a military escort for the foreigners if they cannot be brought out by air.

Severe Quake Lasts Hours

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—A severe earthquake lasting three and one-half hours yesterday was shown on Georgetown University Seismological Observatory records when they were taken from the instruments today. It is estimated to have been centered about 7000 miles from Washington, but the direction is undetermined.

Observers said the record is the most extensive received in some time.

PERSHING URGES NATION TO GUARD PEACE FUTURE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Gen. John J. Pershing today issued the following Armistice Day message to the country through the North American Newspaper Alliance:

"On the twelfth anniversary of the armistice which terminated the most devastating war in history and gave new hope to those who would save civilization, there is found an ever increasing gratitude among the American people toward the men who made the victory ours.

"Today the nation pays solemn tribute to the memory of those who in heroic devotion sacrificed their all on the altar of patriotism.

"It is well to memorialize the past, but it is equally important to take thought of the future. World conditions are still far from ideal. All classes of Americans must continue the great battle for peace.

"Above all it is the sacred obligation of every citizen to do his part day by day that the nation may enjoy peace and prosperity.

"JOHN J. PERSHING."

SWIFT HOP TO PANAMA COMPLETED

Capt. Ammel of Chicago Flies 3198-Mile Nonstop Route From New York

FRANCE FIELD (C. Z.) Nov. 10. (AP)—The monoplane Blue Flash of Capt. Roy W. Ammel, Chicago airman, flashed in here at 2:44 o'clock this afternoon completing a 3198 mile nonstop flight from New York in 24 hours 33 seconds. Weather conditions were excellent when the Chicagoan, who is a broker by vocation and flyer by avocation, covered the last stages of his long trip.

Capt. Ammel was welcomed by Lieut. James A. Mars, commandant, and other members of the isthmian air force of the United States army station at this field. The flyer thus completed the first nonstop flight from New York to Panama. He left New York at 2:10 o'clock yesterday with a low winged monoplane equipped with a 500 horsepower motor and having a cruising speed of 135 miles an hour. He carried 703 gallons of gasoline and thirty-four gallons of oil, which were sufficient for a 4000 mile trip, but had no radio.

The aviator flew by dead reckoning all the way. He said he became sleepy while over the Caribbean and one time went into a doze, awakening to discover his plane in a vertical bank at a speed of 190 miles an hour. Thereafter he sang lustily to keep awake.

HOOVER SAYS ADVERTISING BOOSTS LIVING STANDARD

Costs of Goods Lowered Through Wide Diffusion, President Tells Association

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Advertising was characterized by President Hoover in a speech here tonight before the Association of National Advertisers as "part of the dynamic force which creates higher standards of living."

Emphasizing the importance of the position advertising has come to occupy in the economic structure of the nation, the President said that "from enlarged diffusion of articles and service" advertising cheapens cost.

"Your latest contribution to constructive joy," he told the advertising men, "is to make possible the hourly spread of music entertainment and political assertion to the radio sets in 12,000,000 homes."

TRUTHFULNESS REQUIRED

Mr. Hoover displayed a keen knowledge of many of the problems of advertising and a thorough grasp of its effects upon modern life. He stressed the necessity of public dependence upon the reliability of statements made in advertisements.

"In the policing of your own business," he said, "you are contributing soundly to self-government by curing abuse without the interference of government."

The banquet tonight culminated a day during which advertising executives discussed ways and means of aiding the government in solving the national unemployment problem. Edward L. Bernays, member of the President's emergency committee for employment, personally appeared before the convention delegates and urged them "to use all their influence and leadership to handle the problems of their communities." He suggested the use of slogans in their national advertising space such as "give a job to a worker" or "fight unemployment."

HUGE EXPENDITURE

During the day it was announced that national advertisers will expend $1,400,000,000 during 1931.

The President confined his remarks strictly to advertising, concluding with a word of praise for the advertising profession, which he said elected to police its own business rather than asking the government to interfere.

TEXT OF SPEECH

The text of President Hoover's address follows:

It gives me great pleasure to extend greetings to you upon your assembly in Washington. Advertising is one of the vital organs of our entire economic and social system. It certainly is the vocal organ by which industry sings its songs of beguilement. The purpose of advertising is to create desire, and from the torments of desire there at once emerges additional demand and from demand you pull upon increasing production and distribution. By the stimulants of advertising which you administer you have stirred the lethargy of the old law of supply and demand until you have transformed cottage industries into mass production. From enlarged diffusion of articles and services you cheapen costs and thereby you are a part of the dynamic force which creates higher standards of living.

HURRY UP USE

You also contribute to hurry up the general use of every discovery in science and every invention in industry. It probably required 1000 years to spread the knowledge and application of that great human invention, the wheeled cart, and it has taken you only twenty years to make the automobile the universal tool of man. Moreover, your constant exploitation of every improvement in every article and service spreads a restless pillow for every competitor and drives the producer to feverish exertions in new invention, new services and still more improvement. Incidentally, you make possible the vast distribution of information, of good cheer and tribulation which comes with the morning paper, the periodical and the radio, and your contributions to them aids to sustain a great army of authors and artists who could not otherwise join in the standards of living you create.

Your latest contribution to constructive joy is to make possible the hourly spread of music, enter-

ARMS BAN PLEADED

England Offers to Lead Way

MacDonald in Radio Address Doubts That World Has Learned Wisdom

Hopefulness Expressed for Result of Franco-Italian Negotiations

LONDON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Questioning that the world has learned much since the great war, Prime Minister MacDonald pleaded for disarmament in a speech given at the Lord Mayor's banquet tonight and broadcast to the United States.

"The old Adam is still rampant," he said. "Words are used which make us doubt how much the world has learned by the bitter, tragic experience of 1914 to 1918.

"Great Britain, while perfectly prepared to lead the way, looks behind at the same time as she looks before her, and wants to know how the other nations are following her, because she cannot allow herself to be isolated in the steps she is taking to secure peace."

EXPRESSES HOPEFULNESS

He said he had "the most hopeful expectations," of the naval negotiations which have been renewed between France and Italy.

"While the world has been going through great upheavals," the Premier continued, "His Majesty's government has been doing everything it can, with a gentle and smoothing lending hand, to establish tranquillity where tranquillity has not been.

"South America has gone through revolution after revolution. The nations there are old friends of ours; it is not our business to inquire into their internal conditions, and we recognize government after government as soon as that government has shown signs it has come to stay for a reasonable time."

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE

Referring to the work of the British imperial conference, Mr. MacDonald described the gigantic task which he and the dominion premier, had faced. Problems of nationality, treaty making and representation in foreign countries all have been discussed, he said, as well as the question, "How His Majesty is to be approached and what sacred feet are to be entitled to cross his most sacred and private threshold."

As to the economic deliberation, the Prime Minister humorously remarked that his chief trouble had been to see that R. B. Bennett, the Canadian Premier, "didn't run away with too much of the swag." Presumably he referred to the Canadian Premier's fight for imperial preference and reciprocal tariffs.

BRILLIANT AFFAIR

The Lord Mayor's banquet was a brilliant affair. Sir Phene Neal, the new Lord Mayor, stood in the library of the Guildhall to receive the guests of the affair marking the beginning of his first year of office.

TO WIN: WED SECRETARY

Ten Rules to Assure Matrimonial Bliss of Professional Man Stressed by Educator

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—One way to get on in the world is to marry your secretary, Dr. Edward Lyman Cornell of the medical faculty of Northwestern University told students of the law school there today. Consequently, he pointed out, it is essential to choose a secretary with the object of "advancing her to life partnership."

He gave the following specifications for the kind of secretary who can become wife:

"(1.) Health—don't marry a girl who can't run 100 yards in close to thirteen seconds. Much slower is not a sign of health.

"(2.) Jealousy — a professional man cannot afford a jealous secretary or wife.

(3.) Thrift—like doctors, most lawyers at the beginning are penniless and cannot afford an extravagant wife.

"(4.) Education—a college degree is indicated.

"(5.) Social training—tact, good taste in dress and home management and the ability to entertain are very essential.

"(6.) Business training—this is most essential, as most professional men are poor book-keepers.

"(7.) Children—she should be willing to be a mother of children, as otherwise the country will suffer through depletion of its best types.

"(8.) Home secretary—she should be willing and capable of acting as home secretary as the demands the public makes on a professional man's wife are many and exacting.

"(9.) Freedom to spouse — she should be willing to allow her husband to attend meetings and conferences at any time.

"(10.) Beauty—she should have a good appearance and be smart enough to maintain her good looks.

"I have placed good looks last because, while that is where this quality should be put in considering the choice of a wife, unfortunately it is usually the first and often the only quality considered by us in taking this, the most important step in our lives.

"Marriage is entered into by many with too little thought. Instinct is not the best guide in choosing a wife. The civilized race has lost most of its instincts from disuse. So do not depend upon this quality, if you have lost it."

BROOKLYN CREW ALL SEA VICTIMS

Seabound Vessels Make Port Without Survivors

Witnesses Tell of Seeing Craft Roll Under

Tanker Tamiahua's Salvage Now Held Likely

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—All hope for the rescue alive of any of the crew of the lumber schooner Brooklyn was abandoned today when trawlers which had been stormbound outside Humboldt Bay at Eureka entered the harbor after the tremendous seas had subsided and said they had picked up no survivors. The Brooklyn capsized at the bar last Saturday, drowning eighteen men.

The stern of the 333-ton ship was located today three miles north of Samoa, ten miles from the scene of the wreck, and bodies are expected to appear along the beaches at any time. Not a body had been recovered when darkness set in tonight, however, despite a constant watch for miles along the shore, aided by an airplane observer.

SINKING DESCRIBED

Men on the trawlers who saw the Brooklyn turn over and sink were unable to see clearly because of fog, but they reported seeing jets of steam from the side of the schooner just before she sank, indicating a flooded engine room. This led to the belief the ship struck a submerged rock before sinking. The speed with which the vessel sank caused amazement among seafaring men.

Mrs. Margaret White of this city declared her cousin, William Morris, 50 years of age, had been signed on as fireman for the trip and was seen on the ship an hour before sailing time. It is believed Morris substituted for A. Budenich, fireman reported by the company's agent at Eureka to have been discharged shortly before sailing time. Budenich, however, has not been located nor has he made any effort to report himself alive.

MAY SAVE TAMIAHUA

Meanwhile, preparations went forward at Pigeon Point to refloat, if possible, the rock-bound oil tanker Tamiahua. L. L. Collins, marine superintendent of the Richfield Oil Company, which owns the tanker, and Capt. E. W. Samuelson of the tug Peacock, Los Angeles, predicted the tanker can be refloated despite the eight-foot hole through which a rock protrudes into the ship's bottom.

Great faith is pinned on the giant salvage tug Homer, which came from Los Angeles Harbor. The Homer brought powerful air-compressing machinery to force the water from the hull, designed to make the tanker buoyant enough to ride the crest of the high tide and be dragged off by tugs. Standing by are the Red Stack tugs Sea Ranger, Sea Rover and Sea King, ready to render aid.

CABLE TO SHORE

From the seventy-five-foot cliff that towers over the wreck Capt. Samuelson rigged a heavy cable to the Tamiahua for emergency. Over this will be sent salvaging machinery and provisions should the seas balk the Homer and the Peacock from getting alongside.

That the salvage operations may succeed was the opinion expressed when the storm passed, the seas subsided and the fog cleared away.

Aboard the Homer also is a food supply to replenish the tanker's larder.

Two Slayers Electrocuted; One Declares It's "Rather Shocking Evening"

COLUMBUS (O.) Nov. 10. (AP)—Two men were executed in the electric chair at Ohio penitentiary tonight. Charles Cramer, Hamilton (O.) slayer, was the first to go. He was followed by Bert Walker, Akron.

Cramer's face was immobile as the guards placed the hood and stepped back. He was convicted of the murder of Robert Clemons, 68 years of age, wealthy Brown county farmer, during an attempted robbery.

Walker, killer of Harland Manes, Akron policeman, walked directly to the chair and as he sat down said:

"A rather shocking evening."

First, the foreign-born servants looked on nervously during a formal American ceremony and then they forgot their shyness as they frolicked in an "Old-Country" festival to celebrate the wedding of the Ericson chauffeur, one-time butler to the King of Bulgaria, and his bride, a Croatian emigrant girl

BULGAR FESTIVAL

Relations between members of the Dawes family and servants in their households always have been close. So when Lauzanne Gergov, for eleven years the Ericson chauffeur, confided his matrimonial plans, the daughter of the former Vice-President, decided suddenly upon the wedding in her own home. She persuaded Gergov and his bride-to-be, to invite all their friends. Then, by telephone, Mrs. Ericson hastily summoned 100 of her friends.

With the American religious ceremony done, the wedding guests repaired to a cottage on the Ericson suburban estate, where the Bulgar festival got under way, some of the friends of the bridal couple donning native costumes for the celebration that lasted far into the night. Then the Ericsons left for their town apartment here, leaving the bride and groom to be sovereigns of the country place for a few days as part of their honeymoon.

It was an aftermath of the World War that brought about Gergov's employment with the Ericson family. Mr. Ericson, then an officer in the United States Army intelligence service, was sent to Sofia on official business. There in the royal palace of King Boris, he encountered Gergov, took a liking to him and persuaded him to come to Chicago.

THEY FALL IN LOVE

Recently at a North Shore community club where the foreign-born servants gather once a week for a social evening, Gergov met Victoria Krauser, just arrived to become cook at a Hubbard Woods home. They fell in love and decided to marry. Gergov shyly told Mrs. Ericson of his plans and she immediately insisted on a "real wedding" for the chauffeur and his bashful bride.

Today the former royal butler was back at the wheel of the Ericson car and the bride was busy fixing up for their home the cottage where the colorful celebration was held but, in the midst of their labors, they were able to reflect that they had had a "real wedding" in a fashionable home with 100 social registerites on hand.

LONG BEACH MOTOR GROUP INCORPORATES

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 10. (AP)—The Betts-Curtis Motors Company, Ltd., organized in Long Beach with an authorized capital of $1,000,000, today filed articles of incorporation. The organization is to manufacture and market all types of motors. Directors named are John H. and Edna D. Betts, Harry E. Curtis, Emma F. Dobie and H. S. Beckman, all of Long Beach.

On the departure from Amsterdam Dr. Claude Dornier, designer and builder of the huge flying ship, stood in the companionway and welcomed the guests as they arrived. A Dutch naval launch came alongside with a band playing patriotic airs.

CANARY SINGING

The writer drew a seat in one of the forward salons with Hans, the DO-X canary, singing merrily in his cage and kicking some of its spare bird seed down the correspondent's neck.

The ship dropped her moorings at 9:50 a.m. and soon after began taxiing toward the Zuider Zee with her motors warming up. Spectators on the shore waved good-by. Above the roaring of the motors resounded a popping of corks forward as the American bar was getting into action.

Meanwhile, rain clouds had rolled up as the ship rose and little flecks of moisture streaked the panes of glass in the portholes.

Below appeared in panorama the canals of Holland, while on the other side was the wide expanse of the Zuider Zee.

REPAIRS EASILY MADE

At 11:14 a.m. the pilot stopped the engines and the DO-X glided smoothly back to the water. Some one had noticed that an oil cooler fastening was coming loose. The DO-X being a seagoing ship, it was a simple matter to descend and correct it.

The repairs completed, the ship took off again and rose from the water in thirty-four seconds. She circled over Schellingwoude and then headed north for Calshot.

The DO-X was built at Altenrhein, Switzerland, but to all intents and purposes, she is a "made-in-Germany" plane, as the German Dornier works were set up there because Germany is forbidden to manufacture such large planes under the Treaty of Versailles.

SUIT FILED IN KANSAS ELECTION

Close Contest Muddled by Dispute Over Count of Precinct Ballots

KANSAS CITY (Kan.) Nov. 10. (AP) The closely contested and as yet undecided Kansas Governorship race was further complicated late today by a suit seeking to invalidate returns from Tuesday's election in the first precinct of the First Ward in Kansas City, Kan.

Fred R. White, County Attorney, asserts the Republican candidate for Sheriff in Wyandotte county was credited with 243 votes, while poll books show only 236 ballots were cast.

District Judge McCamish issued an alternative writ of mandamus returnable Wednesday.

Semiofficial totals in the Kansas gubernatorial race give Harry Woodring, Democrat, a lead of 646 votes over Frank Haucke, Republican. The more than 3000 absentee vote has been expected to settle the issue.

Woodring would lose only four votes if the first precinct balloting was invalidated, as the box was strongly Republican.

HOOVER LAUDS ADVERTISING

tainment and political assertion to the radio sets in 12,000,000 homes.

At one time advertising was, perhaps, looked upon as an intrusion, a clamor to the credulous, but your subtlety and beguiling methods have long since overcome this resentment, from all of which the public has ceased to deny the usefulness of advertising and has come to include you in the things we bear in life.

GOOD WILL NECESSARY

But in more serious turn, the very importance of the position which advertising has risen to occupy in the economic system is in direct proportion to the ability of the people to depend upon the probity of the statements you present. The advertising executive and the medium through which he advertises must see to it that the desire you create is satisfied by the article recommended. The good will of the public toward the producer, the goods or the service is the essential of sound advertising—for no business succeeds upon the sale of an article once. And to maintain this confidence of the public you and the mediums which you patronize have an interest that others do not violate confidence and thereby discredit the whole of advertising.

You have recognized that responsibility. The Better Business Bureau and the vigilance agencies which you have set up to safeguard the general reputation of advertising are not only sound ethics, but sound business. In the policing of your own business you are contributing soundly to self-government by curing abuse without the interference of government. I wish you success in your convention and in the purposes for which you are assembled.

YEAR'S ADVERTISING EXPENDITURE FORECAST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Assistant Postmaster-General Frederick A. Tilton today paid high compliment to the members of the Association of National Advertisers for their faith and enthusiasm in the face of business depression.

"The members of your organization, collectively, will spend for advertising during the next calendar year, 1931, $265,000,000," Tilton told them. "Of your 256 constituent companies, 121 will repeat their 1930 appropriation; sixty will increase their appropriations; fifteen only will reduce their appropriations, and sixty-one are undecided.

"I find your group represents only one-fifth of the total advertising budget of the country. It is estimated $1,400,000,000 will be spent in all kinds of advertising in the United States in 1931. Of this $450,000,000 is to be spent for newspaper space by local advertisers; between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000 for classified advertising, and $775,000,000 by general or national advertisers in newspaper, magazine, billboard, circular, and broadcasting advertising."

SPENDING SPREE PROPOSAL MADE

Film Theater Owners Hear Plea for Extravagance

National "Buy Now" Drive Receives Indorsement

Bankers Criticised Because of Thrift Advice

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10. (AP)—Indorsement of the national "buy now" campaign as a means of starting business on the upgrade was voted today by the Motion-Picture Theater Owners of America at the opening of their annual convention.

M. A. Lightner, president of the organization, appointed a committee to consider the best methods of furthering the campaign throughout the country.

BANKERS CRITICISED

The "buy now" proposal brought a criticism of certain bankers by R. P. Woodhull, a former president. "The bankers," he said, "are responsible for the thrifty habits of the people."

"Even now they ask us to spend wisely. That is foolish. What this country needs is extravagant spending. We never had prosperity until the people had learned to spend extravagantly and bought things they didn't need."

A plea for a united front against taxation to be discussed in various State legislatures this winter was voiced by Charles Pettijohn, general counsel for the Motion-Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

TAX PROPOSALS HIT

"This is the time," he said, "to stop squabbling among ourselves and put the destructive forces and men who create strife on the spot. The life of the industry is at stake. You may as well kiss the motion-picture industry good-by, Hollywood and all, if 5 per cent of the tax measures facing the next legislatures are passed."

Frank C. Walker, counsel for the organization, argued the business be so conducted to obviate the need of outside censorship. He recommended censoring the business from the inside by exhibiting only pictures that will meet with public approval.

NEW WORLD RED PLOT DISCLOSED

Wrecking of Markets Aimed at in Program

"Enslaved Labor" Products Dumped Wholesale

House Group Told Plan to Tie Hands of Nations

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Testimony that the soviet five-year industrial program was instituted to produce economic depression in capitalistic nations preparatory to world-wide revolution, was presented to the House Communism investigating committee today by three witnesses.

Rev. Father Edmund Walsh, vice-president of Georgetown University, testified that through the program the soviet is enabled to dump in the so-called capitalistic nations products of "enslaved labor" at prices which are destroying world markets.

Bernard S. Barron of New York, general counsel of the American Manganese Producers' Association, and E. S. Clark of Phoenix, Ariz., counsel for the Chapin Exploration Company of Chicago, testified Russia is dumping manganese and other conscripted labor products on American markets at prices below the cost of production.

SITTING ON VOLCANO

The fourth witness was William F. Long, general manager of the Associated Industries of Cleveland. He said Communists have concentrated on Cleveland industries and have become a menace to workers and employers. The movement, he said, was spreading with disastrous effect.

"We feel like we are sitting on an industrial volcano," he said.

Police officials of Cleveland failed to appear to testify. Chairman Hamilton Fish indicated he will issue subpoenas when the committee reconvenes here on the 24th inst., after a swing into southern States and possibly Mexico.

Father Walsh read from a book by G. T. Grinko, credited with being the creator of the five-year industrialization program.

Under the plan, Father Walsh said, the soviet government is drafting groups of 30,000 workers for the mines and forests to produce coal and lumber for export. The workers, he added, are given no compensation and lived under distressing conditions.

RED PURPOSE TOLD

Reading from a book by Gregoire Bessedowsky, formerly charge d'affaires at the soviet Embassy in Paris, Father Walsh told the committee Bessedowsky was to have been sent here as a commercial agent with a view to obtaining recognition by the United States of the Russian government.

Bessedowsky was prevented from entering by the State Department, because of his political activities. The book said Bessedowsky was to obtain entrance through an order for 10,000 tractors and that he was instructed by Moscow to get acquainted with Henry Ford.

Discussing the manganese situation, Barron said as a result of the dumping, every domestic mine has been closed.

Anne Nichols's Appeal in Plagiarism Suit Against Film Company Fails

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Anne Nichols, author of "Abie's Irish Rose," lost an appeal today in her $3,000,000 plagiarism suit against Universal Pictures Corporation, in which a court had rendered a decision against her in May, 1929.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals unanimously upheld a decision dismissing the action which had been directed against the Universal corporation and its head, Carl Laemmle, and Henry Pollard, who, Miss Nichols had charged, had rewritten her plot into "The Cohens and the Kelleys."

Judge Hand, in writing the opinion, said "we found that the plot of the second play was too different to infringe upon the other."

SCRATCHING OF BALLOTS DEPLORED

Parley on Government Told by Ohio Official Party Lines Weakening

CLEVELAND, Nov. 10. (AP)—Ballot scratching as an expression of the voter's independence is weakening party lines, bringing smaller men into government and threatening governmental stability, Atty.-Gen. Bettnan of Ohio said today in addressing the national conference on government here.

The address was delivered during a discussion of better methods of picking candidates.

"The political party should be regarded as the vehicle through which the will of the majority of the people is registered upon measures—and as a guarantor of sound official conduct by men," the Attorney-General said. "If these results be not accomplished, the remedy is not to abolish the party, but to substitute better leadership in the party. If that cannot be accomplished—the heroic remedy is then to elect the opposition party."

Col. C. O. Sherrill of Cincinnati, former manager of that city, outlined Cincinnati's plan for aiding the jobless and proposed the President of the United States create a permanent commission for the stabilization of employment and industry. He also recommended creation of similar State commissions.

YOUNG PLAN COLLAPSE FORECAST

Gerard Says Germany to Repudiate Reparations in Next Eighteen Months

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—James W. Gerard, former Ambassador to Germany and now treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, predicted today Germany probably will repudiate the Young plan for reparations payments within eighteen months.

As soon as Germany stops paying its war debts, he said, countries now owing the United States immediately will seek relief from their debts.

Mr. Gerard was here to attend the convention of the American Manganese Producers' Association and called on President Hoover. He said he did not discuss German conditions with the President.

TEAGUE TO STAY ON FARM BOARD

Sends Word to Hoover He'll Honor Latter's Wish

California Regarded Strong Member of Group

Grape Plan Expected to Be Working Next Year

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—It was learned tonight that C. C. Teague of Santa Paula, Cal., Federal Farm Board member for fruits and vegetables, has written President Hoover indicating his willingness to remain on the board for another six months after December 15, next.

Commissioner Teague hoped to step out and return to California on the date mentioned, but has been urged by the President to stay. When first appointed Mr. Teague agreed to serve for one year ending July 15, last, and when the year was up was induced by the President to continue for six months. Now he has accepted another extension and it is believed he will remain in Washington until the grape-growers situation in California has been satisfactorily adjusted in so far as aid can be given under the Federal farm-relief progrgam. In a recent statement Mr. Teague expressed the opinion that the co-operative marketing scheme set up to assist the grape growers will be working effectively by next season and the industry will be placed on its feet.

In addition to his expert knowledge of the problems especially affecting the fruit and vegetable producers of California Mr. Teague is regarded as one of the most levelheaded members of the farm board on general questions of farm relief and President Hoover has plainly shown a desire to hold on to his services as long as possible.

ROADS WILL TRY CLASSIFICATION

Tourists to Be Charged on Accommodation Basis

Three-Price Fare Schedule Effective January 1

System Planned After That Operating in Europe

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—A sort of continental system of rail travel—three classes of accomodations and three fares—will be tried for six months by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe and the Western Pacific Railroad companies beginning January 1, next, the lines announced today. The announcement was made by Traffic Manager Black of the Santa Fe.

The move is made to stimulate travel between Chicago and the territory served by the roads—Missouri, Arizona and California. The rates are divided as follows: Tickets at existing fares, good in standard sleeping cars on all trains; one-way tourist fares, about 20 per cent less than existing fares and good in tourist sleeping cars, but not in standard sleepers, and one-way coach fares, about 20 per cent less than tourist sleeping-car fares and good only in coaches and chair cars.

To illustrate the difference in price, a first-class ticket from Chicago to any point in California costs $79.84; one good in tourist sleepers can be obtained for $65; and one good in coaches and chair cars can be bought for $50.

This is the first time the system has been tried in the United States, the announcement stated. "The plan," it read, "is to place the cost of railroad travel within the reach of all and is somewhat in line with the classification of ocean travel and that of foreign railroads."

Berlin Acts for Cheaper Food

BERLIN, Nov. 10. (AP)—A first step to reduce the high cost of living in Berlin was taken today.

DETROIT HAILED SOVIET PATTERN

Huge Plants Plan Output of 150,000 Vehicles

River Junction Town Also Shipping Center

NIZHNI NOVGOROD (U.S.S.R.) Nov. 10. (AP)—This capital, founded in 1221, and famous throughout Europe and Asia for several centuries because of its annual fair, has a new ambition. It wants to become entirely modern under the soviet regime and to be known in the future as the "Detroit of Russia."

The Detroit angle is based on the fact that right now there is under construction here by the soviet government an automobile factory which is to be the largest in Europe and which it is hoped will compare favorably with the great motor factories of America. While a large part of Nizhni Novgorod is preparing to "hole in" for the regular severe winter which comes to these parts, there will be no slow-down in the work on the automobile plant, three eight-hour shifts toiling to complete the large buildings and be ready to start manufacturing by the end of next year.

AMERICANS DIRECT

Under the supervision of several American engineers, loaned to the soviet government by motor manufacturers of the United States, work on the large plant is reported to be well up to schedule.

Russia's first great motor factory, if it operates smoothly and to capacity, will be able to turn out 150,000 light cars and trucks annually. At present there is a great shortage of all sorts of motor vehicles in the soviet union. The government is importing as few as possible and is spending its money principally on basic machinery with which it hopes soon to make its own cars. A certain number of cars are being put together here and in other places throughout the union from parts manufactured by the soviet and parts purchased in America. This mixed assembly job, however, is not to the taste of the authorities, an entirely Russian-made car being the ultimate aim.

INDUSTRIAL CENTER

Nizhni Novgorod is situated at the confluence of the Oka and Volga rivers and, according to soviet plans, is to be one of the major industrial centers of the union. While there are other cities on the Volga, the government is concentrating its efforts on the intense development of only two—Nizhni Novgorod and Stalingrad.

The former has some 200,000 inhabitants now, but a population of 500,000 is seen in the near future when a score of factories and mills, projected in the national planning scheme, are in operation.

Aside from the building boom, Nizhni Novgorod also hopes for additional prosperity in next year's tourist crop, which is expected to be the largest in the history of the country. Tourists who sign up for trips down the picturesque and romantic Volga—and there are many of them, mostly American—must board the river boats at this port.

Missourian, in Statement, Voices Gratitude to Voters

SPRINGFIELD (Mo.) Nov. 10. (AP)—C. T. Patterson, known as "the poultry king of the Ozarks," issued a statement today thanking voters for defeating him in his race for the State Legislature.

Patterson was drafted by the Democrats for the race. He had no cards printed and spent nothing for his campaign. He said he is too busy with his poultry ranch to attend sessions of the Legislature.

Kersey Notes Week Devoted to Education

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Vierling Kersey, Superintendent of Public Instruction, called attention today to the celebration of American educational week, starting today and continuing to next Sunday. The week is sponsored by the American Legion.

Kersey outlined the daily themes for the week as follows: Today, "The Schools and the Enrichment of Human Life;" tomorrow, "How Schools Promote Patriotism and World Understanding;" Wednesday, "The Schools of Yesterday;" Thursday, "The Schools of Today;" Friday, "What the Schools Have Helped the Individual to Achieve;" Saturday, "What the Schools Have Helped Americans to Achieve;" Sunday, "The Schools of Tomorrow and the Future of America."

INFANT PLAGUE SEARCH GOES ON

Hooper Foundation Reports Study Progress

Impalpable Virus Believed to Resemble Chemical

Berkeley Tests Suggest It Immune to Attack

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—The infantile paralysis virus continues to rebuff scientific control in many ways but steadily things are being learned about it which give hope for the future. This, in brief, is the lesson of experiments conducted at the University of California's Hooper Foundation for Medical Research by Miss B. F. Howitt, research associate in medicine, under the guidance of Director Meyer, as set forth today in a report on progress.

For some years it has been known that a fluid could be extracted from portions of the brain and of the spinal cord of individuals suffering from infantile paralysis which is capable of transmitting the disease to other animals under certain conditions. Because this fluid, even under the most powerful microscopes known to science, reveals no traces of living bacteria or germs but even after being passed through the finest filters available still retains its virulence and is capable of crippling or killing, it is called a filterable virus.

BAFFLES RESEARCH

A number of such filterable viruses are known to science and many theories have been suggested to explain them, including one that the virus represents a dormant stage of living bacteria during which they are so small that no technique which man has been able to devise is capable of detecting them. In 1929 two plant physiologists, Vinson and Petre, found that the filterable virus causing the common mosaic disease of tobacco plants was analagous in many ways to a chemical substance.

On the basis of this discovery Miss Howitt began a study of the filterable virus of infantile paralysis and she found that this virus, as well, bears certain similarities to a chemical substance. It shows resistance to treatment with chemicals which kill other virulent agencies. After being precipitated, centrifugated at terrific speed, washed, filtered, mixed with acetic acid, heated to 136 deg. F., placed on ice and otherwise subjected to chemical purification, the fluid and the material taken out of it in the process are capable of causing infection.

CONTINUE STUDIES

Miss Howitt and Dr. Meyer will continue study of infantile paralysis virus with the hope of further purifying it and perhaps determining something concerning its nature.

The research has been made possible by the financial assistance of an anonymous friend of the university who is supplying $5000 a year for the support of scientific study and the maintenance of an emergency supply of serum.

THE REAL BEGINNING of a beautiful complexion is perfect health. Without that, color soon fades.

FRESH YEAST, added to your diet (3 cakes daily, before or between meals) helps lay the foundation for real health, renewed appetite, restored energy, greater reserve . . . and the result is better skin.

Complexion Color that Doesn't Come in JARS!

Here's the way to radiant health that puts the rouge-pot to shame for color! Just a corrective treatment for that age-old evil . . . Intestinal Fatigue!

PUT away that lipstick! Go easy on the powder and rouge! Here's the way to lay the foundation for healthy color that no amount of cosmetics can match!

A good skin begins with a healthy body.

Unfortunately, our bodies were not built for our present-day modes of living. And most of us, as a result, suffer from an age-old ailment . . . Intestinal Fatigue . . . that shows its marks first of all in bad skin.

Not only that, we lack vitality. Energy is quickly spent. We are susceptible to colds, to headaches. 90% of our common ailments come from one condition . . . Intestinal Fatigue.

Now most of us are too impatient really to correct this trouble. We turn to cathartics, to laxatives, to measures that are often violent and always only temporary.

Doctors, including European specialists, are emphatic in warning against this method. They recommend, instead, a simple food routine that acts naturally and easily, restoring bodily function to normal once again.

This food is fresh yeast . . . ordinary Fleischmann's Yeast. Eaten regularly, it serves the highly useful purpose of regulating the intestines, of cleaning and toning up the very region where intestinal fatigue gets in its bad work.

And once yeast has been given a chance to clear away poison-breeding accumulations, color returns, the skin clears, pimples and boils disappear. We feel better in ways . . . because we again enjoy the true health without which a good natural complexion color is impossible.

If you really want a good complexion, make the right sort of beginning with Fleischmann's Yeast. Eat it regularly . . . three cakes a day, in water, milk, fruit juices, milk drinks or

OIL PLUTOCRAT AGAIN ON ROCKS

Joshua Cosden Concern in Receiver's Hands

Company Solvent but Unable to Pay, He Says

Speculator's Comeback Looks More Like Setback

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Another chapter was written today into the colorful career of Joshua A. Cosden by appointment of a receiver for the Cosden Oil Company in the Federal Court at Wilmington, Del. Cosden, once a poor clerk in Baltimore, has made millions and lost them. Once he entertained the Prince of Wales at his million-dollar estate on Long Island.

His oil company said its assets are ample but declared it is unable to pay its current debts when faced with a demand from the Merrick Drilling Company for payment of $17,735 for drilling a well.

RECEIVERS NAMED

Federal Judge Nields appointed Hugh M. Morris, of Wilmington, and George N. Moore of Fort Worth, Tex., receivers for the company, which listed its total assets at $12,812,000 and liabilities, exclusive of corporate stock, at $4,330,000.

Cosden organized the company, capitalized at $5,000,000, in 1928. It marked his return to the oil business and the hectic competition of Wall street after a series of reversals had diminished a reputed fortune of $50,000,000.

He made his reputation and his money in the oil fields of Oklahoma. There, too, he met and married his second wife, the former Mrs. Charles Franklin Roser of Tulsa. They set out to storm the citadels of eastern society and chartered a private car to take them and their millions to New York.

ROPES OF PEARLS

Here they cut a wide swath. At the opera Mrs. Cosden wore pearls valued at $600,000. They purchased a 300-acre estate at Port Washington, Long Island. They bought an ocean-front estate at Newport and a $2,000,000 villa at Palm Beach. The Cosden racing stable became famous.

To cap it all they had the Prince of Wales as a house guest at Port Washington in 1924, together with Lord and Lady Mountbatten. A dramatic incident of the visit was a jewel robbery reported a few days after the visit in which Mrs. Cosden said she lost $150,000 in jewels and Lady Mountbatten was reported to have lost $42,000 worth of gems.

ON TOBOGGAN

Then came disaster. In 1926 Vincent Astor bought the Cosden show place on Long Island. The sale of the Palm Beach villa followed quickly. Cosden lost control of a company he had organized and for a time dropped out of sight.

Then in the fall of 1927 the oil industry heard Cosden was "coming back." He did and soon again was playing a prominent part.

Morris Feinberg Tells of Loss at Kansas City

Theft Believed Perpetrated While He Shaved

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10. (AP)—Theft of diamonds valued at $40,000 was reported to police here today by Morris Feinberg, Los Angeles diamond broker. He said a wallet containing the jewels had been removed from his inside coat pocket after he started shaving on a train on which he arrived here from Wichita.

The jewels were not insured. Diamond wristlets valued by Feinberg at $30,000, which he carried in his trouser pockets, were not taken, he said.

HUNG COAT UP

Feinberg said the jewels were only partly paid for and the loss would "break" him. He has been a diamond broker twelve years and has been traveling through the Southwest, visiting stores at Amarillo, Oklahoma City, Wichita and Kansas City.

"I last felt the diamonds safe in my coat when I hung it up in the washroom of the train, while shaving," Feinberg told police. "I have a habit of patting that pocket now and then to see if the leather wallet holding the jewels still is there.

"I got off the train with my grip in my hand. There was some pushing in the vestibule—it might be they were taken then—but I can't recall any definite incident. Walking to the ticket windows to have my ticket validated, I patted my coat pocket and discovered the wallet was missing."

Feinberg said the wallet also contained several hundred dollars in cash and about fifteen rings and two bracelets.

Morris Feinberg maintains offices in Los Angeles in the Metropolitan Building, Fifth and Broadway. At his place of business yesterday it was said he left Los Angeles ten days ago with a large consignment of diamonds which he expected to sell in middle western cities for the Christmas trade. Before going to Kansas he visited Oklahoma and other States.

Solicitor-General to Confer With Commonwealths

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—A conference of the Colorado River States which have subscribed to the Boulder Dam compact will be held here the 21st inst. to determine how to answer the suit of Arizona against the construction of the Colorado River project.

George W. Malone, Nevada member of the Boulder Dam Commission, made the announcement when he arrived here today to attend a public lands conference.

"The six compacting States named in Arizona's suit have not yet decided whether to answer separately, together, or to enter in with the government in the answer it will file," Malone said.

"A conference on the subject held in Greeley, Colo., last week was attended by representatives of five of the six sued States, Utah, Wyoming, New Mexico, Colorado and Nevada. Several tentative plans of procedure were suggested but no definite decision was reached.

"The meeting here will be for the purpose of conferring with Solicitor-General Thomas D. Thacher, who is handling the case for the Federal government, to decide the best course of legal action."

A Statement by the Cadillac Motor Car Company

Concerning the Cadillac and La Salle Program

THE bringing out of the Cadillac V-16 a few months ago and now the new Cadillac and La Salle V-Eights, and early in October the new Cadillac V-12, may give rise to some question as to our manufacturing program.

It is our desire that Cadillac and La Salle owners and the motoring public be apprised of the facts.

The La Salle will remain companion car to Cadillac. It was so introduced, as such it has greatly succeeded and as such it will continue.

Obviously the number of motor cars which any manufacturer may sell in a given price field is finally governed by the ability of the public to buy them.

Cadillac cars having gained almost universal acceptance in the finest car field, any considerable expansion must be through cultivation of a broader market in lower price ranges.

Our experience has been in building fine cars. The Cadillac organization could not adhere to its fine car ideals and successfully produce a low priced car, but through a more complete coverage of the fine car field it was apparent that we could give greater value and appreciably lower prices.

For the broader market, therefore, we created the La Salle out of our Cadillac experience and developed it as a quality car.

For the highest priced fields we have produced the sixteen-cylinder Cadillac and the twelve-cylinder Cadillac. And between the very broad market for the La Salle and the relatively narrow market for twelve and sixteen cylinder cars, there is a large market for Cadillac V-8's.

These lines of cars contribute to one another a tremendous influence in sales, a marked advance in values and make possible the low prices at which Cadillac and La Salle cars are sold.

Were it not for La Salle, all Cadillacs would be higher in price; and were it not for the Cadillacs, La Salle prices would necessarily be so high as to defeat the purpose for which the La Salle was designed.

Each of these lines is dependent one upon the other—the Cadillac V-16, the Cadillac V-12, the Cadillac V-8, and their companion car, the La Salle.

DRYS SING NEW SONG OF BATTLE

Capitol Hill Leaders Prepare for Congress Fight

Call Sounded by Fess for Educational Drive

Reins Will Be Shifted From Anti-Saloon League

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Drys are mobilizing on Capitol Hill for the prospective prohibition battle in Congress and the first step in their contemplated program is a national educational campaign.

Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, a stanch prohibitionist, sounded the call today for the educational drive, and he emphasized as he did so it must be conducted by a reorganized prohibition staff.

Senator Fess indicated the drys are going to build over their organization. There is an indication also the work will not be left to the Anti-Saloon League, which has shouldered the political activity of the dry cause for so many years.

Salvation of the Eighteenth Amendment is the one banner under which all the prohibitionists are united. They easily have the votes in Congress now to sustain that.

"The people will never stand for the return of the saloon," said Senator Fess, "nor will they give up the Eighteenth Amendment. We need a national campaign for education."

The stand by Fess was interpreted by some as a warning that any move by the Republican party against the Eighteenth Amendment in the 1932 Presidential campaign will bring a split in the party. Fess is chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Senator Fess, however, conceded the increased penalties recently imposed for liquor violators have failed to be of the benefit he had hoped.

Like Congress itself, however, the prohibition question and what those on Capitol Hill will do about it are enigmas only the future can solve. Most of those members now in Washington are withholding the formation of plans until the President's law-enforcement commission completes its report, which may come about the first of the year.

Representative Britten, Illinois wet, predicted today that "the howl of prohibition fanatics for further waste and corruption in the enforcement of an impossible law will receive little favorable consideration by the incoming Congress."

Britten assailed recommendations by the Methodist Episcopal board of temperance and public morals that 500 additional agents be assigned to the prohibition department.

SMOOT SON DIVORCED BY MATE

Wife Asserts Nagging and Fault-Finding in Suit; Court Grants Alimony

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Harold Smoot, son of United States Senator Smoot of Utah, was divorced today by Mrs. Alice Nibley Smoot on the ground of mental cruelty. Mrs. Smoot is a daughter of C. W. Nibley, second counsellor to President Heber J. Grant of the Mormon Church.

The divorce suit, filed here in the District Court, was granted within an hour by stipulation of attorneys for both sides. Mrs. Smoot's complaint asserted her husband was fault-finding, nagged her, was habitually abusive and stated that he had ceased to love her or care for her.

The Smoots have been married twenty years.

Mrs. Smoot obtained custody of Harold Nibley Smoot, 9 years of age, while Charles Reed Smoot, 15, is to be allowed to choose which parent he cares to live with.

Smoot, who is in Washington, is said to earn more than $500 a month. Alimony of half his earnings, not to exceed $350 a month, goes to Mrs. Smoot by court decree.

LEAGUERS PLAN LIMIT ON DRAFT

Army Conscription Problem Tackled at Geneva

Maximum Time of Service Not Yet Filled In

Gibson Voices No Views at Commission Session

GENEVA, Nov. 10. (AP)—A plan for limiting the period of service of army conscripts was adopted by the League of Nations' preparatory disarmament commission today, thus disposing of one of the most difficult articles in the draft convention under consideration. The time limit remains to be fixed by the general conference.

After protracted debate over the merits of establishment at a universal top figure for all contracting parties and a proposal each state fix its own maximum, the commission voted to establish a universal maximum and a maximum for each nation.

PREPARATORY DRAFT

The article in the preparatory draft reads:

"In each contracting state having the conscription system, the total period of service which the annual contingent is compelled to serve, whether for land, sea or air forces, shall not exceed the figures accepted by each contracting party, and in no case shall the figures exceed——months." The blank remains to be filled in.

The provision these maximums should apply to land, sea and air forces was incorporated at the instance of the French delegation.

PROBLEMS UNSOLVED

While technically disposing of this article, the commission, however, did not solve the political problems involved. When the general disarmament conference meets the Germans again will demand a limit be placed on trained reserves, a matter the commission declined to do Saturday.

Hugh S. Gibson, the American delegate, took no part in the discussion which preceded the vote. The German, Russian and a majority of the commission members also abstained from voting.

IMPASSE CONTINUES

Over the week-end a subcommittee succeeded in preparing in a form suitable for incorporation in the draft convention the principles agreed upon in the London naval treaty.

It was stated on good authority, however, that this tentative draft in no way affected the naval differences between France and Italy and had no significance as indicating a change in the attitude of these two nations.

RIO GRANDE WATER PLAN CONSIDERED

Newly Formed Commission Holds First Meeting on Problems Along Border

EL PASO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Lower Rio Grande and Lower Colorado River flood-control and water distribution problems were considered today at the first meeting of the newly reorganized international water commission in Juarez. Vasquez Schiaffino, Mexican Undersecretary of Foreign Affairs, attended.

The water commission is giving chief attention to formulation of a program for the work. Wednesday all members and Mr. Schiaffino will leave for Yuma, and then travel to Calexico, Mexicali and other points in the Lower Colorado territory.

Commissioners said the two major problems confronting them are flood control and equitable distribution of waters along the Rio Grande for 500 miles below Presidio, and Lower Colorado, including Yuma and the Imperial Valley projects.

Mexico was represented at today's conference also by Fortunato Dozal, chairman of the Mexican section; Ignacio Bancalari, member of the commission and director of the Mexican Irrigation Commission, and Gustavo P. Serrano, member of the water commission.

The meeting also was attended by L. M. Lawson, American member; Karl Keeler, Washington, associate engineer, and M. B. Moore, secretary of the American section.

COAST SEEKS CHANGE IN JONES-WHITE LAW

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Changes in the Jones-White law under which the Federal government lends funds at low rates to shipping concerns for the construction of new vessels, are to be sought by Pacific Coast commercial interests. Plans for a conference of Coast shipping men, shipyard owners, mayors of various cities and officials of chambers of commerce are being worked out, it is announced, to urge an amendment to the Jones-White law so a differential in favor of Pacific Coast shipyards will be permissible.

ONTARIO WOMAN SLAYS RAGING WOLF WITH AX

SAULT STE. MARIE (Ont.) Nov. 10. (AP)—Mrs. A. M. Gagnon has killed a wolf with an ax.

The howling of a wolf caught in a snare prevented Frank Aelicks, an aged bachelor, from sleeping, so he went to the home of W. Massey, who set the snare. Massey and his son were away, but Mrs. Gagnon, his daughter, volunteered to stop the howling.

She took an ax and Aelicks followed with a lantern.

A mile away they found a large brush wolf in the snare trying to work itself free. Unable to get behind the animal for fear of loosening the trap, Mrs. Gagnon made a frontal attack and as the wolf made a leap for her she slew it with a swing of the ax.

New Mail Plane to Carry Load in Wing Spaces

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—A new type of airplane, capable of carrying 500 pounds of mail "tucked in each wing," has been inspected by the Postoffice Department and awaits its approval.

Earl B. Wadsworth, superintendent of air mails, said today there is "no conceivable reason" why wing space should be wasted. He added it is "quite probable" that before many months the planes plying the transcontinental mail routes will be equipped with these wing compartments, leaving the fuselages free for passengers.

MULE IN AUTO CRASH ENTERS CAR AND KICKS

BEAUDRY (Ark.) Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—If, when automobiling, you encounter a mule on the wrong side of the road, stop. That is the advice given to neighbors here by Earl Merriot, 30 years of age, from Cota St. Joseph's Infirmary here.

Merriot and E. C. Gotnau, a companion, while driving their machine along Mountain Valley road near here, hit a wagon drawn by a mule. The impact released the mule from its harness. It promptly jumped into the automobile, kicking in all directions. Merriot was kicked in the head twice and possibly has a skull fracture. Gotnau, who was driving the car, said the wagon was on the wrong side of the road.

War Industries Board to Meet in Reminiscence

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—The War Industries Board, "right arm and right eye" of President Wilson during the World War, will reconvene tomorrow in reminiscence.

Every second year since the signing of the armistice, the members of this board, which played such an important part for the United States government in the war, have gotten together. Luncheon, a business session, a theater party and supper at the home of Bernard M. Baruch, who was chairman of the board, are the items on the program.

Death has taken two prominent members of the War Industries Board—Admiral Fletcher and Gen. George W. Goethals—but Mr. Baruch expects virtually every other member to be present tomorrow.

GLORY SINKS INTO DEPTHS

Valor Medals in Pawnshops Pledged to Buy Bread

Insignia of Splendid Deeds Await Any Purchaser

Beggars and Panhandlers Buy Them as "Props"

BY TOM PETTEY

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (Exclusive) This is an Armistice Day story without a single drum beat or bugle note. It probably contains the answer to "What Price Glory?" and it certainly contains proof the war has been over for twelve years. It has something to do with valor and reward and a lot to do with the relative importance of hunger and heroism.

Hanging side by side in a pawnshop window on the East Side are two medals. They are not alone, for there are approximately 1200 others dangling from their colored ribbons in the same window and they are mostly military. The two just happened to be placed side by side because of the price range. One is a Distinguished Service Cross and the other, a bit larger, bears "Topeka Kennel Club" stamped on its face. Either may be purchased for $4.

RANGE OF PRICES

Virtually every pawnshop in the city has military decorations for sale. This reporter priced them at six shops in as many different parts of town today and found the following price range:

Distinguished Service Cross—$3 to $5.

French Croix De Guerre—$1.50 to $3.

French Medaille Militaire—$2 to $3.

Belgian Croix De Guerre—$3 to $4.

British, Italian and Japanese crosses—$2.50 to $12.50.

German Iron crosses—50 cents to $1.25.

None of the shops, however, has as many or displays them so prominently as Joseph Wittenberg's curiosity pawn shop up Third avenue—not far from Fifth, where the boys marched under the Victory Arch in Washington Square on their return from the World War.

BRITISH BUSINESS

At Wittenberg's needy heroes still can get top prices for their war medals. He pays as much as $3 for a D.S.C. and even buys such baubles as sharpshooters' merit badges. At Wittenberg's one can buy or sell almost any kind of medal and the shop attendants report that business has been brisk for a couple of days—more sales than buys, however, as most of the heroes out of luck long since have disposed of their treasures.

Do the heroes ever buy back their medals? Seldom. Are they sentimental about parting with them? Occasionally. Most people are bitter when they enter a pawnshop. To whom are the medals sold? Just anyone who fancies them.

The pawnbrokers are not interested in who wore the medals before they were pawned, or in who takes them out, but it was learned that many of the pawned war decorations eventually find their way to the breasts of beggars and panhandlers, who use them until they can get enough money to buy a dog or an accordian.

WINDOW DISPLAY

The window at Mr. Wittenberg's tells a much more interesting story than any of the pawnshop clerks. There are lots of Croix de Guerres and sharpshooters' badges and many sorts of foreign eagles, lions and even a Japanese sunburst there. There are mess kits, cartridge belts and silver buckles which represented war memories rather than war deeds, and in among the gimcracks of the battlefields is a silver disk marked "Twenty years of faithful service." It bears the name of a Fifth-avenue concern whose trade-mark is almost a national institution. Hanging from a broad faded ribbon is a magnificent British medal topped by four bars, each signifying a war fought under the Union Jack. It is marked $2.50.

James M. Cox, Jr., and Helen Rumsey

DAYTON (O.) Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Thanksgiving will find James M. Cox, Jr., and his fiancee, Miss Helen Rumsey, sitting by their own fireside after eating their turkey from their own table. Such are the plans made known simultaneously with the announcement of their coming marriage. They plan to be married at a brilliant ceremony at St. Bartholomew's Chapel, New York City, the 21st inst.

Young Cox is the oldest son of James M. Cox, who owns newspapers in this city, Springfield, O., and Miami, Fla., and who is a former Governor of this State as well as the Democratic nominee for the Presidency in 1920.

SCHOOL ROUTINE UPSET BY PLAN

Dr. Wood's Program Calls for Shorter Vacations

White House Conference to Be Given Schedule

Thirteen Months' Course and Quiet Recess Urged

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—A revised school program was recommended today in the report prepared by Dr. Thomas D. Wood, Columbia University health education expert, for the coming White House child welfare conference.

In the interest of child health, Dr. Wood's committee would considerably change school days and school ways, not stopping short of considering a thirteen-month calendar.

"Home study should be entirely eliminated in the first six grades, and it has little to recommend it in high school," the report said.

VACATIONS SHORTER

At the same time, it attacked the long summer vacation of undirected idleness. "School is too formal, vacation too empty," the committee decided, urging the Board of Education to take charge of children on a year-around basis.

A school term ten to twelve weeks in length with a week of vacation intervening is suggested on the theory that even adult efficiency declined after twelve weeks of work without vacation.

The adoption of the new thirteen-month calendar would help in the adjustment of such a program, the report said.

NO PLAY AT RECESS

The school bell would have a different meaning, midmornings and midafternoons, under its recommendation that the fifteen-minute recess should be a period of "genuine rest, not play, with as complete relaxation as possible and real quiet."

However, thirty minutes of physical education per day would be the minimum in any curriculum.

Pronouncing the school the "universal, officially accredited, and strategic institution" for directing child health care, the report held the school responsible for every phase of health direction from choosing the right janitor to teaching how to pick a well-balanced meal from a cafeteria counter.

PSYCHOLOGIST NEEDED

Nurses, dentists, oculists, physicians are listed among school needs, and the report urged one psychologist for every 1000 to 1500 pupils in the elementary school and one for every 500 to 600 pupils in secondary schools to take charge of psychological testing and vocational guidance.

The committee pronounced "undesirable" county, State and national championship tournaments in competitive games and said endurance tests, such as long-distance running, should be omitted from the physical education program.

ACCIDENTS DEPLORED

But nutrition should be taught every school child, the well nourished as well as the undernourished, the report said.

Children as young as 2 years of age, from underprivileged homes, are held entitled to part-time participation in kindergarten play.

Great stress is laid on accident prevention. Pointing to statistics showing 18,000 of the 100,000 accidental deaths in 1929 as those of children, the committee said that during the seven-year period in which accident prevention had been stressed in public schools, adult mortality increased 32 per cent, while child mortality stood stationary.

CUPID CAN'T HURDLE FOR BROOKINS

Ousted Iowa Track Coach Accused of Bigamy Denied License to Rewed

KAHOKA (Mo.) Nov. 10. (AP)—Charles R. Brookins, dismissed as assistant track coach at the University of Iowa after he was charged with bigamy in Iowa City, was refused a license to rewed Miss Dorothy Coby at least twice today.

First, at Rock Island, Ill., and five hours later at the Courthouse here, clerks told him to seek a permit elsewhere.

Brookins first married Miss Coby at Aledo, Ill., October 31, last, less than two months after he had married Mrs. Ethel Heid. Both women are former stenographers in the Hawkeye athletic department.

These two events caused E. H. Lauer, Iowa athletic director, to discharge Brookins, who, as an Iowa student, won the world's record for the 220-yard low hurdles.

Mrs. Heid was granted a divorce Saturday at Nevada, Iowa, and Brookins announced he would rewed Miss Coby. At Rock Island, however, he was told he could not obtain a marriage license in Illinois without written permission from the judge who granted the divorce.

Missouri laws, he was informed, probably are such he can remarry but the clerk here refused his request for a license.

Mexico Plans to Rehabilitate Pacific Ports

[Copyright, 1930, by Chicago Tribune.]

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—The principal Mexican ports on the Pacific Coast will be fitted to accommodate all trade on the coast, according to an announcement made by the Department of Communication and Public Works today.

The ports have been hard hit by recurring revolutions since 1910. The harbor of Salina Cruz is filled with sand and has been closed to ocean traffic for some time. Mazatlan and Manzanillo are to be made attractive seaports in anticipation of the completion of the great national highways now under construction. The object is to attract tourists in large bodies to Mexican Pacific ports.

MURRIETTA HOT SPRINGS ROBBED

Book-keeper Forced to Open Safe; $2500 Taken

He, Night Watchman and Night Clerk Kidnaped

Four Bandits Release Trio in Santa Ana Canyon

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 10.—Invading Murrietta Hot Springs, fifty miles southwest of here, early today, four bandits robbed the safe of $2500 in cash and kidnaped the clerk, book-keeper and night watchman. The three employees, an hour later, were left at the side of the road in Santa Ana Canyon, near Sulphur Slide.

Entering the hotel office, the highwaymen first covered the night clerk, Alex Escallier. They forced him out of the office and into their car, directing him to lie down in the tonneau. The night watchman, Fred Jones, was next covered by three men with guns, and he was forced to go into the lobby, where he was covered by one of the highwaymen.

BOOK-KEEPER TAKEN

Two of the highwaymen then went to the bungalow where the book-keeper resides and forced him to go to the office. While on the way the two men held their guns at the book-keeper's back and walked in the rear to guard against attack.

The book-keeper was forced to open the safe. In the meantime the night watchman was forced to enter the back of the car and lie on his face in the tonneau with Escallier.

While two men guarded the men in the car, two others, wearing gloves, proceeded to rob the safe of its cash. No jewelry or other property of guests was taken, with the money in a hand satchel, the book-keeper was forced into the car, and while one man stood guard in the back, three men rode in the front seat.

The car dashed to the highway and then through Elsinore, Temescal Canyon and Corona. In the Santa Ana Canyon, at Sulphur Slide, the three hotel employees were ordered out of the car, searched for firearms, and left standing by the side of the road, as the car speeded in the direction of Santa Ana.

GUENTHER LEARNS LOSS

The discovery of the hold-up was not made until R. Guenther reached the office this morning and found neither the night clerk nor the watchman.

Sheriff Clem Sweeters was notified and three men were assigned to investigate the robbery. So far no clew has been picked up. Santa Ana and San Diego as well as Los Angeles and San Bernardino authorities have been notified and have taken up the search.

The fact that the men who rifled the safe wore gloves causes the Sheriff and other officers to believe that the job was done by professionals.

Hugo Guenther, who was in Riverside overnight, was notified of the hold-up.

"Only the hotel money was taken," he stated. "None of the guests were molested and so far as I have been advised no jewelry or other property of guests was disturbed. The highwaymen took about $2500."

Triple-Named School Honored

MONROVIA, Nov. 10.—National recognition of the Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte High School as one of forty representative schools in the United States to provide information for the Federal survey of secondary education in the nation, is announced by A. R. Clifton, superintendent.

The survey is being conducted by John W. Cooper, Federal Commissioner of Education.

Supt. Clifton declared that "the board is happy and proud to know that authorities in control of the national educational program feel that we are accomplishing things in our local community worthy of national recognition."

CONSTITUTION STUDY REQUIRED FOR LOAN

ONTARIO, Nov. 10. — Students at Chaffey Union High School who wish to participate in the $10,000 loan fund recently established by Alois Podrasnik, San Antonio Heights citrus grower, must first pass a satisfactory examination on the Constitution of the United States. Podrasnik, Commander of Ontario Post of the Grand Army of the Republic, announced but a few requirements for worthy students wishing to borrow money from the fund to help themselves obtain an education, and the first one was that they must be well versed in the Constitution. Podrasnik has also established a $2000 fund at Chaffey for an annual oratorical contest each Armistice Day.

MAN AND WOMAN TO FACE DAMAGE ACTION

UPLAND, Nov. 10. — Miss Mildred Thorpe of this city, and S. E. Beck of Alta Loma, are named jointly in a suit on file in Superior Court by P. B. Armitage, Pomona photographer, who seeks $54,000 damages for the loss of his left arm in an automobile collision. Armitage was riding in an automobile that figured in a crash on a bridge crossing Lytle Creek, October 12 last. In the other car were Beck and Miss Thorpe. Each contends the other was driving the car, which was registered to Beck. Four persons were injured when the two large sedans crashed head-on in the middle of the bridge. The car in which Armitage was riding turned over and crushed his arm so badly amputation was necessary.

MONTEREY PARK'S EX-MAYOR BURIED

Howard U. Sherwood

MONTEREY PARK, Nov. 10.—Funeral services were held this afternoon at the Monterey Park Community Church for Howard U. Sherwood, former Mayor of this city, who died Saturday after an illness of several months. The services were in charge of Ramona Lodge, F. and A. M., the officiating minister being Rev. G. I. Lawrence of San Bernardino, former pastor of the local church of which Sherwood had been until recently a trustee. Interment was in Valhalla Cemetery.

Sherwood leaves a widow, Mrs. Mary A. Sherwood, who is president of the Los Angeles district Federation of Women's Clubs. He also leaves a stepson, Carl Williams of San Mateo; a brother, Charles, and a sister, Mrs. Stella Butcher, both of Kansas City.

Sherwood was a native of Ohio and had resided in California twenty years. He was a City Councilman eight years and served as Mayor for a year and three months, resigning his office in February, 1929, owing to failing health.

He formerly was superintendent of the telephone information department of the Santa Fe Railroad.

Baptists Leave Church After Pastor Resigns

ONTARIO, Nov. 10.—Culminating several weeks of discord in the congregation of Ontario First Baptist Church, between 75 and 100 members of the church have taken out their letters and left the organization, it was learned today.

The congregation became divided when Rev. J. Orrin Gould, pastor of the church, was requested to hand in his resignation, which he did at the close of a Sunday service some days later.

An effort was made to bring harmony between the two factions of the church, but evidently failed, as a petition bearing the names of more than seventy-five members was presented to the church board following a special meeting for prayer.

One of the group who left the church said nothing definite will be done by them until another effort is made to create greater harmony among all the members of the denomination in the community.

Reports that Dr. Gould was planning establishment of a second Baptist church in the community was denied with great vigor by him.

Dr. Millikan Has Bronchitis

PASADENA, Nov. 10.—Dr. Robert A. Millikan, world-famous physicist and executive head of the California Institute of Technology, was confined to his bed today following an attack of bronchitis.

His condition is not serious, according to his physician, Dr. Ernest M. Johnstone.

This summer, Dr. Millikan's strength was taxed as the result of his cosmic-ray studies on the shores of Hudson Bay, Can. In recent weeks he has been active in the events which marked the formal opening of the California Institute's Athenaeum, retreat for local scientists and visiting scholars.

CITRUS MEN READY TO FIGHT JACK FROST

UPLAND, Nov. 10.—When winter arrives with its chill the citrus growers, unlike the "foolish virgins," will be well fortified with oil for their orchard lamps. Through a program of protection established by the Orchard Protection Company, approximately 1,000,000 gallons of oil will be kept in storage for use in orchard heaters. The company already has a huge oil-storage tank, but propose to build an auxiliary tank to hold 245,000 gallons, cost of the tank to be about $33,000. Plans of the company include both electric and gasoline pumps at the tanks. The Orchard Protection Company is mutually owned b. Upland Lemon Growers' Association, Upland Citrus Association, Upland Heights Orange Association and Old Baldy Citrus Association.

BURGLAR HAS DOG

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 10.—A burglar accompanied by a dog, visited the A. L. Ferguson home on East Fifty-seventh street, early in the evening during the absence of the Fergusons, and stole two floor lamps valued at $21. Police were notified and discovery of prints of a canine on the carpet in one of the rooms was made. Entrance to the residence was gained with the aid of a passkey on one of the doors.

CHANGE OF VENUE DENIED

But Royal G. Wilkie, Deputy City Attorney of Los Angeles, Automatically Wins Point

PASADENA, Nov. 10.—Royal G. Wilkie, Los Angeles deputy City Attorney, and his wife, Mrs. Zaida Wilkie, failed today in securing a change of venue to Los Angeles on liquor charges lodged against them last Tuesday, but charges of reckless driving against them were automatically transferred to Los Angeles Municipal Court when affidavits of prejudice were filed in the local Police Court.

Judge Leonard Riccardi decided that Mrs. Wilkie must face trial in the local court on the 21st inst., and that her husband, outstanding local World War hero, will be tried here on December 2. Mrs. Wilkie faces intoxication and reckless driving charges, and Wilkie, in addition, is charged with possession and transportation of liquor. The time for their Los Angeles hearing on the reckless driving complaints has not been set.

The affidavits of prejudice filed on behalf of the defendants by their attorney, A. C. Ellmore, set forth that the possession and transportation complaints were filed twenty-four hours after the arrests were made "in an effort to maliciously intimidate Mr. Wilkie and hold him up to public scorn and ridicule in his position as an official of the city of Los Angeles."

In the documents, Attorney Ellmore also declared that the defendants were denied their demands for sobriety tests and an opportunity to telephone friends, thus showing that a fair trial would be impossible in this city.

The affidavits referred to the report that Police Judge Riccardi recently declared following a wave of traffic accidents here, that he would impose the maximum penalties for intoxication and reckless driving, and that an assertion of this nature should automatically disqualify a judge from hearing such cases. Judge Riccardi denied the statement attributed to him.

Gen. Reeve to Head Pasadena Armistice Line

PASADENA, Nov. 10.—Gen. Charles McC. Reeve will serve as grand marshal of the parade of patriotic groups which will be the colorful feature of this city's commemoration of the signing of the Armistice twelve years ago tomorrow.

The parade will move at 10:30 a.m. and will proceed west on Colorado street from Lake avenue to Raymond avenue, where it will turn north to Memorial Park where patriotic exercises will be held.

The Memorial Park program is in charge of Dr. Charles Lockwood who organized this city's ambulance unit, the first Pasadena organization to go overseas.

Armistice Day observances will be climaxed tomorrow night when a dance will be held in the clubhouse of Post No. 13, American Legion, 131 North Marengo avenue. Lawrence Brooks is chairman of the committee in charge of the dance program.

Indian Students in Desert Play

PALM SPRINGS, Nov. 10.—Fourteen Indian students from the St. Boniface School at Banning will have important roles in the 1930 desert play, "Tahquitz," to open this coming Saturday at Palm Springs, according to an announcement just made by Phil Whiting, the director.

Adding of the Indian Thespians to the cast, including more than a score of leading dramatic artists, is expected to contribute greatly to the picturesque features of the open-air play, staged as a community nonprofit enterprise under the auspices of the Palm Springs Associates, a civic organization.

The drama, "Tahquitz," is based on Indian legends of the Palm Springs locale, and the Indian Thespians will take part in enacting tribal rites handed down for generations. Heading the cast of prominent Thespians to present the play are Wallace MacDonald and Dolores Brown, who will portray the hero and heroine, respectively, of the romantic drama.

The play is to be presented on a greatly elaborated scale this year and will serve to signalize the opening of the winter season at Palm Springs. "Tahquitz" will be repeated on Sunday and on Saturday and Sunday, the 22nd and 23rd inst.

HEALTH OFFICER AND NURSE LOSE POSTS

UPLAND, Nov. 10.—Dr. C. L. Emmons, city health officer, and Miss Bertha Schwarzwaelder, city health nurse, will be dropped from the city's pay roll December 1, in order that the city may keep within its budget limits, it was announced today. Dr. Emmons is city health officer of Ontario, also, and Miss Schwarzwaelder is head of Ontario's city health department. They were employed by Upland last spring, to supervise health conditions, and have carried on a satisfactory program of prevention against illness both in the schools and city, City Councilmen said, but the city's finances will not permit continuation of the program. Under a new arrangement the city's health work will be carried on through the office of R. G. Manley, City Manager. Dr. Emmons and Miss Schwarzwelder each received $50 a month from Upland.

ARMISTICE DAY ENDS RED CROSS APPEAL

GLENDORA, Nov. 10.—Armistice Day will mark the end of the annual drive of the American Red Cross here for members, and it is expected that the quota will be oversubscribed, according to Miss Grayce Brandenberg, chairman of the local chapter. Complete proceeds and the quota total will be announced Wednesday by Miss Brandenberg, it was stated today.

R. F. GARNER VICTIM OF PARALYSIS

Wealthy San Bernardino Pioneer Succumbs at His Home in County Seat

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 10.—R. F. Garner, Sr., San Bernardino pioneer and one of the wealthiest men of the valley, died last night. Stricken on October 28 with paralysis, Garner slowly sank to his death. He was 68 years of age and for nearly half a century had been prominent in the business and civic affairs of the city.

When a baby he crossed the plains with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Garner, the family camping on the banks of Warm Creek for several months in the early seventies.

Garner entered the cattle business when but a youth and owned vast acreages in the San Jacinto and San Bernardino Mountains on which herds ranged. In later years he acquired extensive holdings in downtown San Bernardino. He served as City Councilman from 1907 to 1909.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 10 a.m. from the Mark B. Shaw Memorial Chapel.

Garner leaves his mother, who lives in Oceanside; his widow, Mrs. Anna F. Garner; a son, F. F. Garner, Jr.; two brothers, W. C. Garner of San Bernardino and J. T. Garner of Riverside; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Swing of San Bernardino, Mrs. Jennie Lemaster of Los Angeles and Mrs. Jennie Park of Oceanside.

He was the uncle of State Senator Ralph E. Swing and Congressman Phil D. Swing of El Centro.

Petition Asks Award Be Set Aside by Court

REDLANDS, Nov. 10.—City Councilman Theodore Krumm has petitioned the Superior Court to set aside the $400 awarded E. A. Bethurum as judgment in a $20,000 damage case, asserting that he has information to the effect that Bethurum perjured himself on the stand and that his injuries did not result from the brawl between the two men on the street here.

Bethurum sued Krumm for $20,000 damages following the altercation, which occurred September 5, 1928, in which he asserted he was attacked by Krumm and injured. A Superior Court jury awarded Bethurum $400 damages February 28, 1929. Krumm appealed the judgment but the Fourth District Court of Appeal affirmed the jury's verdict.

Krumm now asks that the judgment be declared void, asserting Bethurum gave perjured testimony and prevented his son, W. A. Bethurum, from testifying. Krumm asserts in the petition that the son would have testified the injuries which his father averred were received in the scuffle were received previously. It is further asserted that Bethurum threatened to disown his son if the latter testified in the damage suit, and even intimated bodily harm.

These allegations are contained in an affidavit signed by the son and which is affixed to the petition to have the judgment set aside. Krumm further asserts that he now has a good defense against Bethurum's charges, which could not be produced at the first trial without the son's testimony.

The petition was filed by Attorneys Cozzack and Krumm of San Bernardino.

Boy Wounded in Knife Battle

VENTURA, Nov. 10.—Authorities were busy today investigating an asserted knife battle at midnight Saturday in Piru, at which a Mexican ranch hand is said to have been critically slashed in the abdomen.

The injured youth is John Nunez, 19 years of age. He was taken to the County Hospital, where attaches said today his chances for recovery are good.

Ysidrio Dominguez, asserted to know something about the affair, which occurred in a Piru dance hall, was lodged in the County Jail by deputy sheriffs for questioning.

Others asserted to have been at the scene have consistently refused to tell officers what they know of the knifing.

BOYS CHARGED WITH ROBBERY OF SCHOOL

ONTARIO, Nov. 10. — Charged with having entered Lincoln school during the night, Claude Womack, 15 years of age, and Fred Curtis, 15, both local boys, are held in the County Detention Home, having confessed to robbing the schol, according to police. The boys were apprehended at Barstow, where they had beat their way, police said. Through fingerprints on a glass-door panel, identity of the boys was learned, as one is said to have been in the Detention Home for a previous offense. The boys broke a glass to get into the school, police said, and took master keys to all rooms, one bunch of keys, seven pairs of dark glasses, four police whistles, four pitch pipes, three watches, a fountain pen, two Boy Scout badges, one safety committee bade, two sets of pencils and $2.43 in cash.

"CHILD OF PEACE" IN BIRTHDAY FETE

Akiki Kato

LOMITA, Nov. 10.—The universal appeal of peace has an illustration in this community in Akiki Kato, daughter of H. Kato, local produce merchant, who not only celebrates her twelfth birthday tomorrow, but whose name, Akiki, in the language of her forefathers, signifies "Child of Peace." The girl was born in the very early morning of November 11, 1918, and each Armistice Day finds a double celebration in the Kato home.

She is a student of the Narbonne High School here and the birthday celebration carried out by many ancient Japanese customs was made a part of the program of some of her classes today.

Chino Valley's Crops Bring in Many Millions

CHINO, Nov. 10.—During the season of 1930 Chino Valley ranches produced crops and products valued at $5,830,910, according to C. C. Delphey, agricultural inspector for the valley, who has completed a survey of all crops together with their value.

Taking the lead in production are dairy products, valued at $2,737,500, based largely on the milk yield of 30,000 gallons per day. Total yield of 33,635 tons of alfalfa was valued at $504,252, and grain hay is valued at $390,000.

Other crop yields are: Walnuts, $400,000; citrus, $311,750; potatoes, early, $308,750; late, $21,000; sweet corn, $255,900; beans, $126,225; sugar beets, $69,720; vegetables, $60,000; berries, $51,562; peaches, $132,000; apples, $16,800.

Chino Valley has a greater diversity of crop production than any other section of California, agriculturists declare.

Pomona's Team Wins in Shoot

POMONA, Nov. 10.—Company F, California National Guard, of this city, was again victorious in a marksmanship contest held between rifle teams of Company F and Company E of Monrovia, scoring 939 to 885, and retaining the lead in the battalion for the John Sargeant cup, yesterday.

In scoring 939 out of a possible 1000, the local team bettered its record of 905 established on October 19, with the Ontario rifle team. The contest was held in the Justice Court range under the local justice courtrooms.

High individual scoring was done by Lieut. Howard Reynolds of Company F, with 192; Private Kyle Baker and Sergt. Albert King of Company F, scoring 190 and 189 for second and third places. Private Clabaugh, Company E, was fourth with 186.

NAME FOR NEW TOWN IS CHOSEN AT PICNIC

LANCASTER, Nov. 10.—East Antelope Valley residents participated in a picnic in the Treasureland district twelve miles east of the Roosevelt district, the purpose of the gathering being to select the name for the new town which recently was started. The name of the new place will be Hi-Vista. The townsite includes a public square, business and residential sites and a ten-acre airport landing. The village is situated on a proposed major highway.

KIWANIANS ELECT RAYMOND E. ELKIN

POMONA PIONEER PASSES

John A. Stevens, Active in Development of Valley in Early Days, Succumbs at Son's Home

POMONA, Nov. 10.—The death this morning of John A. Stevens, 85 years of age, marks the passing of another Pomona Valley pioneer, he having located in this valley, at Rincon, southeast of Chino, in 1879. He died at the home of a son, Charles W. Stevens, of 1025 Dudley street, this city, after several weeks of failing health.

In his passing, Pomona loses a sturdy pioneer, whose vision, determination and strength of character brought about the development of the region from an expanse of semiarid grass and waste lands to the rich agricultural and horticultural section of today.

He leaves four sons, W. E. Stevens, a member of the Pomona Progress-Bulletin Publishing Company, E. E. and C. W. Stevens of this city, and A. L. Stevens of San Dimas; two daughters, Mrs. L. J. Goff of Glendora, and Mrs. R. B. Midgley of Kenwood; one brother, J. W. Stevens, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Richards, in Wisconsin, three grandchildren, nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at Todd and Reeves Chapel, Rev. Bertram A. Warren, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, officiating. Interment will be in Pomona Cemetery.

Double Rites Spur Effort to Find Miscreant

VENICE, Nov. 10.—A double funeral conducted today spurred the efforts of police to find the hit-and-run driver who last Thursday night ran down Bertram Davis, local mail carrier, and his wife, the latter dying soon after she was taken to the Santa Monica Hospital, and the injured man succumbing late last night at the same institution.

Following a Coroner's inquest at the Kirkelie, Bernard & Peek undertaking parlors here, the funeral was conducted in the chapel. The Coroner's jury placed the blame for the double tragedy on "an unknown driver," and urged a continued search for the guilty pilot.

Mrs. Davis's body was buried at Inglewood Cemetery, and that of the husband is being held pending instructions from his mother in Maine. The couple left a daughter, Mrs. Blanche Pollock, of Venice.

Ensenada Trip Stay Extended

ENSENADA, Nov. 10.—To permit round-trip visitors a longer stay here the sailing schedule of the Admiral Rogers has been altered to two trips each week between Los Angeles Harbor and this seaport. San Diego has also been added as a port of call both going and coming.

Excursionists will have twenty-six hours to inspect the new hotel and casino, and may make their headquarters on the boat or engage rooms at the Playa Ensenada, as preferred, under the new arrangements.

According to the schedule now in effect the Admiral Rogers will now leave Wilmington every Tuesday and Friday at 8 p.m., arrive at San Diego at 7 a.m. every Wednesday and Saturday, and at Ensenada the same days at 2 p.m. The return schedule calls for the Rogers to leave here at 4 p.m., arriving in Wilmington early the following morning.

The Rogers is proudly displaying a new Mexican flag when in southern waters that was presented to R. B. Schutten, assistant general passenger agent, by Betty Berkeley and Elsey Monroe, two Hollywood misses prominent in the film capital.

SOCIAL AGENCIES TO CONVENE IN ONTARIO

ONTARIO, Nov. 10. — This city will be host on next Monday evening to the Social Agencies Association of San Bernardino county, Mrs. G. J. Fleming announced today. Mrs. Fleming and Miss Bertha Schwarzwaelder are a committee named to arrange for the meeting, which will follow a dinner in the cafeteria of Chaffey Union High School auditorium at 6:30 o'clock. The various social agencies of the county are expected to have forty representatives present for the dinner meeting. Principal speaker of the evening will be Miss M. Meagher of Orange, of the Orange County Hospital Tuberculosis Preventorium

COMPENSATION FOR DEAD SPOUSE ASKED

ONTARIO, Nov. 10. — Seeking compensation for the death of her husband two months ago when he was thrown from a truck, Mrs. Regina Madrid has made a plea to the Industrial Accident Commission. In her claim, Mrs. Madrid states that her husband was riding on a truck belonging to the Hamilton ranch in Alta Loma district, when he was thrown from the vehicle to the highway and received fatal injuries. Madrid was an employee of the Hamilton Ranch Company, his widow sets forth in her claim. Attorney E. E. Gray presented Mrs. Madrid's claim, and reported that the commission indicated she was entitled to compensation.

TUJUNGA LEGION TO COMBAT COMMUNISM

TUJUNGA, Nov. 10.—The Armistice-Day celebration will be conducted here tomorrow in Legion Hall headquarters of the local post of the American Legion under the joint auspices of the Legion, the Legion Auxiliary and the Parent-Teacher Association. The program will start at 7:30 p.m. It will feature talks and exhibitions to strengthen the fealty of American citizens for the principles on which the Republic was founded. At the same time other speakers will denounce Communism or, as it is stated, any other loosely named unpatriotic movements meant to undermine governmental, public and political policies.

GAS TURNED INTO NEW MAINS AT LANCASTER

LANCASTER, Nov. 10.—Southern California Gas Company officials joined in a brief ceremony with residents which marked the turning on of the butane gas system now in use in homes here.

P. B. Hubbard, editor of the Antelope Valley Ledger-Gazette and president of the Lancaster Chamber of Commerce, was given the honor of sending the first gas through the mains. S. C. Singer, manager of the division of the gas company for this section of the State, was present and made a short talk. The new type of fuel gas now being used in many of the smaller towns is shortly to be extended to Palmdale and to Mohave.

Movie Train on Delano Siding Brings Throng

DELANO, Nov. 10.—Sixteen private railroad cars, carrying Richard Dix, Charlie Ruggles, Estelle Taylor, many other screen notables and several hundred movie extras, were shifted to a Delano railroad siding today.

At the same time, 1500 local men will be employed by the motion-picture company to participate with the regular company in a week's movie activity on Queen's ranch south and east of Delano in the Jasmine district, where a story of the Oklahoma territorial rush will be reenacted for the silver and talkie screen.

More than 1000 Kern county horses and other domestic animals, in addition to farm equipment of all types, are being hired by the motion-picture company representatives for the mob shots while on location.

Sergt. Phaff, Police Force Veteran, Dies

Police Sergeant Frank Phaff of University division, a resident of Los Angeles for twenty-six years and a member of the department since October 3, 1910, died early yesterday at his home, 1120 West Sixty-second street, after a three months' illness. He was 45 years of age and became eligible for retirement on the 7th inst. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Jennie Phaff, and two sons, Frank, Jr., and Gerald.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow in the Church of the Nativity, Fifty-seventh street and Vermont avenue, with Police Officers S. D. Moore, G. E. Ream, J. G. Buchanan, A. D. Gray, C. A. Clark and D. W. Klinck of University division serving as pallbearers. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery. The body is at the E. B. McCormick Mortuary.

Vandal in Car Mars Cemetery With Wreckage

SANTA ANA, Nov. 10.—Vandals last night invaded Fairhaven Cemetery and driving an automobile recklessly, left a trail of wreckage in their wake. Head stones were knocked down, shrubbery was trampled and torn, hydrants were broken off and the cemetery was otherwise desecrated, according to a report brought to the Sheriff's office.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Carter was assigned to conduct an investigation and if possible pick up the trail of the vandal car.

INVASION OF REDS THEME OF LECTURES

EL CENTRO, Nov. 10.—Under the leadership of Mrs. E. P. Goodman, a public lecture course dealing with subjects of patriotism and the so called Red invasion has been announced here. The first talk on the program will be delivered the 18th inst. by Elmer W. Heald, who has chosen as his subject "The Constitution of the United States." Heald is well known for his successful prosecution and conviction of eighteen Communists arrested early in the year in Imperial Valley. The lecture will be held at the Central Union High School. Other numbers of the course announced are: Judge Vaughn Thompson, the 25th inst.; Judge A. C. Finney, December 2; Ross T. Hickox, December 9, and R. D. McPherrin, December 16.

LAST RITES FOR TWO SANTA MONICANS

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 10.—Funeral services for two prominent Santa Monicans were conducted today. Donald Roderick McNeil, dean of sports in California and founder of the Pacific Coast Baseball League, builder of the old Central Theater in San Francisco, was buried following a private funeral at the Todd & Leslie Memorial Chapel, this city, Rev. W. H. Cornett officiating. He died last Saturday at the age of 83 years. Funeral services for Mrs. Susie E. Persinger, mother of Louis Persinger, noted violinist, were conducted today from the Price-Daniel chapel in Sawtelle. She died at a Santa Monica private sanatorium last Saturday, at the age of 63 years.

PREMIERS NEAR END OF SESSION

Many Problems Solved by Imperial Conference

Privy Council Jurisdiction Left Undecided

Colonial Law Validity Act Will Be Repealed

LONDON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Dominion Premiers, realizing the British imperial conference is about to close, today rushed through the final tangle of constitutional knots affecting interimperial relations.

One of the problems solved was of the British woman who marries a foreigner and hitherto has been virtually a woman without a country. In the future, the Premiers decided, she will retain British nationality until she qualifies for her husband's.

It also was decided autonomous dominions have the same responsibility as the mother country regarding the law of succession to the British throne and the King's title. Any changes in these statutes must in the future have the assent of each Dominion Parliament.

KNOT UNTANGLED

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and his colleagues found one constitutional question too much for them, however. This was on the question of appeal to the privy council by empire citizens, which the Irish Free State has denied on the grounds that its own high courts are sufficient. The delegates have found no solution and each Dominion must decide for itself what is to be the highest court of appeal in the empire.

The recommendations made must be approved by a plenary session after which they will become the formal decisions of the conference.

OTHER DECISIONS

Other decisions made were:

That the Colonial Laws Validity Act of 1865 be repealed. This means no act passed by a Dominion Parliament will be void because it is repugnant to England's law. A condition attached, proposed by the Canadian delegates, provides the repeal shall not be interpreted as giving the Dominion Parliament power to amend the British North American Act.

That each dominion have full legislative powers over all ships in its territorial waters or engaged in its coastal trade, and over its own ships both intraterritorially and extraterritorially.

That the right of each dominion to define its own nationals, as has always been done by Canada, is recognized.

Six Destroyers Added to List to Be Junked

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Six more destroyers were ordered stricken from the navy list today as part of the Navy Department's program to bring the fleet within the limits prescribed by the London treaty for the limitation of naval armaments.

All of the ships saw service in the submarine-infested waters of Europe during the World War. Since the end of the war they have been used by the Coast Guard in prohibition enforcement service along the Atlantic coast. The vessels headed for the scrap heap are the Paulding, McCall, Terry, Beale, Roe and Peterson.

Decline Shown in Living Costs

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—The economic depression of the last year has brought with it a noticeable decrease in the cost of living, the executive committee of the Merchants' Association announced tonight after a survey.

In many lines $10 is equivalent in retail purchasing power to $11 or $12 a year ago, the committee found.

CHURCHMEN CAN'T FIX BLAME FOR WORLD WAR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP) Twelve years after the armistice, a group of churchmen, educators and business men canvassed by the Federal Council of Churches, fail to agree as to who was responsible for the World War.

The question: "Do you believe that Germany and her allies were solely responsible for causing the war?" brought 364 answers of "no," forty-eight of "yes," and ten expressing doubt.

The last query in the questionnaire was:

"In the light of all evidence now available do you think the United States acted wisely in entering the war against Germany?"

A total of 274 persons replied "yes," eighty "no," and seventy said they were in doubt.

PROFESSOR TAKES RAP AT RELIGION

DETROIT, Nov. 10. (AP)—Dr. Harry Elmer Barnes, professor of history of sociology at Smith College, Northampton, Mass., who spoke today at the opening of the Junior League's lecture course, called orthodox religion the greatest existing menace to human welfare.

When he had finished and asked for discussion there was an excited torrent of protest. Demands were made on him to give authority for many of his statements.

"As long as you feel you must serve God, you are simply prolonging human chaos," Dr. Barnes said. "To make 'serving God' the basis for conduct is unsound because it does not take into consideration individual human welfare. We could start serving God by serving ourselves best. Unless we can find happiness we might as well get off the planet and leave it to the animals, who can enjoy themselves."

O'Neil Pledges Legion Anew to Defense Cause

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 10. (AP)—Ralph T. O'Neil, national commander of the American Legion, repledged the Legion to the principle of an adequate national defense and to continued service in peace, in an Armistice Day message issued from national headquarters here today.

Armistice Day, the commander said, "brings back vivid memories of wartime service, of conradeships forged under shell fire, on the sea, in the training camps or wherever veterans served."

Baird Will Fight Opens in North

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10. (AP)—The complicated court battle over the $1,000,000 will of Mrs. Veronica Baird, pioneer California social leader, opened in Superior Court here today.

Attorneys questioned veniremen so minutely that Judge Shortall's patience was exhausted and he questioned the talesmen himself. He expects to complete selection of the jury Wednesday.

Mrs. Baird left her estate to her only daughter, Mrs. Marie Sproul, wife of William Sproul, former president of the Southern Pacific. Other descendants and relatives were cut off with $1 each.

Mrs. Northcott Grief Stricken

SAN QUENTIN, Nov. 10. (AP)—Mrs. Sarah Louisa Northcott became hysterical in San Quentin penitentiary again today over the recent hanging of her son, Gordon Stewart Northcott, Riverside boy murderer.

The hysteria was induced because yesterday was Northcott's birthday. He would have been 21 years of age, she contended, in asserting he was illegally hanged. Prison authorities, however, cited records and the killer's statements to prove that it would have been his twenty-second birthday.

OLD PARTIES OF AUSTRIA SWAP SEATS

One Loses While Another Gains Power in Face of Hard Parliament Battle

VIENNA, Nov. 10. (AP)—The Austrian Parliamentary elections have resulted in the two oldest and strongest parties virtually changing positions, and in the Fascist Heimwehr being viewed as a threat after the recent success of the brown shirts in Germany, gaining only eight seats out of the 165 in Parliament.

For ten years the Christian Socialists ruled the country, but in the balloting yesterday they slipped from seventy-three seats in the old house to sixty-six in the new.

The Social- Democratic party, which is the strongest in Vienna and against which the thirteen other competing parties leveled their guns, helds its status and even gained one mandate, climbing to seventy-two, thereby becoming the strongest single party.

The fourth principal factor was the rise of Dr. Johann Schober, who was forced to resign as Chancellor this summer. He developed a national economic bloc and goes into the new Parliament with nineteen seats.

Thus Schober holds the balance of power and it is expected the Christian Socialists, still attempting to wield their old strength, will attempt an alliance with Schober and hence form a government. In that case the present Chancellor, Dr. Karl Vaugoin, probably will resign, for he brought about Schober's downfall in the summer.

Capone Blamed in Kunz Defeat

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Representative Kunz, Democrat, of the Eighth Illinois District, defeated Tuesday by Peter J. Granata, Republican, charged tonight "Scarface Al" Capone, gang leader, stole the election from him with guns and cash.

The Representative said he is gathering evidence in affidavit form through the six wards of his district to support his charges and will ask Federal court intervention in the case as soon as formal proclamation of the election result is made. When Congress reconvenes, he added, he will seek Congressional investigation of the election.

Hoovers Write Bliss Widow

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—President Hoover today sent the following message to Mrs. Tasker H. Bliss, widow to Gen. Bliss, who died early Sunday morning after a distinguished career in the Army:

"I am profoundly grieved at the death of my dear friend, your husband, and Mrs. Hoover and I send you our deepest sympathy in your loss. His long record of distinguished service to our country and to the world is known to all and assure him an enduring fame, but to those of us who worked with him and came to know him intimately he will remain in memory first as a loyal and lovable companion."

Conservators File Inventory

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—In accordance with the terms of their guardianship, the conservators of the estate of Stanley McCormick, incompetent, today filed an inventory with Probate Judge Henry Horner.

The estate is worth approximately $25,000,000, according to attorneys who filed the inventory for the conservators.

The inventory recites that $3,000,000 has been spent for the care of McCormick on his Santa Barbara (Cal.) estate since he was declared incompetent in 1906.

SAN QUENTIN FELONS QUICKLY RECAPTURED

SAN QUENTIN, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Two San Yuentin prisoners who escaped from road camp No. 23, near Virglia in Plumas county today, were captured a short time later near the wreck of the truck in which they made their getaway. The men are John J. More, 28 years of age, serving five years for grand theft from Contra Costa county, and Glenn Peterson, 34, serving a seven-year sentence for auto theft from Los Angeles.

SMOKE STAMPEDES CINEMA AUDIENCE

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Smoke from a pile of rubbish that caught fire in a corridor stampeded 1500 patrons of a motion-picture theater on the upper West Side today. Two men were trampled and slightly hurt. The flame was easily extinguished and the audience returned and saw the rest of the show.

ADMIRAL MOFFETT FLIES LOS ANGELES

LAKEHURST (N. J.) Nov. 10. (AP) Rear-Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics, went aloft tonight in the Los Angeles, navy dirigible, on a local training flight. The craft is expected to return to the hangar before dawn tomorrow.

OUTLAW DIES WITH BOOTS ON

Cattle Rustling Suspect in South Dakota Slain

Fugitive Shot by Sheriff as He Draws Gun

Makes Good Boast Not to Be Captured Alive

BELLE FOURCHE (S. D.) Nov. 10. (AP)—True to traditions of western "bad men" of another era, Wayne Kelly, ex-convict and asserted modern cattle rustler, died with his boots on.

Facing the bristling rifles of a Sheriff's posse, Kelly, who had spread the word through the sparsely inhabited Northwest range country that he never would be taken alive, reached for his gun and a few seconds later lay dead, the victim of a deputy sheriff's accurate aim.

COMPANION ARRESTED

The story of the "fade out" of a real-life movie thriller was brought here today by the officers, who had finally cornered Kelly Saturday at a Butte county ranch, climaxing a search of several months. A companion named Horton was arrested.

Officials who are trying to cope with the problems created by the transition of cattle-rustling methods from the horseback round-ups of cowboy days to the use of trucks, believe Kelly's death may break up a gang of outlaws.

RUSTLERS WORK FAST

The old-time cattle rustlers, authorities point out, robbed the plains at night driving herds of cattle before them. It took days to reach a market where they dared to sell the stolen animals.

The modern rustlers, under cover of darkness, drive their trucks into a herd of unprotected cattle, round up as many animals as the truck will hold and rush them to market. Officers said they had traced many head of cattle stolen in this manner to Sioux City, Iowa, and other points.

MOSES WARY OF FOEMEN

Senator Voices His Fears of Democrats When "They Bear Gifts"

CONCORD (N. H.) Nov. 10. (AP)—Senator Moses, chairman of the Republican Senatorial campaign committee, today said of the offer by Democratic chieftains of co-operation with the Republican administration:

"Timeo Democrats et dona Ferentes."

"That means, 'I fear the Democrats when bearing gifts,'" he said.

Arizona Paper Changes Name

PHOENIX, Nov. 10. (AP)—The Arizona Republican will announce a change in its name in tomorrow morning's issue. The new name will be the Arizona Republic.

In announcing the change the paper says:

"To give further and permanent effect to yesterday's announcement of the absolute independence of all political partisanship of this newspaper, its title is now changed."

GRACE HEYER, ACTRESS, DIES

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Grace Heyer, who made her stage debut under Charles Frohman in "The Little Minister," in which Maude Adams was starred, died in a hospital today after an operation. She was 43 years of age.

CRIME BAFFLES SCOTLAND YARD

English Murder Mystery as Yet Unsolved

Body Found in Blazing Car on Hillside

Owner of Machine Pleads Ignorance of Affair

NORTHAMPTON (Eng.) Nov. 10. (AP)—From the midnight spectacle of a passenger automobile blazing like a torch on a hillside near here last Thursday there has developed a murder mystery which is giving the shrewdest minds of Scotland Yard one of the knottiest problems in years to solve. Efforts at solution are attracting unusual attention in view of recent American cases of the kind.

Inside the car when the blaze had died down was found a human body, charred beyond recognition.

A search for the car owner led to the arrest of Alfred Arthur Rouse, a commercial traveler living in London, and he has been formally charged with "murder of some persons unknown." Although understood to have made a long statement to police prior to arraignment he would say nothing in court when the murder charge was read to him but "I am innocent."

Meanwhile Scotland Yard sleuths are broadcasting a description of the burned car victim, whom they believe to have been a woman.

Luxury and economy are the dividends from Lincoln ownership

The Lincoln owner prides himself upon a fine distinction in his motor car. It has to do with quiet beauty, complete luxury and mechanical fitness. It makes each Lincoln mile as perfect as the first—on crowded city boulevards or open country highways.

The Lincoln is designed to satisfy the needs of owners who demand much of a motor car. Unhurriedly built in one of the famous precision plants of the world, it needs no tedious miles of breaking in. The Lincoln can be kept in perfect mechanical condition at a surprisingly low cost. Its style and performance, with ordinary care, call forth the same enthusiasm after 50,000 miles as after 50.

The natural endowments of the Lincoln are complete reliability and enduring luxury. Smooth, quiet speed; sure ease of handling; virtually unlimited power. . . . These are at the command of every one who drives a Lincoln.

Back of the enduring beauty and power of the Lincoln are the entire resources of the Ford Motor Company. Only because of this is it possible to obtain so fine a motor car at so reasonable a price. Lincoln motor cars can be bought for as little as $4200 f. o. b. Detroit.

The Lincoln's honest excellence makes itself apparent on first acquaintance and becomes increasingly evident to the owner of a Lincoln through long years of service. Here is an automobile of unfailing power, comfort, style and safety, a motor car built to one standard of enduring excellence . . . the Lincoln . . . as fine a motor car as it is possible to produce.

*The Dietrich Convertible Coupe is a new type of car very popular abroad, notable for the convenience and versatility that fit it for a wide variety of uses. As a closed car it is compact and comfortable. As an open car it is as airy and fleet as a Phaeton. Open types include, among others, the Locke Sport Roadster, the Touring Car and the Judkins Sport Phaeton. Among the closed types are the Willoughby Limousine, the Judkins Berline, the Brunn All-weather Cabriolet and the LeBaron All-weather Cabriolet.

BANK OF WORLD LENDS SPAIN AID

Shrinking Peseta Stayed by Credits Extended

Plans for Stabilization of Currency Laid

Task First Important Job Since Organization

(Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune.)

BASLE (Switzerland) Nov. 10. (AP) (Exclusive)—The Bank of International Settlements—the superbank to handle reparations and foreign debts, organized by the New York house of Morgan and European financial magnates during the Young plan conference in Paris last winter—today undertook its first big job.

The superbank will handle the stabilization of the Spanish peseta, which broke to half of its par value—10 cents—a fortnight ago. The crash spurred King Alfonso and Premier Damaso Berenguer into sending a committee of leading bankers to Paris and London to seek support for their dwindling currency.

As a result of their conversations Gates McGarrah, the American president of the world bank, and English financiers established gold credits in London for the peseta which was sharply strengthened but which still is unstable.

Pierre Quesnay, the French director-general of the superbank, was ordered to proceed to Madrid at once to confer with the authorities of the Bank of Spain and to open immediate arrangements for the stabilization of the Spanish currency system.

WORLD-AMITY GROUP MEETS

Former Ambassadors Voice Friendship Appeals

Hoover Will Be Speaker at Today's Session

Measures Proposed for Peace Insurance

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Two former American Ambassadors to Germany—Alanson B. Houghton and Jacob Gould Schurman—tonight pleaded for greater good will among nations.

The appeals were delivered before the Good Will Congress of the World Alliance for International Friendship, which opened a three-day convention today. It will be addressed tomorrow by President Hoover.

Houghton asserted if Americans want a more durable peace they should "strive to pay a little less attention to the dangers which apparently threaten us from without and a little more attention to the dangers which acually threaten us from within."

MEASURES ADVOCATED

American adherence to the World Court, formulation of a plan to be followed by signatories of the Kellogg peace pact in the event war was threatened, and international conferences to avert hostilities were advocated by Schurman.

In addition, Arthur Meighen, former Canadian Prime Minister, said the only substitute for competitive armaments consists of a universal association of nations, including the United States, "within which means will be found to define and identify a guilty power and to hold that power in restraint." He said this already has been done through the League of Nations.

GLOOM ABOUT PEACE

At the morning session Dr. Henry A. Atkinson of New York, general secretary of the alliance, said there is "more gloom and cynicism in regard to the possibility of peace" now than at any time since 1918. He added that religious principles should prove a partial panacea for the world's unrest.

Houghton asserted "our relations with other nations, like charity, begin at home," and "if war comes we may be sure we shall have contributed our share toward making it."

"The enemies of peace here in America," he said, "are not so much those without our frontiers as those within—those who foster hate and spread suspicion and create distrust, and those who are always ready in the name of patriotism to make the orderly conduct of affairs more difficult, and sometimes more dangerous."

COURT ADVOCACY

Advocating American adherence to the World Court, Schurman said it is the "judicial organ of the civilized world, and I can think of no international institution which should appeal more strongly to American sense of law and justice or which harmonizes more strikingly with the fundamental principles of American foreign policy."

Schurman urged that signatories of the Kellogg Peace Pact agree in advance on a "form of pacific procedure to be adopted when nations are at difference and seem likely to be drawn into war." He suggested a committee be formed for this purpose.

The former Ambassador said if war were threatened he believed "friendly and informal suggestion" from a conference of leading nations would be helpful. He explained he was "not suggesting our government should make any promises in advance."

DANGER IN ARMS

Voicing the opinion that "civilization has to end war or war will end civilization," Meighen said the present world situation consists of a "long concourse of nations wanting peace . . . but nevertheless fearful and arming, ever arming in response to the instinct for security."

"We know, they know, everybody knows," he added, "that security by armaments for one country means insecurity for another, and that competitive armaments will end where they have always ended, in competitive war."

R-101 CRASH LINKED WITH CONFERENCE

Risky Flight Declared Due to Wish to Show Off for Imperial Parley

LONDON, Nov. 10. (AP)—The public inquiry into the disaster of the British airship R-101 today heard testimony linking the ship's ill-fated flight with the imperial conference in session in London at that time.

Squadron Leader R. S. Booth, commander of Great Britain's other giant ship, R-100, expressed the belief officers of the R-101 permitted their judgment to be biased by knowledge of the wish of Lord Thomson, Air Minister killed in the crash, and others that the flight to India be made while statesmen of the empire were deliberating in London.

"If the conference had not been on," he said, "I feel confident they would have insisted on more details."

T. McWade, chief inspector at the Cardington Airport, testified that while the R-101 was riding out a storm at her mooring mast a gasbag valve was found open.

The inquiry adjourned until December 3 to permit Sir John Simon and his two colleagues who form the court, to sift the mass of material.

ELECTION IN SPAIN MUST AWAIT CENSUS

MADRID, Nov. 10. (AP)—Spain's Parliamentary election, the first since 1923, when Primo De Rivera established the dictatorship, cannot be held before March 1, Ossonio Gallardo, head of the Central Census Board, announced today, because of inability to complete the electoral census much before that date.

STEEL BACKLOG TURNS UPWARD

Unfilled Orders Show Small Gain in October

Increase Said to Indicate Long-Term Contracts

Minimum Price on Plates and Bars Established

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation increased 57,425 tons in October to a total of 3,481,763 tons October 31. In September a decrease of 155,866 tons was shown.

The backlog of September 30 was 3,424,338 tons. On August 31 unfilled orders aggregating 3,580,204 tons. On July 31 the total unfilled tonnage was 4,022,055 and on October 31, 1929, unfilled orders amounted to 4,086,562 tons.

The low rate of production during October was a factor in maintaining the volume of unfilled orders, but it was felt in steel-trade circles the volume may also indicate consumers were placing contracts for delivery rather far into the future on the theory more advantageous prices would be unlikely.

Carnegie Steel Company, a subsidiary of United States Steel Corporation, announced that effective immediately the minimum price for bars, plates and shapes is $1.60 a hundred pounds.

Although the figure does not represent an advance from previous published quotations, it marks the first definite stand taken on prices of principal steel products for more than a year. In the summer last year these products were quoted at $1.90 a hundred pounds.

Continental Supply Plans Emsco Merger

Continental Supply Company, subsidiary of Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company handling its oil-well supply business, is reported to be negotiating for a merger with Emsco Derrick and Equipment Company. No statement was forthcoming yesterday from the Emsco office in the absence of E. M. Smith, president, who is on his way east to attend the American Petroleum Institute meeting.

Emsco for some time has had working arrangements for the sale of its products outside California with the Youngstown Sheet and Tube subsidiaries, its products in the Midcontinent field being handled by Continental Supply. Its foreign business is handled through Continental-Emsco Company, Inc., also a subsidiary of Youngstown Sheet and Tube.

Although it is not known how much time will be required to complete the negotiations, it is reported the negotiations have been in progress for some time.

There is no stock of the Continental Supply Company outstanding in the hands of the public, which supports the belief that the deal will be for a cash consideration. Emsco has 400,000 shares of no-par value listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange currently quoted around $10 a share.

Huge Pipe Line Plan Approved

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Construction of a six-inch gasoline pipe line from the Mississippi River to Chicago has been authorized by the Illinois Commerce Commission in an order granted to Great Lakes Pipe Line Company of Illinois, a subsidiary of Great Lakes Pipe Line Company of Delaware. The line will be 135 miles long and will connect at Cordova, Ill., and Princeton, Iowa, on the river, with a midcontinent line owned by the Delaware company.

Construction of the Mississippi crossing, to consist of three lines, will commence following the close of navigation within a few days and construction of the line across Illinois will begin January 1, next.

TRADE WITH EUROPE IN SHARP DROP

Marked Decrease Shown for September Exports and Imports

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Business between the United States and Europe showed the most marked decline of the general foreign trade recession during September.

Commerce Department reports today made the following comparisons as to the geographical character of the September foreign trade:

| Exports— | Sept. 1930 | Sept. 1929 |
|---|---|---|
| Europe .......... | $156,716,816 | $201,258,212 |
| North America. | 79,532,643 | 117,419,162 |
| South America. | 25,911,347 | 43,540,941 |
| Asia .......... | 34,674,886 | 49,839,194 |
| Oceania ....... | 5,593,286 | 16,173,278 |
| Africa ......... | 6,460,460 | 8,911,788 |
| Imports— | | |
| Europe .......... | 73,423,317 | 120,055,689 |
| North America. | 58,584,295 | 76,941,810 |
| South America. | 28,027,573 | 45,386,752 |
| Asia .......... | 59,944,653 | 97,754,866 |
| Oceania ....... | 2,075,350 | 4,749,455 |
| Africa ......... | 4,256,520 | 6,415,455 |

The Canadian position as best national customer of the United States was somewhat challenged by Great Britain. American exports to Canada were $52,070,262, against $80,484,501 in September last year, and imports were $32,508,388, against $42,256,553. For Great Britain American exports were $57,841,328, against $72,609,252, but imports from Great Britain for September were $17,017,162, against $28,986,854.

Exports to Germany were $32,911,781, against $38,993,110 and imports $14,049,671, against $21,800,413. Exports to France were $20,068,596, against $24,026,281, and imports $10,850,872, against $17,461,527.

One of the trade expansions was noted in the Russian figures as American imports in September were $2,003,937, practically double those of September, 1929.

In exports, however, the business with Russia showed a decline similar to that affecting other international trade, amounting to $4,923,093, against $5,949,700.

West Coast Bank Loan Total Gains

Security loans of reporting member banks of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District as of the 5th inst., were announced yesterday at $447,000,000, representing an increase for the week of $4,000,000. The loans a year ago totaled $431,000,000.

VULCAN DETINNING NET INCOME DROPS

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Vulcan Detinning Company for the quarter ended September 30, last, today reported net income of $70,774 after charges and taxes, equal after 7 per cent preferred dividends to $1.08 a share on 32,258 common shares, as against $172,697, or $4.07 a share on 20,000 common shares and 12,258 shares of Class A common in the third quarter of last year. Nine months' net profits totaled $256,987, or $4.63 a share on 32,258 common shares, as against $493,149, or $11.43 a share on the combined stocks in the 1929 period.

DEAN WITTER ISSUES STOCK COMPILATION

Dean Witter & Co. has just issued for general distribution its semiannual tabulation of forty-five widely held common stocks, all holding high ratings of recognized specialists. Ratio of earnings to market prices as of October 22, last, ranged from 3.5 per cent to 18.7 per cent.

STANDARD AND UNION HIT

Leading Coast Oils Depressed to Record Lows With Former Yielding 7 and Latter 9 Per Cent

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Not many investors ever expected to see that day when Standard Oil of California and Union Oil of California, two of the Pacific Coast's favorite investment issues, would sell down to the point where the former was on a 7 per cent and the latter on a 9 per cent basis.

This is exactly what happened in yesterday's savage attack against all stocks. The oil list was especially under pressure for reasons that were not new, if there was reason at all behind the selling. Hardly an oil company, large or small, escaped the wholesale whittling down of prices.

HIT NEW BOTTOM

Not since the new stock first appeared in 1921 has Standard of California sold below 50. In 1927 the stock sold down to 50 3-8 and last year was depressed to 51½ in the October-November decline. But yesterday's liquidation found Standard on a new bottom at 40½.

At the closing price of 50, Standard offers an investment return of 7 per cent, including the 2 per cent extra in stock recently declared. Without the stock extra the return is 5 per cent, which compares with the normal yield on Standard of California of around 3½ per cent.

Although not quite depressed to 25, Union Oil at that price sells on a 9 per cent basis, including the 1 per cent extra in stock declared for the final quarter of the year. On its $2 cash dividend alone the yield at 25 is 8 per cent. Only a few days ago it was cause for comment when this stock sold on a 6 per cent cash basis.

While there is no assurance from any quarter that both these stocks will not sell lower, the availability of high yields on shares of this character illustrates the opportunities awaiting courageous investors. Probably there are a good many fortunes in California today that were built in part on the purchase of Standard and Union shares in the days when similar yields were obtained on the two relatively unseasoned stocks.

ROYAL DUTCH BLUE

Some of the liquidation in oil shares was attributable in part to the pessimistic expressions emanating from the Royal Dutch meeting at Amsterdam. At this meeting it was intimated the Royal Dutch management expects sharper price conflicts on refined and crude products.

On the other hand, the stock market apparently ignored the bullish statement made in this country by the Royal Dutch relative to the restriction of Venezuelan gasoline. In this statement the English company agreed to restrict by one-half its imports to the east coast provided California and Gulf Coast gasoline is diverted from world markets to fill this deficiency created by Venezuelan withdrawals.

Also bullish on the world situation was the reiteration of the Royal Dutch offer to restrict production of crude oil in Venezuela provided American producers will do likewise.

If the American and the English petroleum interests are able to work together on a common worldwide program, there is every chance for stabilization that would allow a fair profit for everybody. Only the few large companies are able to show profits now, as was stated at the Royal Dutch Amsterdam meeting.

Confining its operations almost entirely to the New England territory, First National Stores, Inc., and affiliated companies now transact annually a very profitable and stable grocery and meat business through some 2550 retail stores units comprising the organization. These stores are grouped about central warehouses and bakeries, making for great efficiency and convenience in the distribution of supplies and store service. A majority of the outlets are located in Massachusetts, being especially numerous in the city of Boston and the outlying residential communities. The business is being conservatively expanded into all of the New England States as attractive locations present themselves for exploitation.

Since incorporation in 1925 earnings have shown a persistent and steady increase, in the fiscal year ending March 31, 1930, being some 29 per cent in excess of those for the previous year. For the quarter ended June 30, 1930, a slight recession from previous year returns was reported, per share figures amounting to $1.33 and $1.42, respectively. Volume of business for the quarter, on a tonnage basis, was about 15 per cent above a year ago, indicating the price concessions to the consumer account for the net income decline.

American Bank in Paris Gets in Deep Water

PARIS, Nov. 10. (AP)—The financial paper Information says that Munroe & Cie, oldest American bank in Paris, has closed its doors but negotiations are under way to extricate the bank from its difficulties so it can reopen.

The paper says it is thought today's action was due in part to a lack of confidence on the part of the Paris depositors. The bank was founded in 1851.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Munroe & Cie, the oldest American banking house in Paris, has temporarily suspended payments, it was learned in Wall street today. K. M. Spence, attorney for John Munroe & Co., New York representatives, said the New York house is taking action to assist depositors and creditors.

The bank had a small clientele among British and American residents of France. Spence said the book value of assets exceeded the liabilities by a considerable amount, and it is expected creditors would be paid in full.

Owing to the restricted nature of the bank's business, its difficulties were said in Wall-street banking circles to have very little if any effect upon Wall street.

Cotton Cloth Output Down

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Production of standard cotton cloths for the five weeks ended October 31 totaled 228,866,000 yards, at the rate of 45,773,000 yards a week, which was a decrease of 35.3 per cent from the weekly rate for October last year, the Association of Cotton Textile Merchants of New York reported.

Sales during October totaled 335,801,000 yards or 146.7 per cent of production. Stocks on hand at the end of October amounted to 350,889,000 yards, representing a decrease of 10.6 per cent during the month. Unfilled orders October 31 totaled 350,845,000 yards, an increase of 22.9 per cent during the month.

NEW YORK WILL STAY OPEN TODAY

Only the New York markets will remain open today while banks, stock and commodity markets in other States will close in observance of Armistice Day, a legal holiday in California, Illinois, Ohio and other States.

Pierce Bullish on Stock Values

Criticising current pessimism which might lead people to believe that fourteen months of declining business had destroyed the solid background of American corporations, and declaring that the depression has not wiped out the progress made during the years 1926-1929, E. A. Pierce, managing partner of E. A. Pierce & Co., in a statement issued yesterday in New York recommended the purchase of selected common stocks.

"Selling all through the market seems to be in the final stages," he said. "This is no time to turn bearish, no time to sacrifice seasoned stocks, but, on the other hand, an opportunity has been created to purchase common stocks under what appears to be exceptionally favorable circumstances with income returns and equity values offering unusual attractions. On that basis, I am quite willing to recommend the purchase of selected common stocks for the longer term and in anticipation of the betterment in general business which 1931 seems destined to bring."

Gain Forecast in Corn Yield

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—The preliminary estimate of this year's corn crop was placed today at 2,094,481,000 bushels by the Department of Agriculture. A month ago 2,046,716,000 bushels were forecast. Last year production totaled 2,614,307,000 bushels.

The quality of corn this year was placed at 78.6 per cent compared with 80.2 per cent last year and 80.5 per cent the ten-year averages. Corn remaining on farms the 1st inst. is estimated at 72,349,000 bushels, or 2.77 per cent of the 1929 crop, compared with 76,359,000 bushels a year ago and 102,165,000 bushels the five-year average.

BANDINI DECLARES MONTHLY DIVIDEND

Directors of Bandini Oil Company have declared the regular monthly dividend of 10 cents a share payable December 20 to stockholders of record the 31st inst. The stock was recently established on an annual dividend basis of $1.20 a share. The dividend was incorrectly referred to as a quarterly payment in Sunday's issue of The Times.

NEW PLAN MAY HELP INDUSTRY

Petroleum Convention Takes Up Unit Proposal

Central Direction Suggested for Groups of Wells

Royal Dutch Shell Offers Aid in Curtailment Move

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—A plan for operating large groups of oil wells as units under central direction as a means of increasing efficiency in the oil business was one of the important matters which the American Petroleum Institute convention considered today.

Already in practice in some sections, the plan would leave in the hands of central groups such decision as when new wells would be drilled and the amount to be produced from present wells. Its advocates would extend the plan to the whole industry.

A proposal for a voluntary cut in oil production was placed before the convention at opening sessions and was given impetus by an offer from the Royal Dutch Shell Company to decrease its imports from Venezuela.

A special committee was considering this proposal and a report recommending a cut in production of 100,000 barrels a day for the next six months. Officers said such a reduction was considered necessary because, for the first time since automobiles became a factor there has been no increase in the consumption of gasoline.

The Royal Dutch offer was first made nearly twelve months ago, and hinges on the provision that other producers in Venezuela accept the same undertaking. It proposed "to reduce its rate of production from the fields of Venezuela compared with the rate of production in 1929 proportionately with any average reduction in the United States on the same basis."

STATUS OF OIL MARKET UNCHANGED

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 10.—Directors of Royal Dutch Company at the meeting to approve charter amendments pursuant to retirement of the priority shares in answer to a question from a shareholder as to the status of the oil market today declared that the situation has shown no betterment since their last declaration August 27. There is now a profit margin for only the largest producing companies, which have followed a conservative policy in the past, the board declared.

In view of the fact that Export Petroleum Association, Inc., in the United States has withdrawn its schedule of export oil prices, the board ventured no prediction for the coming months. Royal Dutch takes this action as an indication of sharper price battles between refiners and distributors on one side and crude producers on the other.

The board stated it is immaterial to Royal Dutch how long the fight continues, as the company is prepared for it, and is convinced that in the long run remunerative prices must be paid. General co-operation must come at some time, the board declared.

Exchange Loan Ratio to Value Sharply Down

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (Exclusive) Total borrowings by members of the New York Stock Exchange on stock collateral on the 1st inst. amounted to 4.65 per cent of the market value of all shares listed on that date, compared with 5.79 per cent on October 1, a decrease of 1.14 per cent during the month. On November 1, 1929, this ratio stood at 8.51 per cent.

Market value of all shares listed on the exchange on the 1st inst. totaled $55,025,710,617, against $60,143,183,105 on October 1, a decrease of $5,117,472,488. During October loans to brokers decreased $925,328,674, to $2,556,124,087 at the end of the month.

As of the 1st inst. there were 1316 stock issues aggregating 1,296,845,244 shares listed on the New York Stock Exchange, aginst 1313 issues aggregating 1,284,052,185 shares on October 1. The average market value of all listed shares was $42.43 on the 1st inst., against $46.84 on October 1.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—There was a sharp decline in the cotton market here today under selling promoted by the relatively easy showing of Liverpool and the weakness reported in the domestic grain and stock markets.

The advances which followed the government report of Saturday soon disappeared under the pressure and active months sold about 30 to 35 points net lower, with new December ruling around 10.75 and May 11.41 during the middle of the afternoon.

TARIFF IDEA STIRS BRITAIN

Stand of Dominion Premiers at Imperial Parley Divides Ranks of Conservatives

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The dominion premiers, weary and disappointed, are still carrying on in London, no nearer a solution of the vexatious free trade-protection question than when they began their discussion three weeks ago.

What the imperial conference has done, however, is to split the Conservative party into two factions on the question of food taxes for Great Britain. One faction, led by Stanley Baldwin, Conservative leader in the House of Commons, favors protection for manufactured articles, but free admission of wheat and other foodstuffs.

The other faction is backing the demand of Premier Bennett of Canada for full protection and imperial preference. Thus, if the MacDonald Labor government were put out of power and the Conservatives put in, the imperial situation would be just as confusing as ever.

American business men selling goods in England, need have no fear of any immediate changes in the British fiscal policy. It may come, but when and if it does, Americans should be prepared for some sweeping changes.

A few figures might show just what the dominion premiers face in case the British commonwealth of nations "goes" protective tariff. In 1928, out of $3,519,000,000 of exports of British-made goods, the various dominions of the empire took only $1,594,000,000. This left $1,925,000,000, or about 55 per cent sold to countries outside of the British Empire.

Of the imports during the same year, which total $5,817,000,000, only $1,903,000,000 came from the various dominions, while $3,914,000,000, or nearly two-thirds, came from outside countries. The United States led these outside countries by a large margin. Argentina was next, followed by Germany and India.

As far as Canada was concerned, in that year, it exported to Great Britain less than half of the amount shipped from the United States, and but 10 per cent more than from the Argentine.

It is apparent, therefore, says the Brookmire Economic Service, in a review of the situation, "that an exclusion of the products of some of those countries from the British market, would cause serious doubt of the security of the British investments abroad, and would discourage imports by those countries from the British Isles."

No, American business leaders need have no fear of any British tariff—at least, not for the next twelve months.

Now that Senator Carter Glass of Virginia has been re-elected for another six-year term, his first big task as chairman of the subcommittee of the Senate appointed to study the banking and currency question will be to start the investigation itself.

Wall street is obviously anxious about it. For its leaders admit there are plenty of subjects that can be investigated, among which their own activities during the past few years occupy a prominent place.

Just before the election Senator Glass said that the Senate investigation would not be a muck-raking expedition, but a fact-finding study to determine the cause of the inflationary boom of the last few years. It will include among other things, a study of the machinery of the whole banking system, both Federal Reserve and commercial. So the situation in Wall street will probably be given considerable study.

In the meantime, the banking world is working hard — "cleaning house," as it were—preparing to meet the charges that will be brought against it.

Executives of Bank Establish Central Office

Headquarters of the executive committee to administer the affairs of the Bank of America in Southern California have been established at the Los Angeles main office, Spring and Seventh street. In addition to E. J. Nolan, chairman of the board, and C. R. Bell, G. A. Davidson and Orra E. Monnette, vice-chairmen of the board, this southern executive committee consists of H. H. Ashley, W. A. Bonynge, Jr., H. H. Erkes, Irving H. Hellman, Marco H. Hellman, R. M. Philleo, R. E. Trengove, Howard Whipple and E. J. Wightman, vice-presidents. Marco H. Hellman is chairman of this southern executive committee.

Investment Unit Plans Reduction in Stock Sale

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—American Cities Power and Light Corporation has called a special meeting of Class B stockholders for the 24th inst. to vote on the proposal to reduce the stated value of the B stock. This action is proposed because of the general decline in market securities, the value of the company's net assets on October 31, last, with investments taken at market prices on that date, had depreciated to $44,034,614, which is less than the amount set up as capital represented by Class A and B stock.

Directors are of the opinion that the technical situation resulting from this unrealized depreciation should not be allowed to interrupt the payment of dividends while the corporation is receiving large income from investment, the letters to stockholders stated.

If the reduction in stated value of Class B stock is approved, the board proposes to use a portion of the surplus thus created for the purpose of writing down investments to approximately market value and if deemed advisable for the purpose of setting up investment reserves.

Net income including stock dividends for the ten months ended October 31, last, was $3,102,177 after expenses, taxes and interest.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—The sensitiveness of bonds to the trend of stocks was sharply delineated today in a very active session in which selling pressure extended to all sections of the market except United States governments.

Bond prices as gauged by the average for thirty bonds rested at a new low for 1930, at the close. The average of 98.0 for thirty domestic bonds represented a ½-point drop from Saturday's close, and compared with a previous year's low of 98.4, established early in the year and is only six-tenths higher than the price level prevailing a year ago, when security prices were falling sharply.

Railroad obligations led the decline as pressure against equity issues influenced further hasty selling of investments.

Losses of 1, 2 and 3 points were sprinkled throughout the list, carrying many bonds, particularly rails and industrials, to new 1930 minimums.

St. Paul adjustment 5s of 2000 sagged 2½ points to a new year's low at 33½. Bonds of the Chicago and Northwestern dipped sharply. In contrast was the steadiness of Union Pacific 4s and Atchison general 4s.

A handful of utility bonds attracted buying support and moved higher, but the gains were more than offset by losses elsewhere.

Speculative industrials and convertibles were hard hit by the liquidation, and declines were generally measured in points. Foreigns were irregularly lower. The firm spot was the government list, where the Liberty 3½s reached a new high for the year.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

MASSACHUSETTS INVESTORS TRUST

$500 MONTHLY INCOME

...from a $5,000 Investment Today and Small Quarterly Payments

FOLLOWING is one of a number of typical plans for building a substantial estate and creating a liberal monthly income in a comparatively short period through investment in

MASSACHUSETTS INVESTORS TRUST

This trust is founded on the principle that a properly supervised investment in the stocks of leading American corporations will prove both secure and highly profitable over a period of years.

The exhaustive studies of the 25-year record of leading American industries show an average annual appreciation of 10% in capital gain and an average annual earned income of 5%, making a total of 15% per year.

INCOME OF $500 A MONTH
In 20 years
Initial Investment $ 5,000.00
Quarterly investments 82.50
($330 a year)
Total invested . . . 11,600.00
Value of fund . . . 120,000.00
Income at 5%...$500 a month

The above plan is based upon this rate of increase. The actual record of Massachusetts Investors Trust, organized in 1924, shows an average yearly income and appreciation of 18.62%.

TIME-TESTED BONDS

IN TIMES like these, when economic conditions are unsettled and corporate profits are running under normal, many investors prefer to place a substantial portion of their funds in time-tested bonds...securities that have been outstanding for a considerable period, and whose true worth has been appraised by the open market.

With this in mind, we have selected the following group of seasoned bonds...all of which deserve a place among your holdings. These issues offer attractive yields at present prices, and in some cases, opportunity for substantial enhancement in value since they are selling at a material discount. We suggest

Selling Hits Local Stock Market to Force Fifteen Issues to New Record Lows

The heaviest selling for more than two weeks' time the Los Angeles Exchange plunged into new depths yesterday as a wave of [illegible] swept through the market to reverse a firming trend after [illegible] two hours. Fifteen stocks, many of which are the most active on the board, sank to new record bottoms. The market will be [illegible] today in observance of the Armistice anniversary.

[illegible] of Union Oil issues, Transamerica and Standard Oil of California [illegible] flooded the market, [illegible] of the group to new [illegible] Southern California Edison, [illegible] Lighting, Pacific Public Service, Security-First National Bank, [illegible] Rio Grande, Shell, Hancock, [illegible] and Claude Neon [illegible] the others to hit new [illegible]. A fractional recovery [illegible] the day's lowest points set in [illegible] the close.

[illegible] Oil dropped 1 1-2 to 25 1-2, [illegible] Associates, 1 to 24 1-2, [illegible] 1-8 higher than the [illegible] Standard Oil of California [illegible] 80 to hit 49 1-2 and [illegible] 1-2, off 3-8 net. Richfield [illegible] to 3 7-8 and closed at 6 [illegible] Rio Grande ended at 7 1-4, off [illegible] after having dipped to 7 1-8. [illegible] was brought out at 5, [illegible] and Hancock at 9 7-8, later ending firm at 10. Shell slumped 7-8 to 8 5-8.

Transamerica, on a turnover of 8200 shares, which figure was surpassed by Standard of California and the combined Union issues, dropped to 16 and recovered to end at 16 1-4, off 1-8 net. Security-First National Bank sold off another point to 90 and Pacific Mutual Life, 1 1-2 to 60. Seaboard National Bank advanced 3-8 to 40 1-2, the only common stock to show a gain for the day.

Edison dropped more than a point to 45 1-2 and closed at 5-8 and Pacific Lighting sold down 1 1-4 to 56 3-4. Pacific Public Service hit 21 3-4 and finished at 22 1-8, off 3-8 net.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Another spasm of liquidation, concentrated in the utility and oil shares, sent curb shares still lower in today's market, and piled up total sales of 1,276,800 shares, the largest since October 10.

The selling appeared to be wearing itself out late, however, and substantial recovery was recorded by some of the more active stocks, a few actually closing with new gains. Liquidation of the oils was probably aggravated by the receivership for Cosden, and the report of the board of Royal Dutch to shareholders saying only the largest units in the industry could show a margin of profit under present conditions.

It was notable, however, pressure against Cities Service, a weak feature Saturday, was lifted. This widely held issue closed at 17⅝, up ⅛, after again touching Saturday's low of 16. The turnover was only 171,100 shares, against 289,300 Saturday.

Most of the low priced oil issues sagged to new lows, but even the Standards were under heavy pressure. Indiana declined 2⅝ to a new low at 35⅞, and Ohio dropped nearly 5. Humble sagged a point to a new low. Gulf closed up a point at 77. Cosden sold as low as 1⅝, and closed at 2⅛ off ⅛ net. Its 1930 high was 74⅝.

Electric Bond and Share dropped 2⅝ to a new low at 38⅝, but closed at 40⅛. Northern States A dropped 6 to 120. Aluminum Company, Ltd., tumbled 13 points to 72.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Ten issues in the dollar list and two in the cent list fell to new bottom prices on the Los Angeles Curb yesterday. Bank of America, N. A., on a sale of fifty shares, dropped 17 1-4 to a new low at 70.

Fox Theaters A, off 1 to 5, General Motors at 31 5-8, closing at 31 7-8, off 1 1-8, General Aviation off 1 1-4 to 7, Gladding-McBean off 1 1-8 to 28 3-4, and Mexican Seaboard at 9 3-4, closing at 10½, off 1 1-4, all registered new low prices for the local board this year.

Cord Corporation, Grigsby-Grunow, Fox Film A and Intercoast Trading on fractional declines also made new lows. Grigsby-Grunow, after touching 3 3-8, closed at 3½, unchanged.

Cities Service common made a net gain of 7-8 to 17 1-4 and Paramount-Publix was 3-8 higher at 44 3-8, these issues being the only ones to show advances.

Days of easy optimism!

ALL THE LOOSE-LEAF MINDS . . are looking for pages of conservatism and economy . . that were torn out . . during ten years of get-rich-quick spending . . which reminds you that the old-fashioned, small-town MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA . . keeps its 10th floor offices in Los Angeles . . with three State records.

Through 37½ years and four depressions we've watched each decade swept with the erroneous idea that economy and conservatism might NOW be abandoned—then watched the punishment of arrogant carelessness.

CONSERVATISM IS NOT AN EASY VIRTUE TO ACQUIRE . . though easily claimed . . and no amount of bluff, brag or blow . . can substitute for 37½ years of steadily mounting earnings . . and freedom from losses . . which characterize the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA.

This is no NEW management. We aren't riding on an old name—we MADE this one, ourselves, in an old-fashioned, small-town manner, among neighbors and friends who KNOW their savings are safe. Pomona Valley is no get-rich-quick community.

We haven't forgotten economy. Three State records have not pried us out of our 10th floor Los Angeles offices. If these characteristics please you more than soft-fibered showiness, you'll get 6% with safety, and we'll work for YOU, competently and pleasantly.

BUYING BRISKER ON METAL MART

Increase in Foreign Copper Takings Reported

Demand for Zinc Improves at Shade Advance

Lead Taking Fair and Price Boost Forecast

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS
(Editor, the Mining Journal, Phoenix)

An appreciation of the bargain prices of metals is now being expressed by active buying, particularly on foreign account. Zinc has had material improvement in price and now is 4.40 bid and 4.45 asked f.o.b. St. Louis. Lead and copper have remained at the same price, 5.10 f.o.b. New York and 9½ cents Connecticut, respectively.

The zinc market has reflected the improved sentiment in the trade. The consumers have been purchasing larger tonnages and all signs have been pointing toward higher price levels. While, under ordinary conditions, the large surplus stocks would have hindered an advance, they are now largely concentrated into strong hands who are well able to carry them. Curtailment has been reported to be sufficient to require the drawing upon reserves to meet the demand.

There was nothing stimulating, however, in the October zinc statistics. Stocks of slab zinc increased during October to a total of 141,232 tons at the end of the month, against 132,947 at the end of September and 122,635 in August. Shipments during October totaled 32,655 tons against 30,173 in September and 35,775 in August. October production totaled 40,940 tons against 40,485 in September and 41,-029 in August.

It is stated that real progress is being made in the negotiations of the international zinc cartel and that it would begin functioning by the end of November. It is indicated that there is a large measure of American co-operation and that the United States will materially reduce its export shipments.

LEAD ADVANCE PREDICTED

Lead consumers are buying a fair tonnage for immediate delivery but are manifesting but slight interest in future commitments. The first sign of a price increase, however, would bring a rush into the market as there is much November and December metal to be bought. A price increase is not at all unlikely as the London market has been improving and the present spread is now sufficient to warrant expectation of an advance here.

Statistically, lead is showing up better. World production of lead in September amounted to 148,506 tons, as compared with 155,364 tons in August, and 151,356 tons in July. This represents the lowest output for any month this year, and was at the daily average rate of 4950 tons.

Of this total the United States contributed 48,491 tons, against 52,-880 tons in August. Canadian and Mexican production both were lower, the former being 12,918 tons against 13,303 tons in August, and Mexican output 21,583 tons compared with August's 22,563 tons.

FOREIGN BUYING HEAVY

Foreign buying of copper has been unusually large, and more metal has been asked for than the producers have been willing to sell. The extra good foreign buying at this time has no significance except that they have not been allowed to buy freely on the way down but have been held to allotted quotas and, not having bought ahead as among United States consumers, they are able to buy freely now. Export copper sales for October are stated to exceed 72,000 tons which is the largest for a great many months.

The domestic buying that is being done is largely to average down the price on plant stocks and it is not related that there has been any evidence of increased consumption either in this country or abroad. The fact that there is a real prospect of early material curtailment is making the fabricators feel that this is a good time to stock up a little further ahead than usual.

The features of the copper market are the withdrawal of custom smelters as sellers at any position; the fact that the large producers are only taking care of regular customers but limiting their tonnage; and the report that outside speculative interests are seeking metal and offering as high as a quarter-cent premium for delivery during the first quarter of 1931 but are unable to find sellers. These features indicate a price rise.

Minority Group Seeks to Block Phillips Merger

TULSA (Okla.) Nov. 10. (AP)—Legal action seeking to prevent completion of the consolidation of the Independent Oil and Gas and the Phillips Petroleum companies will be taken this week by minority stockholders of the Independent company, attorneys for two groups of protesting stockholders said today.

Counsel for W. L. Kistler, Tulsa oil man, representing 13,000 shares of Independent stock, said he would cite fifteen reasons for halting the merger, chief among which would be objections to the payment of $1,000,000 to Bancamerica-Blair Brothers, New York City, for brokerage services in connection with the consolidation, and objections to the ratio of the exchange of stock, which calls for seventy-six shares of Phillips stock for 100 shares of Independent stock.

Other protestants include P. D. C. Ball, St. Louis, baseball magnate; L. C. McEvoy, business associate of Ball. They represent 12,975 shares.

UTILITY EARNINGS IN SLIGHT DECLINE

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—American Gas and Electric Company and subsidiaries for the twelve months ended September 30, last, in a report issued today, showed net income of $20,274,917 after charges and taxes, equal after dividends on the $6 preferred stock to $5.58 a share on 3,203,333 common shares, as against $20,379,942, or $5.85 a share on 3,076,522 common shares in the preceding year.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Crude rubber prices in the outside market were a shade firmer today in spite of dolorous tone in other markets. Gains ranged from ⅛ cent for ribbed sheets to ¼ cent in the pales; rolled browns only held their own. The volume of dealings was noticeably smaller than in recent sessions. Foreign markets were irregular, with London closing dull and unchanged.

The market derived strength unquestionably from the appearance of statistics on London crude rubber stocks, which showed a sizable decline in these stocks for the second week in succession.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Trading in wool remains slow but sentiment in the wool trade is slightly more confident than a week ago owing partly to the firmer trend shown last week in the Australian market. Another factor is the broader selection of wools moved last week by a few houses. Asking prices of combing domestic wools are fairly firm. Receipts of domestic wools at Boston during week ending, November 8, amounted to 2,021,-600 pounds, compared with 1,036,800 pounds the previous week.

MARKET FLASHES

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Receipts for the week's opening session totaled nearly 60 loads, with steers predominating. A wide territory was represented, California, intermountain, New Mexico, Texas and Arizona furnishing bulk of supply. Trade was active and some advance was made, especially on steers, many sales being considered fully 25c higher. Other classes held fully steady. Better grades were more plentiful than a week ago and demand was good from all interests.

The feature of the market was a load of well finished 858-pound Angus yearling steers from a California feed lot which sold at 10.00. A few loads of good California, Utah and Arizona steers averaging 895 to 1145 pounds brought 8.35, with bulk of other medium to low good steers mostly under 1000 pounds, at 7.65@8.25. A few part loads were taken at 7.50, with fed Arizona Mexican steers at 7.00. Several loads of Imperial Mexican steers brought 6.60@6.75, with plainer kinds, including some Texas steers, at 6.25. Two cars Texas yearling feeder steers sold late at 7.00.

A few fairly good heifers sold up to 7.25 with bulk of the light supply going at 5.50@6.75. A load of good Nevada cows scored 6.25 with a few head of Californias at 6.10. Nearly two loads of near-good Montana cows cashed at 6.00 with several lots at 5.65@5.75. Bulk of the common to low medium cows sold at 4.50@5.50 with low cutters and cutters at 2.50@4.25. Good weighty bulls brought 5.75@6.00 with bulk of medium kinds at 4.00@5.50 and cutters at less money.

CALVES—Calves were plentiful, but demand was good and bulk of offerings look strong to mostly 25c higher. A part load of good Arizona vealers brought 12.00, with choice natives quoted quite a little higher. Plainer vealers sold at 9.50@11.00. A load of southwestern calves went to a packer at 8.75 with several lots at 8.00@8.50 to both killers and feeders. A few loads went out on a by-head basis. Common calves sold down to 5.25.

HOGS—Although receipts were the largest in many weeks, trade was active at the moderate decline of 10@15c. Two loads of 174 to 195-pound eastern butchers brought 10.60 for yesterday's top, while 10 cars of 166 to 222-pound butchers were taken at 10.40@10.50. Three loads of less desirable 153 to 191-pound weights brought 10.25@10.35. A few local feds made 9.75@10.50 with a few packing sows at 8.50@9.00.

SHEEP—The moderate supply included less than three decks of lambs which sold readily at strong rates. The balance of yesterday's receipts were ewes, which were unsold at 2 o'clock. Two decks of good to choice 84-pound Utah lambs brought 8.10 straight, while 50 head of lambs averaging 90 pounds were taken at 7.50. Medium to choice ewes are quoted at 3.00@4.00.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—Daily Steel Trade today says: Indications that the steel market is taking a turn for the better are seen in the announcement of the Carnegie Steel Company to the effect that its minimum price on shapes, plates and bars for current business is 1.60, Pittsburgh. At the same time the issuance of an inquiry by the Pennsylvania Railway for 30,000 tons of plates, 10,000 tons of bars, 2000 tons of shapes, 10,000 wheels, 500 axels and miscellaneous steel, which is in addition to its recent inquiry for 40,000 tons of steel for 1300 gondolas, is being pointed to as indicative of the growing belief that prices are resting on the bottom and that a turn in the situation is at hand.

NOTABLE ENGINEER SUCCUMBS

Wilkie Woodard, Builder of Mulholland High Way, Victim of Long Illness

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 10.—Wilkie Woodard, 57 years of age, one of the Southland's outstanding civil engineers and a resident in the district since 1910, died at his estate in Bel-Air tonight following a lingering illness. His body was removed to the Dayton funeral parlor, Beverly Hills, pending funeral arrangements to be made today.

The career of Woodard included several outstanding engineering accomplishments in Southern California. He was chief engineer for construction of Mulholland High Way and Sepulveda Boulevard; planned Bel-Air and Castellamare Estates and was noted for the type of groynes he designed to build up land along the Santa Monica coast.

The engineer was a native of Indianapolis. He spent most of his boyhood in Los Angeles and Oakland, but returned east as City Engineer at Shreveport, La., in 1902. Later he became chief engineer of the Union Terminal Railroad, with headquarters in Cincinnati, O., and the New York Central in 1909.

On his arrival here again in 1910 he became a member of the city engineering staff.

During the Spanish-American War Woodard was a captain in the Signal Corps and a major in the Engineering Corps during the World War in France.

He was a member of the American Legion, American Association of Civil Engineers, Los Angeles Engineers' Club and Bel-Air Country Club.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Aline Woodard, and a daughter, Miss Aline Woodard, at the Bel-Air home, and four sisters, Mrs. Charles Dotsworth of Long Beach; Mrs. Fred Brachman, Pacific Beach; Mrs. Charles Grave and Mrs. A. Roessler, both of Indianapolis.

JAIL BORES YOUNG SCION OF MAGNATE

John D. Spreckels III Released From Cell but Gets Traffic Tickets

Slightly bored with his thirty-eight-hour detention in the Wilshire police station jail, John D. Spreckels, III, 19-year-old grandson of the San Diego financier, was released yesterday afternoon following an investigation of the ownership of the roadster he drives.

Young Spreckels, while admitting that the hours behind the bars grew somewhat long before the doors finally swung open, agreed that his enforced stay had not been too unpleasant and that he expected it to result in a slight increase of his $350 monthly allowance.

Release of the scion of the wealthy family was not without charges, however, and four citations were placed against him by police following their inquiry. He is charged with improper registration; having no operator's license; running through a traffic signal and having no license plates.

All of these matters will be adjusted shortly, according to attorneys, relatives, friends and companions of young Spreckels, who appeared at the police station to speak in his behalf. The visitors to the station began early yesterday shortly after publication of the story of his arrest and attempts that were under way to prove identification. He was booked Sunday morning on suspicion of grand theft after failing to make a boulevard stop at Pico Boulevard and Western avenue. No certificate of car ownership could be located and the young driver was without the customary license. He gave his name and address but could not present satisfactory credentials to police, hence his detention.

Two telephone calls and some telegrams from attorneys of the Spreckels interests in San Francisco to Attorney Thomas H. Cannan here started the legal machinery and just at dusk he was released to friends. The information from San Francisco and Seattle established positive identity and explained a mix-up in reference to registration certificate and driver's license. The police were satisfied that the youth is a victim of circumstances and cited him to answer only for the four minor motor-law violations.

Sale of Toys Aids Charities

The Thrift Shop of the Assistance League, located at 5604 De Longpre avenue, Hollywood, is alive with the Christmas spirit owing to the preholiday sale of dolls and toys of every description. The sale opened yesterday and will close on the 15th inst. The shop will be open tomorrow, Thursday and Friday nights of this week until 9 p.m. to accommodate parents and others busy during the day.

Smiling dolls, sad-eyed, lop-eared dogs, demure kittens, scooters, automobiles, wagons, tin soldiers—all stand in fanciful array appealing for 50 cents upward to be taken to the home of some little child.

All proceeds are used for sustaining the free day nursery which takes care of the children of working mothers, and also to the Good Samaritan Department, which has made an amazing record during the past year for aiding the families of men without work.

Banning Place Offered to City

The old Phineas Banning homesite above the Hill-street tunnel, once one of the city's showplaces, was offered to the City Council as playground or other property yesterday by Ward Chapman, administrator of the estate of Lucy Banning Ota. The price set is $58,500.

The offer was referred by the City Council to the Board of Playground and Recreation Commission and to the Council's Parks and Playgrounds Committee.

OFFICER IN SHAKE-DOWN EXONERATED

Capt. Brooks of Sheriff's Force Cleared as Result of Court's Investigation

Capt. Howard J. Brooks, head of the Sheriff's farm theft detail, was yesterday exonerated by United States Commissioner Head of the charge of impersonating an immigration officer brought against him on the 5th inst. Brooks was automatically reinstated as head of the farm-theft detail by the action of Commissioner Head.

The charge against Brooks was that he had assumed the role of immigration officer to obtain money from Japanese he had accused of being in the country illegally. He was to have been tried on this charge next Friday.

Commissioner Head decided to act yesterday, however, when informed by Asst. U. S. Atty. Redwine that more than a dozen Japanese had been interviewed by Federal investigators and not one could identify Brooks as the man who was said to have demanded money. Redwine thereupon recommended the immediate dismissal of the charge against Brooks and Commissioner Head promptly complied.

Brooks, 48 years of age, has been in office since 1922 and has borne the reputation of being an honest and efficient servant.

Peter J. Pirotte, former District Attorney's investigator, and Clinton Heskett, accused of impersonating immigration officers to extort money from Japanese upon threats of deportation, yesterday pleaded not guilty before United States District Judge Cosgrave.

Plea for reduction of bail, now fixed at $3500 each, was denied and the case set for trial to follow a mail-fraud case in Judge Cosgrave's court, starting today.

Woman Takes Joy Ride on Auto Bumper

Mrs. Margaret Shinn, 25 years of age, had a wild ride down hill on the bumper of her own automobile on Boylston street yesterday, which ended at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. She had parked her car but had failed to set the brakes firmly, say police. When the car began moving down the hill toward Sunset Boulevard she got in front and tried to hold it, but wasn't strong enough. To avoid being run over she grabbed the radiator with both hands and held herself on the bumper.

The car was going very fast when it crossed Sunset Boulevard, but got through the traffic safely, with Mrs. Shinn screaming. Finally it sideswiped the garage at 1167 Sunset Boulevard. The car stopped very suddenly and Mrs. Shinn, who lives at 2513 East Fifty-third street, Huntington Park. She was thrown to the ground. She was found to have general bruises and a sprained ankle.

Artists Chosen for Memorial Concert Friday

MRS. C. C. CALHOUN

Four Los Angeles composers and Pietro Gentile, baritone, have been chosen as artists for the concert to be given Friday at the Philharmonic Auditorium for the Mothers' Memorial program. Mary Carr Moore, Gertrude Ross and George Liebling will accompany Gentile in their own songs. Homer Simmons, pianist, has written and will play at the concert a new song called "Sacrament," which he has dedicated to the memorial.

The concert Friday is the first of a series which will be presented throughout the country in the interests of the memorial, which is to be built in Washington, according to Mrs. C. C. Calhoun, founder and president of the Mothers' Memorial organization. It will be a shrine to the pioneer mothers of this country. It will create a fund for the care of aged and penniless mothers and a loan fund for the education of talented children.

Final Rites of Mrs. Walker to Be Tomorrow

Funeral services for Mrs. Hattie E. Walker, Los Angeles pioneer, who died unexpectedly Sunday at her home, 127 East Thirtieth street, will be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the Reed Brothers' chapel, 721 West Washington street, with Rev. William C. Eddy officiating. Interment will be in Inglewood Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Walker was 80 years of age and the widow of Henry Clay Walker, the police officer who stood guard for twenty-four hours following the Times Building dynamiting twenty years ago. She came here from Kansas in 1885 and became an active member of the Pioneers, the G.A.R., Pacific chapter of the Eastern Star, Knights and Ladies of Security and Silver Star Chapter of the Pythian Sisters. She leaves two sons, Ralph E. Walker of the City Planning Commission, Henry Clay Walker, Jr., realty man; one daughter, Mrs. Mabel V. Longley, and a grandson, Dr. Harold Longley of the United States Government Hospital, Manila, P. I.

BROTHER GETS BULK OF GAINES ESTATE

More than half the $100,000 estate of Frank D. Gaines, who died September 14, last, will go to his brother, L. O. Gaines, of Fairfield, Iowa, according to the will on file yesterday. Seven nieces and nephews will receive bequests of $5000 and $10,000, and the decedent's brother gets the rest.

SHIPPING BOARD SENDS OUT QUIZ

Training of Merchant Ship Officers Topic

First Step Toward Adoption of Policy Taken

National Committee to Have Guide in Decision

BY WALDO DRAKE

Shipping leaders throughout the United States yesterday received a questionnaire from Rear-Admiral Hutch I. Cone, commissioner of the United States Shipping Board, as the first move toward formation of a definite policy regarding training future officers for the American merchant marine. Admiral Cone, as chairman of the committee on this subject appointed last April at the third national merchant marine conference, has already called four meetings of this national committee in an effort to arrive at a comprehensive view of the situation.

The plan, as outlined in the questionnaire, is a development of the suggestion made nearly a year ago by Capt. Kirkwood H. Donavin, Pacific Coast operating manager of the International Mercantile Marine Company. Capt. Donavin, graduate of the United States Naval Academy and still a lieutenant-commander in the Naval Reserves, suggested that 125 additional midshipmen be sent to Annapolis each year and that this number of second-class midshipmen later be selected for special training as officers in the merchant marine in their last two years at the academy.

Salient points in Admiral Cone's questionnaire include: (1.) If a national system for training officers for the merchant marine be established, should there also be a State system in addition? (2.) Should training of officers be left to private steamship companies to be worked out according to special requirements of each company? (3.) What type schoolship do you favor: sail, power, cargo or combination cargo and passenger? (4.) What kind of educational qualifications should be required before a man can enter any institution for training officers? (5.) Is it practicable to raise the educational qualifications of the present licensed officers by giving advanced courses of instruction? (6.) Do you favor special training of licensed engineers in electric drive, Diesel engines, in shipyards or marine engine and boiler manufacturing plants, in electricity and refrigeration? (7.) Should the instructors of the training ships and schools be Navy officers, merchant marine officers, civilians, or a combination of all?

EXPANSION OF PORT FEDERAL UNITS AIDED

Efforts of local shipping interests to secure proper quarantine, immigration and marine hospital facilities at Los Angeles Harbor received their first definite impetus yesterday in announcement by Congressman Joe Crail that when Congress convenes next December he will introduce a bill to at least quadruple present facilities of the port bureaus of the United States Public Health and Immigration services.

Simultaneous with Mr. Crail's announcement, Capt. Harry H. Birkholm, chairman of a special committee of the Chamber of Commerce on port facilities, yesterday called a meeting of his committee to study quarantine and immigration needs, to meet tomorrow at 11 a.m. at the Marine Service Bureau at San Pedro. Chief speaker at this meeting will be Capt. Walter J. Petersen, who has just returned from Washington after several months spent at the national capital in the interests of the Pacific-American Steamship Association.

"This port has attained third rank among harbors of the United States," said Capt. Nichols, "yet we are struggling along with quarantine and immigration facilities insufficient to meet the needs of a third-class port.

"Many ports on both coasts are provided with marine hospitals, yet Los Angeles Harbor, with its thousands of incoming merchant sailors monthly, is required to send patients to San Francisco for treatment."

As illustrative of the need for proper facilities, shipping men yesterday pointed out that the 1931 trans-Pacific passenger schedule of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha services alone to Los Angeles Harbor provides for seventeen Sunday arrivals subject to fumigation, for which both material and personnel are lacking.

A small shipment of oranges and grapefruit from Jamaica passes through port today, en route to Vancouver on the new Holland America motorship Delftdyk, sailing north today on her second voyage in the European-Pacific run. It is believed the first shipment of the kind, and is deemed a startling entry into a trade heretofore regarded as the preserve of Southern California's orange industry. The ship discharged 15,000 bunches of Panama bananas and 700 tons of European coke and fertilizer, and disembarked eight of her sixteen passengers. She is commanded by Capt. A. Filippo, who lives within a stone's throw of the Peace Palace at The Hague, but who never knew what it looked like, until he received a picture yesterday from an American tourist who had gone abroad on his ship. The Delftdyk is one of the fastest in the run, last year reaching Liverpool twenty-one days and six hours from Los Angeles.

David P. Fleming, secretary-treasurer of most of Wrigley's western companies, returned yesterday with Mrs. Fleming from two weeks' vacation in the Yosemite and Sequoia parks, and from San Francisco where he attended a meeting of the Pacific Coast Baseball League, and negotiated a deal for several new Angel players. He reported J. H. Patrick, western manager, and D. M. Renton, island manager, arrived in Phoenix, Ariz., yesterday to meet William Wrigley, Jr., who is expected at Los Angeles late this week or early next.

The Blue Sky, an eighty-foot purse seiner just completed at the yards of the San Pedro Boat Building Company, is scheduled to make her maiden voyage in the fisheries today. She had her trial trip Sunday, carrying 100 friends to Catalina Island and back. She is propelled by a 230-horsepower Atlas Imperial diesel engine.

The Grace liner Charcas, which was on the rocks a few hours at Point Fermin last week and since has been discharging cargo here, went to dry dock at the Bethlehem shipyards yesterday for a survey of damages to her hull. The examination was expected to be completed today preparatory to calling for bids for her repairs. She is believed not badly damaged. Bethlehem yards yesterday also received the San Diego ferry Coronado, towed up by the tug Cuyamaca for her annual overhaul, cleaning and painting.

Many Ships Go Down to Deeps on West Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Recent marine mishaps, especially the sinking of the schooner Brooklyn off Eureka last Saturday, brought out the fact here today that approximately 700 ships have been entirely lost along the Pacific Coast since steamers drove the windjammers from the sea. Those lost over the whole Pacific would perhaps pass the 100 mark.

The marine department of the Chamber of Commerce has a record of ships lost since 1887. Only since 1900 have the records been kept complete. Since that year the losses have been as follows: 1900, sixteen; 1901, twenty-seven; 1902, twenty-six; 1903, twenty-eight; 1904, sixteen; 1905, twenty-five; 1906, twenty-five; 1907, twenty-five; 1908, sixteen; 1909, thirty-two; 1910, seventeen; 1911, twenty-three; 1912, sixteen; 1913, twenty-eight; 1914, twenty-five; 1915, thirty-two; 1916, twenty-five; 1917, seventeen; 1918, thirty-four; 1919, twenty-one; 1920, nine; 1921, nine; 1922, seventeen; 1923, thirty-six; 1924, twenty-eight; 1925, seventeen; 1926, seventeen; 1927, twenty-one; 1928, ten; 1929, thirty; 1930, ten.

Chinese-Soviet Agreement Near in Railway Row

MOSCOW, Nov. 10. (AP)—L. M. Karakhan, acting Commissar of Foreign Affairs, tonight indicated such progress had been made on the troublesome Chinese Eastern Railway problem it now could be discussed through normal soviet-Chinese diplomatic channels.

He so informed Moh Te-hui, head of the Chinese delegation at the Sino-soviet conference on the railway, saying the Chinese government had fulfilled most of the obligations contained in the Khabarovsk protocol and hence the soviet government is ready to resume negotiations.

CUBAN STUDENT DIES IN CLASH WITH POLICE

HAVANA, Nov. 10. (AP)—The opposition newspaper El Pais reported tonight one student was killed and four others, one of them a girl, were injured in a clash with police at Santiago de Cuba late today. The paper said 2000 students formed a parade and marched to the site of the statue to Gov. Barcelo of Oriente Province. They destroyed the monument and then went to a statue of President Machado near by, attacking it with hammers. When the police attempted to disperse the students a battle began.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"A Devil With Women." A he-man show and quite funny. Victor McLaglen.

California, Main and Eighth—"El Secreto del Doctor." A good story, but not too well handled. Made in Paris.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"The Squealer." Excitement with Jack Holt. "Ladies in Love."

Ritz, Wilshire at La Brea—"The Santa Fe Trail." Nothing remarkable, but averagely entertaining. Richard Arlen.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Today." Home life when the stock market crashes. Well done by Conrad Nagel and Catherine Dale Owen.

R.K.O., Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Check and Double Check." Amos 'n' Andy bring their droll talk to the screen in an efficient and humorous vehicle.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"The Life of the Party."

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"The Bird of Flame." The exotic tropics and that charming vampire, Dorothy Burgess.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath." Charlotte Greenwood strides onto the stage, and the play matters not at all. Destined for a healthy and wealthy run.

Music Box, Hollywood Blvd., nr. Gower—"The Apple Cart." George Bernard Shaw's prediction of the future is ably portrayed by Alan Mowbray and fellow-actors.

BURLESQUE

Follies, Main at Fourth—Burlesque

Four Addresses Listened to by Eugenic Group

The use of the surgeon's knife for the correction of mental and moral deficiencies in inmates of public institutions, was the subject of four addresses given last night at a meeting of the Southern California branch of the American Eugenics Society in the Public Library.

The use of patients in institutions for care of the feeble-minded, as laboratory subjects for the study of eugenic methods, was one of the suggestions advanced by Dr. Thomas H. Leonard, medical superintendent of the Pacific Colony at Spadra.

Dr. H. W. Covey, psychiatrist, Juvenile Hall, condemned attempts to invoke the 1909 State sterilization law in cases of moral delinquency and declared the law was only intended to control the spread of hereditary imbecility.

Miss Ellen Alice McAnulty, department statistician of the Board of Education, presented charts showing the intelligence gradings of public school children, and Dr. Kate Brousseau of the Institute of Family Relations, gave a review of a recent book on the control of the mentally deficient.

ANTIFREEZE LIQUID KILLS FOUR DRINKERS

STAMFORD (Ct.) Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—A liquid used by motorists to prevent automobile radiators from freezing killed four men here today. The liquid, the ingredients of which are said to be denatured alcohol, glycerine and other chemicals, was drunk by the quar at an open-air drinking bout near the city dump. The dead are William Carroll and Arthur Wood, no homes, Frederick Sweet of Hartford and Joseph J. McGrath of Stamford.

TIDE TURNS IN BUSINESS, SAYS STORE

Outfitting Concern Tells Federal Reserve Sales of October Pass 1929

Further evidence that the business tide has turned and that the long-heralded return to prosperity has definitely started in Southern California is brought out in the report of the Eastern Outfitting Company made yesterday.

The report reveals that October net sales of the home-furnishing institution are well ahead of its September sales and show a substantial increase over the sales of October, 1929, considered in mercantile circles to have been an excellent home-furnishing month.

"As one of the reporting stores for the Twelfth Federal Reserve district it gave me a great deal of pleasure to mail so encouraging a report," said Adolph Sieroty, founder and general manager of the Eastern. "It is from such definite, concrete evidence as this that I make prediction of an early return of general prosperity to Southern California. The home-furnishing business has always been an accurate business barometer. The purchase of home furnishings indicates either one of two things, that new residents have arrived and are furnishing places in which to live or that settled citizens have surplus funds with which to refurnish. Either type of purchase indicates prosperity."

A few weeks ago the Eastern announced an increase of 25 per cent in its operating personnel since moving into its new Ninth and Broadway home.

JEFFRIES IN LEGAL RING WINS BOUT

Ex-Fighter Maintains in Court He Has No Funds Belonging to Al Morro

James J. Jeffries, former champion heavyweight fighter, appeared before W. P. Wills, Superior Court Commissioner, to tell of his financial relations with Al Morro, heavyweight fighter whose financial affairs are asserted to have been managed by the ex-champion.

Morro was sued by Fred Hensing as the aftermath of a contested deer hunt in the Verdugo Hills, September 18, 1927. Two shots rang out on the brush-covered hillside and when Hensing and Morro plunged through the chaparral to the scene of the kill each claimed to have fired the fatal shot.

In the resulting argument Morro broke Hensing's nose and the latter won a subsequent lawsuit and a verdict for $1139 damages. Twice attachment proceedings to garnishee Morro's winnings at the Hollywood Stadium failed, and Attorney E. J. McCully filed supplementary proceedings to bring Morro's manager, Jeffries, into court to find out how much, if any, of Morro's money is in possession of Jeffries.

Both Morro and Jeffries denied having any attachable funds, and in the absence of proof to the contrary, Referee Wills dismissed the action.

William Forbes Funeral to Be at Plaza Church

The old Plaza Church, where he was baptized, will be the scene of funeral services at 10 a.m. tomorrow for William Forbes of San Juan Capistrano, descendant of a pioneer California family and grandson of Don Augustin Olverda, pioneer Los Angeles jurist, who died on Sunday at the home of his sister, Mrs. O. Gunther, 6165 York Boulevard. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Mr. Forbes was born fifty-two years ago in Los Angeles, the son of Charles H. Forbes, a prominent business man of the city's early days, and Mrs. Luisa Olverda de Forbes. He started his own business career as manager for his father of the Laguna Ranch, which was on the site of the present city of Huntington Park, but later entered the hotel business and during recent years had been conducting the Pioneer Hotel at San Juan Capistrano.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Rose Forbes; one son, William Forbes, Jr.; three brothers, Robert Forbes of this city, James A. Forbes of Riverside and Thomas Forbes of Hanford, and three sisters, Mrs. Anita Tarter of Taft, Josephine Forbes of this city and Mrs. Gunther.

Auto-Rail Wreck May Prove Fatal

James Yancy, 30 years of age, colored, of 43332 South Hooper avenue, was declared by physicians at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital last night to stand little chance of recovering from a skull fracture received in a crash between an automobile and a Pacific Electric freight train at Fourteenth street and Long Beach Boulevard.

Edward Brown, 20, 11727 Marshall street, Watts, colored, driver of the automobile in which Yancy was a passenger, was cut and bruised. A woman fled from the automobile after the crash, police said.

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Prevése el Fracaso de Plan de Young

WASHINGTON, Noviembre 10.—James G. Gerard, embajador que fue nuestro en Alemania, y tesorero hoy del Comité Nacional Democrático, predice que Alemania, probablemente, repudiará el plan de Young sobre pago de indemnizaciones, y lo hará dentro de un plazo de dieciocho meses.

Expresando sus dudas de que el pueblo alemán quiera seguir cubriendo sus pagos más largo tiempo, manifestó el señor Gerard que las personas que hayan comprado bonos alemanes, no volverán a ver nunca su dinero.

Tan pronto como Alemania suspenda el pago de sus deudas de guerra, dice Gerard, los países que tienen deudas de esa misma clase con los Estados Unidos tratarán de que les sean condonadas.

El ex-embajador vino aquí para asistir a la convención de la Sociedad Norteamericana de Productores de Manganeso, y visitó al presidente Hoover; pero dice que no discutió con él los asuntos alemanes.

WASHINGTON, Noviembre 10.—Doce años después del armisticio, no ha podido un grupo de eclesiásticos, educadores y hombres de negocios, interrogados por el Consejo Federal de Iglesias, ponerse de acuerdo acerca de quién resulte responsable de la Guerra Mundial.

A la pregunta, "¿Cree usted que Alemania y sus aliados hayan sido los únicos responsables de provocar la guerra?, contestaron negativamente 364, afirmativamente, 48, y 10 manifestaron duda.

La última pregunta del cuestionario era, "¿Cree usted, a la luz de cuanto testimonio hay ahora disponible, que los Estados Unidos hayan obrado cuerdamente entrando en la guerra contra Alemania?"

La Universal Sale Triunfante en un Litigio

NUEVA YORK, Noviembre 10.—Anne Nichols, autora de "Abie's Irish Rose," perdió hoy su apelación en el juicio por plagio que tiene entablado contra la Universal Pictures Corporation, a la que reclama $3,000,000 de indemnización. Ya un juzgado había fallado contra la senorita Nichols en Mayo de 1929.

El Tribunal Federal de Apelaciones dictó fallo unánime de sobreseer en la acción intentada contra la Universal Corporation, el señor Carl Laemmle, presidente de ella, y señor Henry Pollard. Este último, al decir de la señorita Nichols, hizo uso del argumento de la obra de ella para escribir su pieza, "Los Cohens y los Kelleys".

El juez Hand, en los considerandos de la sentencia, dijo: "Encontramos la trama de la segunda pieza tan diferente de la de la primera, que no es sostenible la acusación de plagio."

Nuevo Avión Postal que Llevará Cargo en los Espacios de las Alas

WASHINGTON, Noviembre 10.—Ha sido inspeccionado por el ministerio de Correos y está en espera de la opinion de éste, un nuevo tipo de aeroplano capaz de llevar 500 librar de correo "metidas en cada ala".

Earl B. Wadsworth, superintendente de correos aéreos, dijo hoy que no podía concebirse razón alguna para no aprovechar los espacios de las alas, y añadió ser muy probable que antes de que pasen muchos meses lleven los aviones postales transcontinentales compartimientos para correspondencia en las alas, dejando más espacio en las cámaras para pasajeros.

Presunto Bandido Muerto por sus Perseguidores

BELLE FOURCE (Dakota del Sur) Noviembre 10.—Wayne Kelley, presunto cuatrero y fugitivo de la justicia, fue muerto de un tiro el sábado por un piquete del sheriff, pues se resistió a ser aprehendido en el rancho de Bill Esler, condado de Butte. Tal se ha sabido hoy aquí.

Kelley, que se dice era forajido bien conocido, cayó de un tiro disparado por William Short, teniente sheriff del Estado.

NOTAS LOCALES

Hay Pocos Aspirantes a un Cargo Municipal

Ha costado trabajo proveer a un puesto del departamento de Agua y Energía, remunerado con $350 mensuales, según informa la Comisión de Empleados Civiles de Los Angeles. Cinco semanas tiene de anunciada la vacante, y sólo cinco aspirantes se han presentado para pasar las pruebas, que se verificarán el 24 del actual.

El empleo de que se trata es el de ingeniero de electrolitico. Hace seis semanas fueron sometidos a la prueba tres aspirantes y ninguno de ellos fue admitido.

El trabajo consiste en determinar las causas de cualesquiera daños corrosivos a las cañerías y otras estructuras subterráneas, y en dar remedios para impedirlos o corregirlos, recomendando materiales y métodos de construcción que resuelvan el problema de la corrosión.

Charlas Infantiles para Chiquillos de Escuela

VII.

Y el circo solía venir algunas veces a la ciudad. Siempre que Henry veía los payasos y las jaulas de tigres, se proponía llegar a ser caballista en pelo, usar mallas color de rosa y llevar un largo látigo (And then someimes the circus came to town. When he saw the clowns and the cages of tigers, Henry always decided to be a bareback rider and to wear pink tights and carry a long whip). Practicaba el jineteo de circo en su casa sobre un caballo mecedor, hasta que un día cayó sobre el cuello de su caballo, y se lo quebró. Entonces decidió que, en vez de eso, se haría policía cuando creciera, y usaría botones de latón (He practiced circus riding at home on his rocking horse, until one day he fell on the horse's neck and broke it. Then he decided that instead he would grow up into a policeman and wear brass buttons.)

AUTHOR TO SEEK WORLD AIR THRILLS

Adventure Writer Buys Plane Here to Carry Him to Remote Corners

In search of more adventure—adventure that he expects will surpass in thrills the occasion of dodging alligators and sharks while swimming the Panama Canal or jumping into the 140-foot sacrificial well in the Yucatan Mayan ruins—Richard Halliburton, travel author, will take to the air for a world trip in an airplane he purchased here yesterday.

"I have been planning this coming expedition for six months and was not intending to announce it until I got under way," the author admitted last night at the Roosevelt Hotel, his Hollywood headquarters.

"It is true, however, that I have an airplane—a Stearman Junior open biplane—and I expect to have a 225-horsepower Wright Whirlwind motor installed within ten days to get away on the first leg of my journey to New York.

"I am not a pilot myself, but expect to be by the time I get back to America—probably within two years. A local pilot, whom I hope to select by tomorrow, will fly the ship and instruct me.

"Instead of seeing how fast I can get around the world I want to see how slowly I can go by air. I want to visit many out-of-the-way places, some of which I believe can be reached only by air."

Following the hop from here to New York Halliburton said he and his pilot plan to ship the airplane, purchased at Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport from Ed L. Erickson, to London and then fly to Morocco. There he expects to spend the winter adventuring with the Foreign Legion.

Next spring the author wants to take off on an itinerary that he expects will include Turkestan, Russia, India, Australia, Asia and the South Seas.

Pontoons will be substituted for landing wheels on the ocean hops and the final return leg of the adventure from Japan to the United States will be aboard an ocean steamer, Halliburton explained.

Special gasoline tanks to give the sturdy biplane a flying range of 800 miles have been installed at Metropolitan. A set of dual controls have been connected in the front seat for Halliburton. Full photographic equipment, fire arms and everything necessary for the two members of the thrill tour will be stowed in the ship's baggage compartment.

Halliburton has four major adventure books to his credit, written following experiences in many of the world's strangest sections.

His Panama Canal and Yucatan adventures brought him into world press notice. These followed an

LEASES UPHELD IN OIL DISPUTE

Kern Naval Reserve Fight Won for Richfield

Twenty-nine-Million - Dollar Holdings Involved

Properties Once Controlled by Doheny Interests

Three disputed and valuable oil leases in the Kern county oil reserve, valued at about $29,000,000, were declared valid and a suit brought by the government, seeking to have the leases canceled was ordered dismissed in a decision handed down yesterday by United States District Judge Norcross of Utah. The case was tried before Judge Norcross several months ago when he was sitting here.

The defendant in the action brought by the government was the Pan American Petroleum Company, once controlled by Edward L. Doheny. The leases, the Doheny interests and the Pan American were taken over by the Richfield Oil Company, which is benefited by the decision.

RESULTS OF DECISION

It is estimated that the results of the decision will mean between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000 to the Richfield company, in that the company will not have to account to the government for the oil and gas which it has taken out and will be free to develop the leases in the future.

The leases are in Naval Petroleum Reserve No. 1, in Kern county. Two were given to W. R. Ramsey in 1921, and later transferred until finally obtained by the Pan American for $750,000. The third was given to R. J. White and J. H. Coffin in 1922, and obtained by Pan American.

The action was started by the government in 1924 and carried on for some time. Oil lands of 680 acres, valued at many millions of dollars, are involved.

GOVERNMENT'S STAND

It was held by the government in the first suit brought that parcels E, G and I were obtained without charge and the government sought to have the leases canceled. Later this bill was amended and the government charged the leases were obtained through asserted conspiracy between Doheny and former Secretary of the Interior Fall. The government also sought an accounting for oil and gas taken from the leases. The defense, taken over by the Richfield company and conducted by Norman S. Sterry, contended that the leases were not obtained by fraud, and that they had been ratified by Congress.

In the decision handed down by Judge Norcross, it is held that there was no fraud when the leases were obtained and that the rights to parcel E, adjoining the other leases, was settled in a decision handed down four years ago.

The dismissal automatically sets aside an injunction that prevented further drilling on the Elk Hills property while the suit was being argued.

STATEMENT ISSUED

Following the decision, Sterry, attorney for the Richfield Oil Company, gave out the following statement:

"The action was by the government of the United States to cancel three scrip leases which were given by the government in Sections 1 and 2, Naval Petroleum Reserve No. 1, two of the leases, 'E' and 'G,' being given directly to Pan American, and the 'I' lease to another company, and the latter purchased by the Pan American. The 'E' and 'I' leases were executed on or about December 14, 1921, and the 'G' lease sometime in February, 1922.

"By contracts and leases bearing the date of approximately April 25, 1922, and December 11, 1922, nearly the whole of the Naval Reserve was leased to Pan American Petroleum Company and the Pan American Transport Company.

INVESTIGATED BY SENATE

"These latter leases were investigated by a committee of the United States Senate. As the result of its report, Congress by a joint resolution authorized action to be brought for their cancellation and the suit was soon thereafter commenced on behalf of the government by Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, now an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, for their cancellation. Final judg-

TRYING MOMENT FOR HEIRESS

Miss Huntington Forgets Purse When Calling for License

Imagine the embarrassment of Harriet Huntington, 20-year-old Pasadena heiress, when she appeared at the marriage license bureau yesterday to get her license to wed Albert E. Doerr, 22 years of age, an engineer.

"Two dollars, please," said Miss Rosamund Rice, clerk in charge.

Miss Huntington fumbled.

"I—I'm afraid I left my purse in the automobile," she said, blushing.

The bride-to-be returned in a few minutes with the necessary fee and an air of triumph. She got the license.

NOVEL TEST BEING MADE BY AIRPLANE

Craft Seeking Endurance Record for Machines With Sealed Motors

Averaging seventeen miles to the gallon of gasoline since it took to the air more than a week ago a Timm monoplane, a local aircraft product, powered by a sealed 165-horsepower McClatchie Panther engine, also manufactured in Los Angeles, continued last night to drone above Rosamond Dry Lake, in the Mohave Desert, on a novel endurance test.

Since the motor was started at 4:10 a.m. on October 31, it has not stopped and no adjustment has been made on it. Joe Nikrent, official of the National Aeronautic Association, is stationed at the lake to sanction ground refuelings, directed by Capt. John Macready, head of the aviation department of the Shell Oil Company.

The test is being run to establish a world's record for planes with sealed motors. Pilots Leo F. Root, Wallace Hall and Frank J. Jenkins take turns at the controls.

ROW LIKELY OVER TAX ON OIL WELLS

Venice Group Expected to Fight Proposal Before Council Tomorrow

The question of levying a tax on oil wells in the city limits, in the form of an ordinance placing a charge of 1 per cent of gross income, will come before the City Council at 11 a.m. tomorrow, with prospects of determined opposition by Venice oil producers.

Yesterday afternoon the Council's Finance Committee heard a score of oil operators in the Venice field protest against the proposal.

The oil men assert they are already overtaxed, and that if Los Angeles adopts such a measure other municipalities will fall in line.

The Venice-Del Rey Oil Producers' Association submitted an amendment. This measure proposes a tax of $100 on each derrick for the first year and $50 a year thereafter, on wells producing more than twenty-five barrels daily, and $25 yearly on wells producing less than twenty-five barrels daily. Both proposals will be considered tomorrow by the Council.

Actress Leaves Friend Estate

Ethel Gordon Crain, character actress, left an estate of more than $10,000, according to her will, filed for probate yesterday.

According to John O. Herbold, attorney who filed the will, Mrs. Crain became ill with the receipt of the news of the death of her daughter, Nancy Patterson Ford of Rockford, Ill., October 6, last. A week later Mrs. Crain died.

But Mary Garden Sees Better Days

Mary Garden

MARY GARDEN arrived here yesterday to declare her allegiance to the talking motion picture and to predict that through the medium of the film, a new type of opera will be given to the world.

"I believe," she said, in the first statement of her new credo, "that the talking motion picture is the most perfect form of entertainment in the world."

Then she qualified her statement with criticism of present musical motion picture productions. "Most of the musical pictures I have seen, and I am a regular motion-picture fan, have been just a lot of trash," she said.

"I do believe though, that something new is coming. Surely not the old type of opera where the singers would take half an hour, yes, an hour, to sing good-by, but someone will build a motion-picture opera that will be concise, vibrant and when it is produced, will be the most perfect form of entertainment.

"I believe that the days of opera are numbered. Galli-Curci says that operas are dead. I do not believe that. Galli-Curci's operas are dead."

"And I thoroughly believe that the silent motion picture is gone never to return. Everyone must think so who must sit through them as I have had to do in Europe. I very nearly go mad watching them and waiting for them to speak.

"This new idea that I am thinking of for the production of opera in the motion pictures will only come when the producers make up their minds to go forward, turn their backs to the trivial musical things they are doing and call on their own people—Lawrence Tibbetts for instance—and let the world have the first universal opera."

Miss Garden will appear tonight in concert at Long Beach, returning to Los Angeles Wednesday and will leave for Chicago on the following day.

Upon her arrival in Chicago, Miss Garden said, she will start rehearsals for the production of the opera "Camille." She described the opera—the work of Hamilton Forrest, 25-year-old Chicago composer—as her first effort to sing a genuine American opera by an American. She is at the Biltmore.

YULETIDE PLANS LAUNCHED

Decorations Out-of-Doors in Keeping With Spirit of Season Urged by Chamber Committee

Plans for Southern California's fourth Christmas out-of-doors were launched yesterday under the auspices of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the Electric Club in the Biltmore with Harry L. Harper, director and chairman of the exploitation and exposition committee of the chamber, as chairman.

Harper urged wider observance of the proposal than ever before, pointing out the opportunities for Southern Californians to decorate trees, shrubs, windows and doorways with many-colored lights, symbolizing the spirit of the season.

A. Carman Smith, chairman of the Christmas out-of-doors committee, declared that the spectacle has a spiritual and cultural significance that enriches the lives of all. Records of a city's commercial growth should be accompanied by a celebration of this kind, he declared.

Bruce Findlay, manager of the exploitation department of the Chamber of Commerce, urged co-operation of all Southern Californians. He told of different ways in which persons might participate, suggesting Christmas carols to supplement the Christmas messages twinkling from the many-colored light bulbs.

Fifteen thousand trees were decorated the first year. This number was increased to 25,000 the second year and last year approximately 50,000 trees were decorated, it was stated.

CLUB TO HEAR DR. KNOPF

Dr. Karl Sumner Knopf of the University of Southern California will speak before members of the Ebell Club today at 10:30 a.m. on the subject, "Historical Approach to the Bible."

County Canvass of Returns in Election Begun

Canvassing the returns of the last election began yesterday and will continue for the next ten days on the fourth floor of the Hall of Records. No discrepancies were discovered during the first day's work.

The canvass is being made by 130 men and women clerks under the direction of the Board of Supervisors which acts, under the law, as an election canvassing board.

The board will have until the 20th inst. to make the canvass before certifying the figures to the Secretary of State.

Governor-Elect Arrives for Armistice Day

Expresses Gratitude for Confidence Vote

Goes to Long Beach for Chat With Merriam

On his first trip to Southern California since his election to the Governorship, Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, arrived yesterday morning and issued a statement expressing his thanks for the support given him by voters of this district.

"I am happy to be with the people of Southern California again on this, my first visit to this section since the general election," said Mayor Rolph at the Biltmore. "I wish to express my deepest thanks for the great confidence the people of Southern California and other parts of the State evidenced for me through their tremendous vote on election day."

The Mayor was greeted by numerous friends at the Biltmore. Later in the day, he went to Long Beach, where he met Frank Merriam, his successful running mate. Rolph came to Los Angeles over Southern Pacific lines and was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Jergins of Long Beach, Al G. Faulkner, preprimary campaign manager in Southern California, and Jack Scanlon, his personal representative.

Mayor Rolph said he would remain in Southern California until Wednesday.

"For several days following the election I had to retire to my home in San Francisco as a result of an attack of klieg eyes caused on election night when I posed for a Movietone picture," said Mayor Rolph. "As soon as my recovery made it possible I left immediately for Los Angeles to show my gratitude to the people of this and other sections of the State.

"Notwithstanding the fact I received many invitations to participate in Armistice Day celebrations all over the State, I accepted only the one to come to Los Angeles, the largest city in California.

"I wish, however, to join in spirit all the American service men throughout the State in their celebrations on Armistice Day. It is a pleasure for me to pay tribute to the men who served us in times of stress during the World War. I am particularly inspired with the great patriotic evidence of love for the American service men."

ROLPH GUEST AT LONG BEACH RECEPTION

LONG BEACH, Nov. 10.—Gov.-elect Rolph was the guest of honor here today at an impromptu banquet given by Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Jergins in the banquet hall of the Jergins Trust Building. The affair was attended by a group of close friends of the host and hostess. Following the banquet Mr. Rolph was escorted on a tour of inspection of the City Hall and the various county offices, and then held a brief conference with Lieut.-Gov.-elect Merriam. He left for Los Angeles late this afternoon.

COUNCIL TO HEAR NOISE CURB VIEWS

One Committee to Make Report on Findings and Other to Hold Parley

Mayor Porter's antinoise committee met yesterday afternoon in the offices of City Health Officer Parrish, held a short discussion, and adjourned until next Monday afternoon, at which time each member is supposed to make a short report upon traffic noises—that is, those arising from automobiles, busses, trucks and motorcycles.

Dr. Parrish suggested that instead of an exhaustive, technical research, such as the inch-thick New York report, the committee confine itself to the elimination of disturbing sounds, these being divided: (1) those which can be abated under present laws, (2) those which can be prevented by education.

Tomorrow afternoon the Health and Sanitation and Public Welfare Committees of the City Council will conduct a public hearing upon the antinoise ordinance recently submitted by Councilman Williams.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

THE defiant and warlike soviets shook a lot of cannon and picked troops under the nose of Europe at the Lenin birthday celebration.

This doesn't mean much, however. The ability of Russia to wage war depends upon her ability to make shells and on her railway equipment. It is one thing to have a lot of soldiers marching around the streets; quite another to feed, arm and transport them.

STRONG-ARM GAL

Evelyn Scoville, who says she is "just a strong-arm woman from Chicago," has been arrested on a charge of stealing an automobile in company with two crooks whom she met while hitch-hiking across country.

The "public-enemy" crusade in Chicago has driven hundreds of criminals out of the city of wind and machine guns, and many of them have come to Los Angeles.

NURSE-GIRL DUTY

In this crisis it would seem that the schools could find some way to escort their own pupils through the traffic and release a regiment of police officers from nurse-girl duty for this battle against gangsters.

SELLING MACHINE GUNS

The accounts of the Southern Pacific train robbery state that a large consignment of machine guns was recently shipped from an eastern munitions house to a "mysterious consignee" in California.

It is a public outrage that machine guns can be purchased in the open market. Any munitions house which makes such a shipment without knowing to what use it is to be put assumes a heavy responsibility.

GAMBLERS

Financial statements from banks show that this country is sagging down with idle money. The financial panic is purely mental. We have the Wall-street gamblers who trade on margins to thank.

Meanwhile the Police Commissioners will gird up their belts to see that no fiendish hot-dog merchant operates an illegal nickel-in-the-slot machine.

PSYCHOLOGICAL

The King of Kings in Abyssinia got so nervous at the sight of his faithful Ethiopian cavalry charging toward him that he had a battery of machine guns trained on them.

It used to be a joke at the Presidio in San Francisco that no one could stand on the sidewalk and see a battery of artillery charging in that direction without turning to run—even though he knew he was not in danger.

One time a deadly cobra was brought over on an ocean liner in a cage of glass. Of all the passengers no one could hold his hand against the glass and let the cobra strike.

SLANG

British purists who are trying to keep out American slang are wasting their time. No language in the world ever changed as rapidly as English is changing.

The editors of the best dictionary published state that 5000 new words rap for admission every year. One hundred a week. These words are placed on five years' probation. If still in general use they are admitted.

There are twice as many words in English as in any other language. Yet it remains the easiest of all languages to learn.

NUDITY REVELS BRING QUIZ

Plaints That Drunken Eves and Night Riding Godivas Frolic in Griffith Park Ordered Investigated

Complaint from Griffith Park employees that nude men and women have been found riding on the bridle trails at night and that nude women smoking and in an intoxicated condition, left in the park by male companions, have been found wandering around in aimless fashion, was ordered investigated by the Park Commission, which yesterday delegated the job to its secretary, J. J. Hassett. The smoking, it was declared, makes a fire menace.

The reports were turned in by F. W. Roewekamp, landscape engineer of maintenance, who produced a letter written by Joseph S. Young, foreman of Griffith Park.

Young states that about a month ago "he found two nude, intoxicated young ladies in the park at 9:30 p.m. who had been given liquor by two young men and were then left in the park" to find their way home as best they might.

A short time after the incident, Young relates, he met two more young women and two young men, nude, on horseback, near the Victory bridge about 11 p.m. They had been swimming in the pool at the Boys' Camp, he said.

Lately, he reported, the park employees have found indications of drinking and smoking after closing hours. In the past, he related, shooting has been heard in the park and a number of tame deer have disappeared, the head of one buck being found near the aviation field. Two men have been patrolling the bridle paths from 8 to 11 p.m. and except on two nights always found somebody riding without a permit, he reported.

Young charged lack of co-operation by the riding academies near the park by renting horses after closing hours.

Henry L. Carter, employed at the Vermont-avenue Canyon in the park, reported that on October 24, last, a party of five men and women on horses rode over the Vermont-avenue parkway and damaged it.

Roewekamp recommended that a regular patrol of two men be employed to stop all irregularities in the park at night or that it be completely closed at 8 p.m. daily.

DELEGATE DEPARTS

Dr. M. Len Hutchins left yesterday for the National Women's Christian Temperance Union convention at Houston, Tex., which begins Thursday and lasts a week.

TRAFFIC TO FEEL CURB OF MOTORCYCLE POLICE

News for motorists! Simultaneously with the assignment for active duty of forty-seven new motorcycle officers yesterday the entire motorcycle squadron, now numbering 103, was detailed to work exclusively on traffic under the command of Police Lieutenant Tommy Lofthouse. Reinforcement of the motorcycle squadron was made possible as a result of the recent action of the City Council in allowing for the purchase of fifty motorcycles by the police department.

For the last month the old squad of fifty-seven officers were detailed to assist in Chief Steckel's blockade system as a preventive measure to combat activities of bandits and burglars. This work is now being done exclusively by policemen in the uniformed divisions, allowing the motorcycle officers to return to their regular duty of enforcing the traffic laws.

The total personnel of the squadron is 107. Four of this number are used in the license and warrant bureaus.

Chief among the traffic-law safety measures to be enforced, according to Lieut. Lofthouse, will be those prohibiting high speed at dangerous intersections, school zones and pedestrian crossings, failing to give signals when changing course, driving on the wrong side of the street and cutting in and out of traffic.

Assignment of the motorcycle squadron back to traffic duty was coincident with a record number of week-end traffic accidents reported at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Figures showed 172 persons treated for injuries between 4 p.m. Saturday and 8 a.m. yesterday.

HUGE LAND SUIT DECIDED

Heirs to Old Spanish Grant Lose Action Over Beach Frontage Valued at $10,000,000

Title in beach property valued at approximately $10,000,000 was quieted in a judgment filed yesterday by Superior Judge Hollzer in the suit of Stuart A. McLeod against Ysidro Reyes and others. Judge Hollzer found in favor of the cross-complainants, the Title Insurance and Trust Company, Pacific Land Corporation, Pacific Palisades Association, Los Angeles Mountain Park Company and Castellammare Beach Corporation.

A strip of beach five miles long extending from Topanga Canyon to the Santa Monica city limits is the property which is affected in a long struggle involving conflict between the boundaries set forth in an old Mexican grant and those in a United States patent.

The voluminous record of the case sets forth that in 1839 the Mexican government made a grant of property known as Rancho Boca de Santa Monica to Ysidro Reyes and Francisco Marquez. In 1851 proceedings were conducted to confirm title and patent. In 1881 the United States made a survey and issued patent, showing a total of 6656.93 acres. A petition suit was decided in 1882. Through subsequent sales the subdivided rancho was acquired by the present owner, the cross-complainants.

Following the completion of the Roosevelt Coast Highway, descendants of Reyes and Marquez made claim to a strip of land west of the highway, basing their claims on the difference between the Mexican measurements and the United States survey. The United States patent, which purported to confirm the Mexican grant surveyed a meander line along the ocean front which did not follow all of the sinuosities of the shore line, but which stated that the Pacific coast line is the boundary. The partition decree merely partitioned the land by metes and bounds, although it purported to partition all of the land involved.

Following the metes and bounds there remained a strip between mean high tide and the line of description of allotment in the partition suit. The heirs of Reyes and Marquez contended the decree in

DAM QUIZ VOTED BY SUPERVISORS

Shaw Resolution Demands Grand Jury Inquiry

Public, He Asserts, Deserves Fixing of Blame

Recent Report Attacked as Using Wrong Basis

A demand that the grand jury make a thorough and exhaustive investigation of the ill-fated San Gabriel dam project to fix the blame on persons responsible for the fiasco, was made yesterday by Supervisor Shaw.

Shaw made his request following receipt of the report of the board of engineers, hired to make a check of the yardage of earth excavated at the dam site for the grand jury. The report, made public last Thursday, censured the Board of Supervisors relative to the dam project asserting lack of sufficient geological exploration work before commencing the work and waste of public money.

PUBLIC CONSIDERED

"The public is entitled to a thorough investigation and a satisfactory explanation of the matters this report discusses," said Supervisor Shaw.

The Supervisor made his demand for a complete sifting and investigation of the dam debacle in a resolution presented by him to the board and adopted unanimously by all those members who were present. It was seconded by Supervisor Quinn. Those voting were Supervisors Shaw, Quinn, Wright and Beaty. Sidney T. Graves, chairman of the body, was not present. He is now making a tour of Mexico with officials of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

RESOLUTION TEXT

"I have carefully surveyed this engineers' report to the grand jury. In some instances, I believe, it is as misleading as it is thorough. Without definitely fixing any blame, it holds the Board of Supervisors as formerly organized up to undetermined criticism and condemnation. It casts a cloud over the present board by its indirection and its wholesale statement of irregularities asserted to have been made by the former Board of Supervisors.

"The settlement with the contractors dwelt upon by this report is given an erroneous and unfair public display inasmuch as it analyzes that settlement on a basis which was not the real one, as the settlement itself. This settlement was on a lump-sum basis made for the purpose of offsetting a damage suit involving more than $4,000,000 which was threatened against the county, and the settlement was not made wholly upon the basis of excavation, as pointed out by the report of the engineers. This settlement was made after careful consideration and upon the advice of our counsel.

"Unquestionably and despite the fact that this report absolves the present administration of the flood-control department of the gross irregularities charged against it, the insinuation made against public officials who directed the destinies of the San Gabriel dam demand a thorough investigation, and it is incumbent upon the grand jury to go to the bottom of the entire San Gabriel dam affair.

"The public is entitled to such an investigation and a satisfactory explanation of the matters this report discusses.

"Therefore, in the interests of the public as well as the interests of the present Board of Supervisors, I move that the Board of Supervisors as now constituted go on record as requesting a thorough and exhaustive inquiry by the grand jury to definitely fix all blame, if there is any, for this regrettable situation."

The pleas of Emery Ells and Benjamin Franklin Brown, charged with the murder of Mrs. Merle Ells, were continued until Friday by Superior Judge Wood yesterday on the defendants' request for additional time to consult their attorneys.

Mrs. Ells, who is the divorced wife of Emery Ells, was shot to death while sleeping beside her 18-month-old boy on the 2nd inst.

ment went in favor of the government, canceling the leases and directing the two companies to account to the government for all the oil and gas extracted therefrom, without any allowance for operating or drilling costs.

"The present suit was brought by the government through the same special counsel to cancel the 'E,' 'G' and 'I' leases, but without any charge that they were obtained by fraud or corruption.

"After the decision by the District Court in the first suit, the bill was amended and charged that these three leases were given as a result of the asserted conspiracy and fraud between Doheny and Fall.

THREE DEFENSES

"After the Doheny interests and the Pan American were taken over by the Richfield Oil Company, the defense of the case was conducted by Norman S. Sterry of the firm of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher. Three defenses were made: (1,) that the leases were not given as a result of the fraud and conspiracy between Fall and Doheny; (2,) that they had been ratified by the action of Congress, and (3,) that on the government's theory cancellation was a part of its former action and that the decree therein limited the government's right of recovery because of Mr. Doheny's asserted conspiracy.

"While we have not yet seen the opinion of the court, we understand that it practically sustains all three of the defenses, holding that the evidence did not show that these leases were given as a part of the conspiracy between Fall and Doheny, that they were known and reported to Congress and not condemned and that in any event the government's right to cancel them was barred by the decree in the former case.

"The result is that the Pan American will not be compelled to account to the government for the oil and gas which it has taken out and will be free to develop the leases as they should be developed."

RESERVE FUND CARRIED

After becoming a party to the suit through its acquisition of the Pan-American Western properties, the Richfield Oil Company carried on its books as a contingent reserve fund the sum of $5,000,000 to meet the government claim, in event it should be allowed. Disposition of this fund will be made when the decision handed down yesterday becomes final.

The company also gave Pan American stockholders scrip which, in the light of the Federal ruling, will now entitle them to one-sixth shares of Richfield stock.

partition did not purport to partition any land not contained in the partition suit, but had reserved all land outside of those boundaries as private road along the beach to be held in common by all of the heirs. They contended further that since the Roosevelt Highway was completed they now were in a position to reassert their claims to the beach strip because it no longer was used as a private road.

Judge Hollzer held that the decree in partition disposed of all property down to the mean high tide line. He wrote:

"In the partition proceedings the court recognized that the tide lands facing the Rancho Boca de Santa Monica constituted the ordinary highway which afforded ready access to and from the various sections of the rancho. Under these circumstances for the court to have failed to include the strip of the land in dispute as a part of the lands partitioned would have resulted in a wholly unnecessary duplication of the existing highway."

Barber's Wife Given Divorce

Maybe he was campaigning for Sunday closing; anyway, her barber husband was out late night after night, Mrs. Adnalee Rees yesterday complained in divorcing Harry Rees.

"When I asked him where he had been he told me it was none of my business," testified Mrs. Rees. She added that when she pressed her husband for an explanation he packed up and left. Superior Judge Yankwich granted her a divorce.

MRS. AMES WINS ACTION FOR DIVORCE

Judge Refuses Decree on Argument Plaint, but Gives It on Drinking Charge

Arguing with one's wife isn't grounds for divorce, but drinking too much is, Superior Judge Westover ruled yesterday, in granting Mrs. Helen Muriel Ames, eastern society woman, a divorce from Robert Ames, screen actor.

Mrs. Ames, in support of her assertions of cruelty, first told how her husband had argued with her, "far into the night," when she was ill and unable to stand the strain of carrying on her side of the dispute. He was always insulting me about what he termed my insufficient knowledge of the 'verities' of life, and said I had a lack of understanding and sympathy which hampered him in his career," she further complained.

"I'm not sure that a disposition to argue is a divorceable fault," said the court. "What else did he do?"

FINAL RITES GIVEN FOR JOURNALIST

Franklin Eugene Brown of "Times" Staff Laid to Rest in Forest Lawn

The body of Franklin Eugene Brown, journalist for nearly half a century and known to Times readers by the name of Eugene Brown as the writer of brilliant satirical articles, yesterday was laid to its last rest in the mausoleum of Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Preceding the interment, Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, Jr., conducted funeral services at the chapel of Kiefer & Eyerick, in Glendale. Additional services were conducted at the crypt by the Glendale Unity Lodge of Masons. Pallbearers were Jules Shalleck, R. A. Kasting, E. H. Kasting, R. K. Snow, Bailey Millard and L. F. Schaefer.

Mr. Brown, at the age of 66 years, died unexpectedly Friday at his home, 321 South Lincoln avenue, Glendale. Although he had been ill for several months his death came as a shock to his wife, Mrs. Olive Brown, and to his many friends.

Twenty years ago Mr. Brown, previously editor of his own newspaper in Illinois, where he was known as a splendid writer, joined the staff of The Times and soon became one of the leading journalists on the Pacific Coast.

CONTESTED DIVORCE UNDER ADVISEMENT

Superior Judge Sproul yesterday took under advisement the contested divorce action of Clarence J. Cleveland, wealthy contractor, and his wife, Winifred A. Cleveland. Mrs. Cleveland asks separate maintenance on a cross-complaint. Both parties demand custody of seven children, from 5 to 13 years of age. The couple married December, 1915, and separated February of this year.

VALENTINO CASE GETS SURPRISE

Objectors Rest as Sister Waits to Testify

Court Takes Recess Until Wednesday

Ullman Admits Contract for $1400-Week Salary

Rudolph Valentino's sister, Mrs. Maria Guglielmo Strada, waited yesterday afternoon in Superior Judge Stephen's court, expecting to go on the witness stand in the hearing on the report of S. George Ullman, executor of the actor's estate. Mrs. Strada, who with her brother is objecting to admission of the executor's report, was not called as a witness, counsel for the objectors resting their case abruptly in the afternoon session. Judge Stephens adjourned the hearing until 10 a.m. tomorrow.

The Sheik's sister had been called to testify regarding a payment of $40,000 to Frank Manila, a friend of the brother. Ullman asserts he advanced the sum at Mr. Strada's request.

CLEANING ENTERPRISE

Luther H. Mahoney, who described himself as superintendent of Valentino's personal estate, testified that he met the actor first in November, 1925. He said that, after Valentino's death, Ullman placed him in charge of the Ritz Cleaners, an enterprise the actor controlled. He said that Ullman was busy trying to get money so that Valentino's employees could eat.

"He must have succeeded. The witness looks well fed," commented Attorney Leonard H. Wilson, for Ullman. Mahoney is stout.

Mahoney related that Ullman increased the auction sale price of Valentino's schooner, after the actor's death, by taking the vessel out of water and setting it up in Hollywood.

"It could sell for $100 in the water, but on land it sold eventually for $3000," said Mahoney.

ADMITS LARGE SALARY

"What was Alberto Guglielmo doing when you were conducting the Ritz Cleaners?" asked Wilson.

"Nothing," replied Mahoney.

During the session, Ullman admitted for the first time that his contract as Valentino's manager called for $1400 a week, but that he averaged less than $400 a week.

Ray M. Stewart, attorney and tax adviser, testified that he received from Ullman $5221 for income-tax work after Valentino's death, and $2331 for legal and tax services prior to his death. The objectors contend that Ullman paid these sums for no services rendered. Harry H. Baskerville, auditor, identified certain accounts in connection with the estate. Attorney James Scarborough, Jr., represents the objectors.

Denying the charges of Mrs. Suzette Renaldo, Edwina A. Booth, screen actress, yesterday filed an answer to Mrs. Renaldo's damage suit asking $50,000 heart balm for the loss of the affections of her husband, Duncan Renaldo.

Miss Booth, it was asserted, induced Renaldo to file suit for divorce, which Mrs. Renaldo says she was duped into permitting to go by default. She has pending a suit to reinstate the divorce action.

When she played here a few weeks ago I noticed that she stands definitely on the "outsides" of her feet. She grips the earth much as an Indian does.

Children should be trained to walk and stand like Helen Wills.

Arch Preservers for children will do it because their heels are raised slightly on the inside—to throw their weight on the outside of their feet where it should be and to help them toe-in slightly as they should.

Wife Says Willie Low Would Not Pay Greens Fees Or Buy Balls

Golf is too expensive a sport for the wife of a golf professional, according to the testimony yesterday of Mrs. Della May Low, screen actress, who has pending a suit for divorce from Willie Low, Lakeside Country Club professional.

"He taught me to play golf, and then wouldn't pay my greens fees, nor buy me golf balls," said Mrs. Low.

Superior Judge Westover gave Mrs. Low $70 a month alimony until the case is tried.

CITY NOW HAS 400,000 PHONES

Installation at Coliseum Sets New Mark

Old-Time Operator Tells of First Wire Talk

Gain Thus Far This Year Reaches 16,000

The Los Angeles Coliseum, in addition to being the stadium for the 1932 Olympic Games, put in another claim to fame yesterday when the 400,000th telephone in Los Angeles was installed there. The new instrument was placed for the Tenth Olympics Committee and marks an increase of 100,000 telephones in four years, and more than 16,000 since the first of this year in the city.

Maynard McFie, vice-president of the Tenth Olympics Committee, called Mayor John C. Porter on the telephone and told him about the installation as soon as it was finished by John Klein, oldest Los Angeles installer, who has placed at least 20,000 telephones in service during his thirty-eight years in the business.

OLD-TIMER PRESENT

M. L. Stannard, division manager of the Southern California Telephone Company, had as a guest at the event, G. E. Averill, 1702½ Ocean View avenue, who was one of the original boy operators in Los Angeles a half-century ago.

Averill, together with Frank T. Wilson of 2833 South Olive street, completed the first telephone calls ever made in the city. In commenting on the installation, he stated that service now is different from that in 1880. "In those days we only answered calls when we didn't have anything else to do. There were forty-eight telephones in service here when I started to work, and our largest line went to Twenty-third and Figueroa—away out in the sticks," Averill said.

Stannard pointed out that in 1929 the increase was 20,275. Although the 1930 increase is less than the year previous, it is not low enough to indicate any unsatisfactory economic conditions. On the contrary, it is very conclusive evidence of a steady development in the city.

START FIFTY YEARS AGO

"Only two years in the history of the Los Angeles telephone system have shown a loss rather than a gain. These years were 1890 and 1918. The 1918 loss was not a real one, as it was caused by the elimination of duplicate telephones at the time the dual telephone systems were consolidated.

"It was just a half-century ago when the weird contraption called a telephone made its appearance in the Baker Block near the Plaza.

"From a company incorporated for $10,000 in 1881, the plant has grown until there is more than $100,000,000 invested in it here. About 5000 employees are required and more than 2,600,000 calls are placed daily."

UNION HAND SHOWS UP IN STATE WORK

Men After Certain Road Jobs Told to Apply at Central Labor Council

What were understood as State Highway Department instructions that men applying for certain Southern California road work be directed to apply for work to the Central Labor Council union headquarters in Los Angeles, brought protests yesterday from nonunion workmen.

"I applied for a job at the road camp above Arroyo Seco," one protestant said, "and I was told to apply through a man at the Labor Temple in Los Angeles. There are thousands of nonunion workmen in California to every union workman. I do not see why in times of such grave unemployment State work should be doled out by union officials to union men only. I am a citizen of this State. I am bringing up a family and am buying property. I protest against such discrimination."

Inquiry at the local offices of the department brought the statement that directions from the Sacramento office of the department directed that applicants for such jobs be made to the local union headquarters.

Some hours later an announcement was made at the local offices that a misunderstanding had existed. It was announced that the main office at the capital had issued instructions to pay the union scale and that this erroneously had been interpreted here to mean that workmen should be directed to apply at the local union headquarters. No such directions will be given in the future, it was announced, and nonunion unemployed are not to be discriminated against in favor of union members.

Normally, employment of such workmen would take place at the camp itself or at the State Free Employment Bureau, 512 Stanford street. At the bureau it was said that it expects to employ men needed on the Pasadena-Palmdale new mountain road, but that it has not yet received orders from the State Highway Department to do so. The orders, it was stated, "are expected in four or five days."

Cotton Pickers Still in Demand

Several hundred families are still needed for cotton picking in the San Joaquin Valley and the irrigated districts near Phoenix, the United States Employment Service announced yesterday. Transportation to the valley is provided free of charge, trucks leaving daily from the department's office at 901 North Alameda street.

Families accepting employment must furnish their own bedding and cooking utensils and defray expenses of their board; but no charge is made for shelter or water. Further information may be obtained by calling the employment service office.

CALIFORNIA'S STAPLE

We are willing to let the State of Washington have due credit for raising our large and juicy apples just so long as they don't try to take credit for our sunshine, too.

DIFFICULT CHOICE

Main-streeters all over the nation find it hard to decide whether to be happy over the fact that an American won a $46,000 literary prize or because his estranged wife sues to get her bit out of it.

RECORD INTACT

Senator Nye calls Memphis the "Philadelphia of the South." There may have been evidence of repeaters in the Tennessee city, but the City of Brotherly Love still holds the record for the number of gravestones voted at a single election.

ASK THE FANS

College alumni committee says the prominence given to coaching systems threatens to ruin football. From the attendance records this year it would appear that systems have "hurt" the pigskin game at about the same ratio that the fast ball "crippled" baseball.

A NOBEL WINNER

Blood will tell. Dr. Karl Landsteiner, winner of the first of the Nobel prizes this season, is known as one of the world's foremost authorities on the red current of life. Maybe he could take a guinea pig apart in the dark and tell who his grandfather was. Anyhow, he says that so far as the blood is concerned an ape is more allied to man than the same ape is to a run of monkeys. Men are not descended from apes, but they may be second cousins at that. Dr. Landsteiner has written quite a bit concerning his specialty, including a work on the etiology of paraxysmal hemoglobinura. That sounds rather Nobel. No wonder he picks up the $46,000 prize. He is one of the stars of the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research, which is doing so much for the health and betterment of humanity. Here is substantial recognition.

DEATH OF GEN. BLISS

The death of Gen. Tasker H. Bliss on the eve of Armistice Day deprives the nation of one of its foremost military men, and one whose assistance in bringing the World War to a successful conclusion is difficult to overestimate. His complete co-operation with Gen. Pershing, when he was Chief of Staff in Washington, provided a smoothly working organization for the American Expeditionary Force, and his services in war time were so noteworthy that Congress prolonged his active service long after he had reached the retirement age. He had served also in the Spanish-American War, the Porto Rican campaign and the Philippine insurrection, with distinction.

Gen. Bliss had much to do with the selective draft act and with putting it into effect with a maximum of acceptance by public sentiment, proving that while a thorough soldier he was able to appreciate the civilian point of view.

Gen. Bliss's body will rest in Arlington Cemetery at Washington, with the highest honors the nation can bestow—honors which are completely deserved. Gen. Pershing's tribute to him undoubtedly expresses the feeling of the nation at his passing.

"The Army loses a great soldier and the country one of its distinguished citizens. He lived his life in fulfillment of the motto of his Alma Mater, 'Duty-Honor-Country.'"

Gen. Bliss graduated from the West Point Military Academy in 1871.

TWO ARMISTICES

Twelve years ago today the World War ended. The celebration of the cessation of fighting is today world wide, and rightly so, for had the great conflict continued civilization itself would have been endangered. Today another armistice is being called for; the President of the United States has asked for a cessation of political and industrial strife that the nation may bend its energies as a a unit to the task of restoring prosperity. If this second armistice is granted, as is promised, the United States will quickly resume its orderly progress toward the goal of high individual well-being.

"The job for the country to concentrate on now is further measures of co-operation for economic recovery," said President Hoover, in a statement not made for Armistice Day, but which, taken with other recent utterances and the announcement of a program which he will ask Congress to carry out, makes an excellent subject for serious thought on this anniversary of peace. Of these other utterances, his plea for industrial peace was among the most notable, made as it was to employees of a company which has had sixty years of production uninterrupted by labor trouble, and which thus furnishes a splendid object lesson to all employers and all employees everywhere.

"Wars between nations, wars between groups within nations, industrial conflicts, all end in what appears to be victory for one of the contenders," said the President on this occasion, "but the real victory arrives only after the battle has been forgotten and when the human nature of both sides meets in a cheerful agreement upon a common solution."

An emergency appropriation for Federal public works is a part of the President's program for the coming session of Congress, an appropriation which will put such construction one or two years ahead of the normal, and it will not be opposed from partisan motives if the promises made by leaders of the Democratic party are regarded as binding by members of that party in the two houses of the national legislature. The three latest Democratic candidates for President, the Democratic leaders in Senate and House, the national chairman and the chairman of the national executive committee joined in it and pledged that party both in this Congress and the next to constructive effort for national welfare.

"To the extent of its ability," said the statement of these leaders, referring to their party, "it will steer the legislation of the nation in a straight line toward the goal of prosperity. . . . It will not seek to embarrass the President of the United States, but will be glad to co-operate with him and with the members of the opposite party in the House and Senate in every measure that conduces to the welfare of the country."

If this means that, in President Wilson's phrase, "politics is adjourned," it may be taken as an acceptance of the President's proposal. The pledge is an excellent one, and if the words are followed by deeds the nation will benefit.

Locally, the President's building-extension plan is expected to mean early construction of the proposed new Federal Building, which will set many men at work and result in great benefit to Southern California business. Elsewhere in Southern California construction which may be expedited includes the Long Beach postoffice, the Pomona postoffice, the San Bernardino postoffice, the Santa Ana postoffice, the Redlands postoffice and the Ventura postoffice. All are on the ten-year building plan. A dozen other Federal structures have been scheduled, but estimates have not yet been filed.

Another Presidential plan, not of local application, will be a request for seed loans for farmers in the drought area.

Private enterprise, of course, will be stimulated by these government expenditures, but that is not enough. The President wants more than party co-operation to restore prosperity; the situation requires the utmost of business co-operation also and the co-operation of the public as well. The latter can help by increasing its purchases, where its finances enable it to do so.

The armistice of 1918 was of immense importance and there is no intention here of under-rating it. But the second armistice is of more immediate consequence.

WHEN THERE IS NO PEACE

Purification must precede any general and lasting peace. As long as evil lurks anywhere in the world, there can be no discharge from the war upon it. As long as any nation fosters crime and breeds disease, there can be no armistice.

Quitting for quietude is ignoble. Repealing law to lessen crime but condones evil. Discharging officers of the law while thugs are holding up the citizenry is an invitation to banditry. As long as kings and countries run rampant, there must be bluecoats and arms.

We want peace; but not at any price. When our temples are desecrated, then even religion seizes whipcords and cleanses the aisles. When widows and orphans are robbed, then even the gentlest and kindest declare war.

There can be no armistice against vice. The battles against disease-breeders must go on. A war of extermination is not cruel. Chemical warfare against germs and insects may be beneficent.

There can be no pacifism with piracy. Red rebellions must be stamped out. Bombing our buildings and assassinating our workmen is fiendish. Herding our youngsters into atheistic colonies is hateful. When any foreign power sends its emissaries into our land to spread the doctrine of anarchy we will protect our own.

When the price of pacifism is dishonor, paying tribute to vice to be let alone, then red blood knows its task by instinct.

Fighting has never been our specialty. We have no kings who need wars to keep discontent employed to knit it to a throne. Our citizenry is too wholesome and progressive to engage in senseless duels among themselves or with other nations. We are a commercial race. We are a peaceful people. We have enough room to expand without land-grabbing. We have enough resources and attractions within our own confines and do not have to go philandering among neighbor nations.

We want peace. We endure to the point of humiliation ere we take up arms. We think the pen is mightier than the sword. We are disciples of the Prince of Peace. Our Christmas carols are "Peace on earth, good will toward men." Our institutions are stabilized by peace. We go out of our way to avoid war.

But we will not cry, "Peace, peace," when there is no peace!

TREE MEMORIALS

On the Armistice Day of 1923 a movement was started by the Order of Amaranth at Hollywood, excellent in its sentiment and promising much for the adornment of Los Angeles. As part of the celebration fifty deodar trees were planted in the Hollywood Bowl and dedicated as a living memorial to the nation's war dead.

Unfortunately what might have developed into a custom of general observance began and ended with the ceremonies of 1923. Tree-planting in itself is a service of value to any community and no tribute to those their neighbors wish to honor could take a more beautiful form. A green and growing tree must appeal to the sentiment of all as a fitting emblem of the remembrance in which they hold their dead, far more edifying than any designed in cold marble and hard granite.

It is not too late to revive the practice, inaugurated by the Order of Amaranth on that Armistice Day seven years ago. If since the planting of those fifty deodar trees the custom had been followed at every Armistice Day and other patriotic celebrations during the ensuing years, we should have had by this time in the neighborhood of Los Angeles a number of green and sacred groves, not only historic in their associations, but adding to the charm and attractiveness of the city for residents and visitors.

There should be enough public spirit in Los Angeles to inspire societies, organizations and individual citizens to take up the suggestion. We need all the trees that the most vigorous effort can persuade our people to plant and preserve. Deodars, eucalypti, peppers, acacias and redwoods—every tree our terrain will support, we need them to beautify our surroundings.

When it comes to cutting down the trees we already have, there is no dearth of concerted action on the part of the tree butchers. Some day we shall regret it bitterly if the friends of tree life do not show the same determination to keep this country wooded.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.
BY Lee Shippey

YESTERDAY we attended a meeting of the American Legion's Armistice Day committee and got some surprises. An American major-general who commanded a conquering division in the World War was there, and when a sergeant who had been awarded an honor medal was introduced he was first to stand in his honor. A Canadian colonel was there, and when we shook hands with him we noticed that part of his right hand was shot off. A white-haired G.A.R. man was there, with eyes still glowing with fire as the plans progressed. An American war mother was there who seemed to feel that every American soldier was one of her boys. Privates, noncoms, second looeys, captains, majors, all met on terms of equality and teamwork. For the day they were planning to celebrate was their day—their day of all days in the year.

It made something click in our mind. We suddenly found ourself seeing scenes which were indelibly printed on our memory on the first Armistice Day, the day when Armistice Day was the whole world's day, everybody's day, and we thought that all the rest of our lives it would be our day of days.

A Glimpse of the Front

We were at the front in the Verdun sector that day. We had been there a week. The fighting had been stubborn and terrible. The fields were strewn with dead—French, German and American dead. There had been no time to bury them yet. Our men were sweeping steadily on. The enemy were selling every machine-gun nest, every trench, every hill as dearly as possible, then falling back. No flags had been unfurled, no bugles blown, no drums beaten. All the pomp and glory of war had been discarded. There was rain every day, often twice a day, and the sun had not shown for days. Under sunless skies men had lost their directions. In their desperate advances they had got out of touch with their kitchens. Every night the rain and mud froze in the foxholes and trenches. They were cold and hungry and wet to the skin and they could not walk fifty paces in any direction without seeing dead men, many in their own uniforms. We had helped two men carrying a dying comrade find their field dressing station, because in that wilderness of death they didn't even know where that was. Landmarks had been wiped out by creeping barrages. Once-fertile fields had been so regularly pitted with shell holes that they looked as if they had been prepared for the setting out of orchards. Little towns which had stood there for centuries had been so completely wiped from the map that you could pass through them without realizing towns had been there. The abomination of desolations was over all the land, hundreds and thousands of square miles of it.

Too Good to Be True

The boys couldn't believe that the armistice would go into effect. There had been rumors of it and counter-rumors. The morning of the 11th had started, at 3 o'clock, with a terrific barrage. The same old grim struggle which meant death to thousands every day was on. And the enemy were fighting back as hard as ever. It was nearly 11 o'clock before the glad news went down the line. But even then they doubted.

At 10:59 a boy from Brooklyn—we helped bury him later—whose wrist watch was fast could stand the strain no longer. He leaped from his shell hole with a cheer—and fell dead from a German bullet. A thousand rifles and a few machine guns were rattling in an instant. Men snarling with fury, cursing and full of hate and desperate with disappointment, thought the peace rumors were all a hoax and were wild to be at the throats of the enemy.

And then suddenly a bugle sang—and we knew all was over. For never before in the front lines had anyone heard a bugle at such a moment.

The men went wild with joy. Cold and muddy and wet and hungry, they were the happiest men in the world. They swarmed out of shell holes. Fields and hillsides which a moment before had seemed untenanted, though they belched noise and smoke, suddenly gave birth to armies. In a minute Germans and Americans were fraternizing, trading cigarettes and chocolate for wine and hard German bread. And then they built a great bonfire on the hillside where for weeks no one had been allowed to even scratch a match above ground where its flare might draw fire.

The Day of Days

We got back to Verdun in time to see the celebration there—parades through streets of crushed and ruined houses of a town which had no inhabitants, in which there were no women or children. Dances in the public squares in which Americans, English, French and Senegalese men danced together. Bands playing where no band had been heard for four years, and the bells of the cathedral ringing for the first time in four years.

We got back to Paris four days later—but the celebration there was just reaching its climax. For everyone thought the war to end wars had reached its end. The cost had been terrible, but that achievement was worth it. One generation had been almost wiped out that the world might be blessed with peace forever.

Everyone believed Armistice Day would be the whole world day of days for all time to come.

Lest We Forget

And yet, when it is time to go to the Coliseum this afternoon, quite a few of us will yawn and say: "Oh, shucks! What's the use? I've got some matters of my own to attend to."

WELL, AH WOTS THE USE

It might be well to remember that if it hadn't been for that Armistice Day we might not now have any matters of our own to attend to.

RELATIVITY

By James J. Montague

My old wooden golf clubs I fancied a lot;
They walloped the ball fairly far,
And four, or five rounds in a season I got
A couple of holes under par.
But today I am put away off of my game
By the demons of worry and fret,
I am always a prey to a feeling of shame
That I cannot afford a matched set.
Since they've made clubs of steel the old game is no good
To a chap who must dub 'round with wood.

There is yet quite a kick in my little old car,
Which I bought three or four years ago,
It still serves to carry me swiftly and far
And it goes when I want it to go.
But I'm sad when my neighbor observes with a gloat,
Not to mention a top-lofty mien:
"You never would drive a six-cylinder boat
If you ever had a sixteen."
I regarded my little old car as a whiz
Until after my neighbor got his.

Our radio set was a joy for a while,
The family sat 'round night and day
While the music that came from it served to beguile
The once weary hours away.
And then my rich cousin, alas and alack!
Dropped into a radio store
And, when he returned in the evening, brought back
A set that had seven tubes more.
So contentment I never shall know till I get
An eleven-tube radio set!

LETTERS TO The Times

Thinks Dragnet A Blind

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—[To the Editor of the Times:] It is all very well for your correspondent, Thomas Brown Kouts, who is in favor of the so-called police dragnet in Los Angeles, to say "Your constitutional rights are in a negligible degree violated but you must be liberal minded and generous" but, honestly, is not the dragnet a lot of piffle? Who and what are the police looking for? Would any criminal drive past the intersections that clearly indicate the police are looking for something or somebody, even if they do not know themselves for what? In Los Angeles the real criminals could and probably would dodge such intersections by using the alleys, and who is so naive as to believe they would no do so? Is not the dragnet designed to make law-abiding citizens believe we have better police protection than we really have? In recent months how many criminals have been picked up at night by the dragnet?

Suppose Mr. Kouts were on the way to the railroad station, allowing himself some ten minutes' grace to make his train, and suppose he were detained at several intersections and thereby missed his train, which proved to be costly in a business way. I wonder if he would smile sweetly at the "negligible degree" to which constitutional rights are being violated? Or is it possible that he believes it is wrong for a citizen to want to catch a train that departs at night?

WILLIAM CLYNE.

More About Harry

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—[To the Editor of The Times:] As a recent arrival in California I freely admit that Los Angeles is a great city—at least in the making—and that The Times is its leading newspaper.

But why Harry Carr on the front page? The Times is a modern paper but Carr seems to live, or wish to live in the past. He loves the "old California" and you give him front space to write about it to people who probably would not choose to live in the California of a century ago any more than they would in any semicivilized country of today.

Without the civilization he appears to decry there would be no Los Angeles and no Times and certainly no Columnist Carr.

Put this letter on the front page, Mr. Editor—I challenge you—and see if there are not a few thousand of your other readers who would like to see "Front Page Carr" go away back and sit down!

W. W. MacFARKEN.

Help Via Radio

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have been haunting the Free State Employment Agency, 404 West Ninth street, the better part of three weeks but have failed to land a job. While waiting here this morning it occurred to me that broadcasting stations and telephone companies could do a great deal toward solving the problem of employment for their respective communities if they were willing to tackle the thing intelligently.

It strikes me that if employers stated their actual capacity for employment concisely and broadcasting stations established regular hours for broadcasting these needs in such a way that workers would know when they qualified for a position, this question of unemployment might at least begin to receive an intelligent solution. I give you the idea for what it is worth.

MABEL F. BLAKESLEE.

Por Una Ley De Fuga

CORONA, Oct. 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Harry Carr, in yesterday's Times, spoke approvingly of the "ley de fuga"—Mexican fashion of ridding the country of criminals—when there is not sufficient evidence to convict in a court of justice. I have long favored the adoption of that in this country.

If the Governors of our States would notify the sheriffs and chiefs of police to make out a list of all confirmed criminals and then notify the sheriffs and chiefs that any officer killing one of those persons would be pardoned without the annoyance of a trial, the officers could go out, stick a gun in the suspect's ear and scatter his soul in the air.

By the time a hundred of these bandits, burglars and bootleggers had been disposed of, the remaining would be so good from the scare they had absorbed, that they would develop halos as big as balloon tires.

WILLIAM G. HEWES.

For Home Defense

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 3.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In view of the many home burglaries in early evening I would respectfully suggest that all outside doors of homes and apartments be improved by a small door or window in the center of the door, say eight by ten inches, with a steel grating protecting it. On responding to a call, instead of exposing oneself to drawn revolvers, presented by undesirables, a twist of a finger would slam the shutter in their faces and thus bar them out.

Of course, this is not original. A few homes here and in your city are thus protected, but if the number were greater or the protection was more general, many robberies would be prevented, some lives woud be spared and homes would be more secure. The expense would be slight.

THE FUTILITY OF WAR

BY W. L. Y. DAVIS

The futility of war is apparent. War to end war has been a glaring failure.

China is rent by strife. India is a seething cauldron. South America seems in almost universal revolt. Europe is an armed camp. More soldiers are under arms today than in 1914.

War is futile in matters of glory. The forgetfulness of a nation of its warriors is not consoling. In time of peace Tommy Atkins is supposed to obliterate himself again. This is little comfort—to be forgotten. The drafted are now denied. The blood and mud of the trenches and shell holes cannot be covered by a medal. Veterans of the Civil War have been compelled for decades to decorate their own comrades' graves. The citizen in general has been too pusy picnicking. The path of glory still leads but to the grave.

War is futile in literature. War poems and war songs sprang up and died down as speedily. War romances fade in citizens' clothes. War scenarios were taboo for a while; but they hardly stir feelings of the most patriotic today. The world has run past the bivouac.

War is futile in settling disputes. One struggle leads to another. Hatreds are nursed over against future conflicts. The newsreels are filled with German armies marching to the goosestep. Mussolini is blowing up his chest—and not for holiday. France is jumpy. Russia is hatching nests of bombs. The balance of power in Europe is more sensitive than ever before.

War is futile in finance. Some have thought it created markets and produced good times. But billions of lives and treasure cannot be wantonly squandered without civilization feeling it for a generation. Somebody has to pay the powder man. There are more unemployed in England and Germany than in the United States. The present crisis is not political. There was a financial panic about a decade after the Civil War. Life and property cannot go up in smoke without terrific reaction.

War is futile in ideals. Some have thought we cannot have poetry and romance without the saber. And yet ideals have usually languished in the trenches. There is a letting down and the generation seldom recovers. The threat of crime is hideous. Gangland has the effrontery to offer to make terms to be let alone. We are cowed and bled. We pay tribute in billions to be unmolested. Backwash of war!

War is futile. Armistice must become permanent peace!

TOO MANY DRUNK DRIVERS

BY SUZANNE PEHKOFF

A general impression prevails among the public that the homicide rate has increased in the past few years. High as this rate is, it falls far below that of the year 1913 and its preceding years. They had bigger and better murders then than we have now, with all our gangsters, according to Mark R. Shaw, assistant campaign manager of the Constitutional Defense Committee. The rate for 1929 was 1.6 per 100,000 population, for the country as a whole, as compared with 3.1 per 100,000 for 1913.

Likewise, there was a falling off of almost one-half in the number of assault cases, after prohibition had been in effect for several years. When saloons existed in the land, assaults were frequent among participants in drinking bouts, and the police frequently called in to drag the participants in these battles forth to jail.

The dark side of the picture, however, is the increase in drunken drivers and the numbers of people who meet their death at the hands of these irresponsible gentry. Drunk men are rarely seen on the streets any more, but they are all too common at the wheels of automobiles. Various States have begun agitation for severe prison sentences to be meted out to drunken drivers who cause fatal accidents, instead of the comparatively mild manslaughter convictions at present in vogue. The drunken driver is an unanswerable argument for stricter application of the prohibition law.

IN CALIFORNIA

I've been to the land where the sun shines bright,
Where the moon beams down from its lofty height,
Where fruits in abundance may be found
And many choice flowers bloom the year 'round.
In California.

I've met with friends of the bygone years
So happy, I could scarcely hold back the tears.
They made me feel as they clasped my hand
That I was welcome in the sunny land,
In California.

They recalled old friends and maybe old foes.
It's true, our friends—one never knows,
But these folks I've met in the Western State
Are all as staunch as the "Golden Gate"
In California.

I've met new friends as I journeyed along,
Woven in with a verse and a song.
They made it pleasant and I shall recall
The happy days I spent this fall
In California.

I miss the friends from my native State
And I'll be happy to relate
To them—and oh, the grandeur praise—
Why I'd like to spend the rest of my days—
In California.

WIFE KILLER GETS LIFE IN SAN QUENTIN

Miguel Garcia Sentenced by Judge Fricke After Accused Gives Testimony

Miguel Garcia, who previously had pleaded guilty to stabbing his wife to death, yesterday was sentenced to life imprisonment in San Quentin prison by Superior Judge Fricke.

The degree of the crime was fixed by Judge Fricke as first-degree murder at the close of a hearing at which Garcia testified that he had heard reports his wife had been going with other men during his absence from the city and that he then bought a dagger and went to see her. Garcia admitted striking his wife with his fist, but denied any remembrance of stabbing her.

The woman was found dead in an apartment at 808 Stanford avenue, stabbed twenty-five times, according to officers.

DELAY WON BY DEFENSE IN DOG CASE

Counsel for Two Charged With Cruelty Is Granted Trial Continuance

Trial of Elliott Wall and Melvin Addington on charges of cruelty to animals was delayed yesterday by Municipal Judge Curtis until the 20th inst. The delay was granted at the request of Thomas Bunn, defense attorney, who asked for more time to prepare their defense.

Wall and Addington, both 20 years of age, are accused of beating a dog with a shovel and hatchet. With them in court yesterday was Marie Smith, 21, Compton Junior College student, who is expected to testify in their defense that the dog "threw a fit" alongside their automobile just before they attacked it. Both youths declared they thought the animal had rabies.

Rev. E. E. Wall, father of one of the defendants, issued a statement yesterday charging that the young men are being persecuted by the S.P.C.A.

Mrs. Sam Wong, 43 years of age, mother of Anna May Wong, oriental stage and screen actress, was injured probably fatally last night when struck by an automobile while crossing the street in front of her home at 241 North Figueroa street. She is in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital with a basal fracture of the skull, a broken leg and internal injuries, and, according to Police Surgeon Kirkpatrick, has only a remote chance of recovery.

The car, according to police, was driven by Joe Rondoni, 173 North Daley street. He was released when eyewitnesses told the officers Mrs. Wong stepped back suddenly in the path of his car as she avoided being hit by another machine.

Mrs. Wong's daughter at present is costarring with Crane Wilbur in a New York stage play.

Two Women and Man Jailed for Traffic Fatality

Two women and a man last night were held in County Jail on suspicion of manslaughter charges following inquiry by Capt. Bright of the Sheriff's office into the death last Sunday night of Glenn Maupin, 23 years of age, 520 Stanford street, in a traffic accident at Rosecrans avenue and Hawthorne Boulevard.

Those held are Harry Shifflett, 24, 1233 Trenton street, declared by Deputy Sheriffs Penprase and Gray to have been the driver of the car in which Maupin was riding; Maxine Stuchal, alias Maxine Mumford, 21, 6514 Lexington avenue, and Della Potts, 26, 523 East Sixth street, passengers in the automobile.

According to officers, Maupin was killed when he was thrown from the automobile Shifflett was driving when it crashed into the trailer of a truck driven by N. D. Lee, 17, Westminster avenue, Venice.

Inquest into the death is scheduled for tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at the Gilliland Funeral Home in Hawthorne.

PLEA TO CANCEL WAR DEBT MADE

German Financial Expert Speaks at Pasadena

Formerly Was President of Reichsbank

Visitor Honored at Dinner in Athenaeum

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Nov. 10.—Twelve years after the signing of the Armistice the world "still is at war," and will continue to be in a warlike state so long as each leading nation strives for economic independence instead of seeking to fulfill its natural economic destiny.

DR. HJALMAR SCHACHT

This is the message to the American people of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, German financial authority and former president of the Reichsbank, which corresponds to the Federal Reserve Bank, who addressed a capacity audience this afternoon in the Community Playhouse.

"What the world needs most to regain prosperity," he asserted, "is economic unity, and this cannot be attained through additional political pacts or tariff barriers, but by contact and increased understanding between the economic experts of the larger countries."

WANTS DEBTS CANCELED

The German war debts, loss of her colonies, and the attempts of many small countries which won independence in the war to make themselves economically independent by artificial means were cited by the speaker as contributing causes to the business depression. Instead of following out the present tendency of breaking up the world's economic machine into smaller parts with resultant increased friction, Dr. Schacht believes that the entire world should function as an economic whole, with each country realizing its specialized possibilities.

"I believe that this cannot be done by Socialism or Communism," he declared, "but by intelligent action on the part of the individual leaders of each country. The point is that we must stress good economics rather than questionable politics.

"You in America won the war, and it is to the victors that the world must look to settle the war debts. Strike out these debts, forget the past and let's start anew, because that is the only manner in which real peace can return!"

HONORED AT DINNER

The reason the United States is prosperous is due to the fact that you have a single unified market consisting of 125,000,000 consumers. If the United States were subdivided, your prosperity would vanish, just as it has in parts of Europe, where natural economic wholes were cut into parts by the Versailles Treaty.

Dr. Schacht was introduced by Dr. William B. Munro, professor of history and government at the California Institute of Technology.

Other "shots" in the film show the plane DO-X hopping off on its projected trans-Atlantic flight, the thoroughbred Equipoise winning the $50,000 Futurity and a round-up of Thanksgiving turkeys at Lancaster, Cal.

The schedule may be obtained by phoning Newsreel Book at REpublic 3171 and inquiring about Newsreel No. 90.

Coast Sites for Sea Radio-Phone Stations Picked

Sites for radio stations for telephone service across the Pacific Ocean have been purchased by the Trans-Pacific Communication Company, Ltd., a subsidiary of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, according to a report received by M. L. Stannard, division manager of the Southern California Telephone Company. The transmitting station is to be located at Dixon, near Sacramento, and the receiving station at Point Reyes, northwest of San Francisco on the coast. Service between the United States and Hawaii is scheduled for January, 1932.

Stannard described the step as the first move of the Bell system in its plan to connect the United States telephone network with far-eastern countries in or bordering on the Pacific.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

Of more than usual interest is the announcement made this morning of the approaching marriage of Miss Jeanne Franzi, daughter of Mrs. Bianca Franzi of 6436 Lindenhurst avenue, to Lieut. Edward Vincent Dockweiler, U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Isidore Bernard Dockweiler of 2321 South Figueroa street, the ceremony to take place Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Vincent's Church, Figueroa and West Adams streets. Rev. Martin O'Malley will officiate at the ceremony and nuptial mass. A wedding breakfast at the I. B. Dockweiler home will follow the ceremony.

The bride, who was graduated from the Sacred Heart Convent in St. Louis, has made her home here for the past three years. Kathleen Franzi will assist her sister as maid of honor and only attendant. Henry Dockweiler will serve his brother as best man.

Lieut. Dockweiler, who graduated from the Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1924, is detailed at the navy yards in Bremerton and after a brief wedding trip the couple will go there to make their future home.

J. H. Strathy will give his niece in marriage.

Benefit Bridge-Tea

A benefit bridge-tea at the home of Mrs. Frederic Beall West, 225 Lafayette Park Place, tomorrow afternoon will be sponsored by the Kenesaw Mountain chapter of the Daughters of the Union, 1861. As this is the only large affair given by this chapter, a number of delightful features have been arranged. Mrs. West will be assisted by Mmes. T. Swight Brigden, H. Kenyon Burch, Clarke Stull Smith, E. Milton White and members of the ways and means and courtesy committees.

Another Betrothal

Formal announcement is made today by Mr. and Mrs. Nelson William Cowles of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Merrill Cowles, to William Langdon Horton. Both the bride-elect and Mr. Horton are attending the University of Southern California, where the former is affiliated with Pi Beta Phi and the latter is a member of Kappa Alpha. The wedding will take place the latter part of January, 1931.

Honor Guests

Mrs. Henry Taylor Staats of Pasadena and her house guest, Mrs. A. De Trava of New Orleans, will be honorees at an affair to be given tomorrow by Mrs. Eliot Worcester Field, who will take her guests to hear Miss Lila Van Kirk in the first of a series of talks on Italy in the East Indian Room of the Ambassador, sponsored by Miss Virginia Wood. Mrs. Field will entertain the group at luncheon in the Spanish patio. Covers will be laid for the honorees, Mrs. J. Chris Lange of Paris, France; Mrs. Van Buren Curtis of Boston, Mrs. Vincent Morgan, Mrs. Clark Stanford, Miss Maude Schartz and the hostess.

Mrs. Charles Robert Hite will entertain another group at the lecture and at luncheon, including Mrs. Arthur Tinne, Mrs. Clifton Herd and Mrs. Curtis Crellin. Other hostesses on this occasion are Mrs. Charles Jeffras, Miss Dorothy Collins, Mrs. Hunt Stromberg, Mrs. George Benjamin Hull, Mrs. John Ford and Mrs. Abraham Lehr.

Here and There

Glendon Rudge and Howard Benedict of Vancouver, B. C., were the recent guests of their aunt, Mrs. May Stapledon of the Hollywood Knickerbocker. Short visits were made to La Jolla, San Diego and Augua Caliente during their stay in the Southland.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Rosenberg were guests at the Hotel Canterbury, San Francisco, recently. Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Rosenkranz and Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Thompson, who motored to Palo Alto for the football game, remained at the Hotel Canterbury while on a short visit in the Bay City.

A recent visitor in the Yosemite was King G. Gillett, 1258 North Crescent Boulevard. He made the Ahwahnee his headquarters and enjoyed motor trips to Glacier Point and to the Mariposa Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. George Frederich Klipfel, formerly of Detroit and Columbus, O., announce the arrival of a daughter, Dorothy Louise, born October 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Marston returned from Europe recently to their winter home, 454 South Windsor Boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brent Banning, Jr., of McCadden Place are being welcomed home after a visit to Hawaii.

Social courtesies are being extended Mr. and Mrs. Isidor B. Dockweiler, who have just returned from a European trip.

Following a month's visit at the home of Mrs. Katherine de R. Seaman in Del Monte, Mr. and Mrs. John Weed of Hillsboro, N. C., have left for New York.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Woodbury have returned to the Hollywood Knickerbocker after a visit in Palo Alto with their son Rollin, who is a student at Stanford. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis of the Knickerbocker are visiting in Springfield, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Nance of the Knickerbocker have left for their winter home in Kansas City. Mrs. Rose Brisbane of the Knickerbocker was hostess recently at a delightfully informal dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Miggins.

Mrs. G. N. Spencer of the Arcady left the 4th inst. for Mexico City, where she will visit for three weeks.

Honors Visitors

In honor of Mrs. Thomas Richie Ponton of Chicago, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Glendon Tremaine, and Mrs. William F. Blake of Detroit, house guest of her niece, Mrs. James Prescott, a beautifully appointed tea was given Friday afternoon, October 31, by Mrs. Joseph Wilhert Warren at her home, 2232 Vista Del Mar Place. Mrs. Cooley Butler and Mrs. Edwin O. Palmer presided at the tea urns and assisting through the rooms were Mmes. Floyd Fisher, Herbert Updike, Ada Charles, Glendon Tremaine, Lola Roberts and Miss Robin Jenny. The decorative scheme was charmingly carried out in bronze and yellow with shaggy chrysanthemums and sixty guests called between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock.

For Daughters

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Allin of Walworth avenue, Pasadena, and Mrs. Henry F. Boeckman entertained for their daughters, Misses Maxine Allin and Virginia Boeckman, with a Halloween party Friday evening, October 31, at the La Canada Thursday Club in Flintridge, the evening being passed in dancing and games interspersed by whistling solos by Miss Mary Richardson.

Phil Spenser's orchestra played for dancing and during intermissions four of the guests, Rupert Turnbull, Tony Freeman, Clarence Doutt and Bob Fellows surprised the guests by taking the places of the musicians and playing for several dances.

Presiding at the punch bowl were Mr. and Mrs. Allin, while Mrs. Boeckman had charge of the dancing and program of entertainment. Balloons and serpentine featured the grand march and later flashlight pictures were taken of the dancers.

Home Again

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schilling and son Harold returned recently from a four months' trip abroad, when they visited in Belgium, France, Austria, Germany, and flew over Switzerland in the Graf Zeppelin. Harold has entered Urban Military Academy.

Mr. and Mrs. Schilling are at home to their friends in North Bedford Drive, Beverly Hills.

BRIDE-ELECT GUEST OF HONOR

Her Marriage to Be December Event

[Sturgis studios]

Miss Lucille Umbdenstock

LAST Saturday Miss Helen Pease entertained with a delightfully appointed bridge party honoring Miss Lucille Umbdenstock, who will become the bride of George C. Silzer in December. Assisting the hostess were the Misses Maxine Latta, Dorothy Onions, Doris Wilder, Beatrice Brand, Celeste Ryus and Marjorie Martin. Sixty guests attended the affair and a late supper was served in the prettily lighted patio and gardens of the Pease home. Chrysanthemums in autumn shades provided the decoration of the scheme.

An Armistice Day bridge-lunch for twelve guests will be given in honor of the bride-elect by her sister, Mrs. Maurice Alexander, at her Beverly Hills home.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

MINT COCKTAIL

Drain the syrup from one medium-sized can of sliced pineapple, and cut into small cubes; peel three medium-sized oranges, and cut in small dice, break one-quarter of a pound of after-dinner mints in very small pieces, and one hour before dinner, mix the mints with the diced fruit. Set in the ice box to chill, divide into six cocktail glasses, fill with shaved ice and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

ROAST GOOSE

Clean, wash and wipe a goose and stuff with a dressing made by mixing one cupful of stale bread crumbs with two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one cupful of mashed potatoes, a half a teaspoonful of salt. Half of a medium-sized onion, chopped and cooked until soft in two tablespoonfuls of butter, two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped salt pork, a few grains of cayenne pepper, two teaspoonfuls of finely chopped capers, and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of mace, when well mixed, add one slightly beaten egg. Truss the stuffed goose, place in a roasting pan, add to the pan one chopped stalk of celery, one-half of a sliced onion, one sliced carrot, one-half of a bay leaf, and three whole cloves. Rub the breast when about half-roasted with salt and pepper, then cover with thin slices of salt pork, and bake until tender, allowing sixteen minutes to the pound after the baking starts. Baste five or six times, and twenty minutes before removing from the oven, remove the slices of salt pork.

WALNUT SAUSAGE

One-half a cupful of dried lima beans, one-third of a cupful of bread crumbs, three tablespoonfuls of milk, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of pepper, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of poultry seasoning, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of vinegar, one egg, three-quarters of a cupful of chopped walnut meats, pick over the dried lima beans and soak overnight in cold water to cover. Drain, cover with boiling water and cook until soft. Drain again, and press them through a fine sieve, add the bread crumbs, milk, seasonings, vinegar and slightly beaten egg and finely chopped walnut meats. Shape like sausages and saute in butter until brown on all sides. Serve with fried slices of apple.

DEVIL'S FOOD CAKE

Melt eight tablespoonfuls of grated chocolate in a double boiler, beat three-quarters of a cupful of butter to a cream and slowly beat into it two cupfuls of sugar, then add the melted chocolate, and beat until light and creamy. Beat three well-beaten eggs and add to the mixture, sift two and a quarter cupfuls of sifted flour with one level teaspoonful of cinnamon, four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt. Add the flour mixture alternately with one and a quarter cupfuls of milk, and beat for three minutes. Pour into oiled and floured layer cake tins, and bake in a moderate oven.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

A Few Facts About Lemons

Lemon juice added to the rinse water will give a lovely tint to blond hair.

Lemon juice and salt rubbed on rust spots and then the article placed in the sun rarely fails to remove the stains.

A teaspoonful of lemon juice in a cupful of warm water removes stains from the nails and fingers preparatory to manicuring.

There is no garnish for the fish course so attractive as thin slices of lemon, dipped either in minced parsley or sprinkled with paprika.

A Time Saver

One housewife who has two different sizes of beds, twin and double, has solved the problem of telling her sheets apart by folding the large ones in squares and folding the smaller ones in oblongs. They are put away in this form and she can tell at a glance just where each sheet belongs.

Rough Wood

If you have had an accident to a good pair of stockings by catching them on the roughened rung of the kitchen chair or table, either sandpaper the rung until smooth or wrap it neatly with a piece of adhesive tape. You are almost certain to repeat your accident if you just let the rungs stay that way.

The Growing Daughter

When making wash dresses for the small daughter make a hem of three inches and also make a tuck on the wrong side of the hem for lengthening later. This allowance will surely be enough to keep the dress the right length until it is worn out.

Not a Suspicion

One woman cooks sauerkraut without a vestige of odor creeping into the house by simply using her laundry stove as a means of cooking instead of the gas range upstairs. It simmers away in the cellar all afternoon, but the cellar door is closed and nobody knows anything about it.

Too Darn Much

It is false economy to continue to darn stockings until the darns form corns and welts on the person's feet. As soon as a darn is lumpy it causes trouble and when the stockings or socks get to this stage it is time they were discarded.

Fancy Sandwiches

When making sandwiches of a paste that is bound together with mayonnaise, spread the bread lightly with mayonnaise instead of butter. It will make a more delicate blending and is much more easily spread.

PETER RABBIT HEARS A SONG

There is nothing like a song.
—Peter Rabbit.

Peter Rabbit was feeling out of sorts. There was no particular reason for this. Perhaps it was the weather. For several days there had been no sunshine. The days had been dark and gloomy and the wind raw and cold. Then, too, Reddy Fox had been prowling around the dear Old Briar-patch so much that Peter had been afraid to leave it, which just suited little Mrs. Peter but didn't suit Peter at all. So Peter was feeling out of sorts and was cross. Little Mrs. Peter declared that he got out of the wrong side of the bed, but of course, he didn't, for Peter does not have a regular bed. Anyway, he grumbled and complained and everything was wrong. Even when he did get a chance to slip away from the dear Old Briar-patch to the edge of the Green Forest he still grumbled to himself.

He hoped to find his big cousin, Jumper the Hare, but Jumper was no where about. Anyway, Peter couldn't find him, and this didn't make him feel any better. He wanted some one to talk to, but the Green Forest seemed deserted. So it seemed to Peter that everything was wrong, and a more discontented small person than was Peter Rabbit you never saw.

Suddenly Peter pricked up his long ears. Then he sat up, for it seemed to him that he could hear better sitting up. Anyway, he could look around better. "If I didn't hear some one singing then my name isn't Peter Rabbit," muttered Peter. "It wasn't very much of a song and it was a song. Now, who of my feathered friends would be singing at this time of year? Most of them left long ago for the Sunny South. Besides I don't know any who would sing in the dark at this time of year. I have heard Whitethroat the Sparrow sing in the night, but that wasn't Whitethroat's song and Whitethroat isn't here, anyway.

For a long time Peter sat there listening, but the song wasn't repeated. Finally he squatted down again and discontent took possession of him once more. He didn't even notice that the clouds had broken and a few stars were peeping through. Not even when sweet Mistress Moon appeared and her silvery light made white patches among the trees did Peter take notice. Yes, indeed, Peter was out of sorts.

And then Peter heard that little song again. There was no doubt of it. His ears hadn't fooled him as he had begun to think they might have. That song reminded him of the singing of some of the members of the Warbler family yet was not exactly like the song of any of the Warblers he could think of. Anyway, the Warblers had gone to the Sunny South long since.

The song had seemed to come from near an old partly rotted stump or from the stump itself, Peter wasn't sure which. He looked eagerly for a glimpse of the singer, but he looked in vain. He saw no one. It gave him a funny feeling. It did so. But though he had a funny feeling, because that song was new and strange and because he could not see the singer, he no longer felt out of sorts. No, sir, he no longer felt out of sorts. That song had chased the gloom and blues away. Also it had awakened his curiosity, and when Peter becomes curious he becomes happy in trying to satisfy that curiosity.

Peter waited expectantly for that song to be repeated. He waited a long time. He had about decided that the little singer had gone to sleep when once more he heard that song. It certainly came from somewhere around that old stump. Peter did not move for fear that he might alarm the little singer, but he looked and looked and looked. Alas, all his looking was in vain. Not a bird was to be seen. Peter had no more idea than before who that singer might be. With the passing of every minute he became more curious. Who could that singer be?

Bay City Seeks Cannon's Arrest

Instructions to arrest and hold Maj. Richard M. Cannon, 38 years of age, son of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Church, on a check charge were received yesterday by the Sheriff's office from Chief of Police Quinn of San Francisco.

Deputy sheriffs of the fugitive detail have been seeking Cannon, who formerly lived in Los Angeles, for several weeks at the request of Sheriff Shay of San Bernardino on a similar accusation. The officers reported that Cannon now is in the East.

BEAUTIFIERS TO MEET

The Los Angeles League of City Beautifiers, formed recently to encourage tree planting and other artistic developments, will hold its first formal meeting tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. at the Biltmore. Olga Shuey, president, will outline the organization's plan for co-operating with the City Park Commission, and a musical program will be provided by Mme. Emma De Zaruba, president of the Pleiades Club, and Gage Christopher, song leader of the City Club.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

IF YOU DO CATCH A COLD

If you have already caught a cold you will not only want to know the quickest way to get rid of it, but you will also want to use a method of treatment which is least likely to bring on complications such as pneumonia, bronchitis, tuberculosis, discharge from the ears and a generally rundown condition which may follow severe colds.

When a cold has started, the best plan is to assist the body in opening up all the channels of elimination. Large amounts of water should be taken in order to thoroughly flush out the kidneys and carry away excess wastes from the colon. The activity of the pores of the skin should be increased by several sponge baths daily, or through inducing copious perspiration.

A sweating treatment is probably the best method to be used to get rid of the toxins which exist during a cold. After taking a thorough enema, the patient should then take a hot bath for fifteen to twenty minutes and get into bed using only covering for the body which are made entirely of wool. Hot water bottles should be placed at the foot of the bed, and several woolen blankets used to cover the patient. He should be tucked in or pinned in so that no air enters under the cover or around the shoulders. A nurse should then prepare an infusion made by pouring hot water over a grapefruit which has been cut into pieces. The skin and all should be used, a quart of water to each medium-sized grapefruit. The steeping process should be done in an earthenware jar or enamel pan. After the liquid has been allowed to stand for twenty minutes, the patient should be given four to eight ounces at a time every thirty minutes.

The patient should be induced to sweat for as long as necessary until there is no abnormal temperature, and the sweating should not be interrupted for any reason during the first hour or two. As soon as the temperature is normal and patient feels relieved, he should be changed to warm, dry clothing, but kept covered for several hours. It is better to wait a whole day after the cold has gone before the patient takes much exercise, but from then on it is important to increase the exercise each day in order to gain strength.

When you have a cold it is a good plan to use soft tissue handkerchiefs, as these may be easily burned and a clean one used each time.

Do not make the mistake of feeding a person with a cold. The grapefruit infusion, orange juice or hot lemonade is all that is needed. One with a cold should drink plenty of water. Twelve glasses a day are not too much. After the cold has disappeared the patient can then use a well-balanced diet, but should avoid too much starch for a while.

A similar treatment to this may be used if you feel that you are getting influenza. With this type of treatment your system will be thoroughly cleansed and you should feel better than before.

GEOLOGISTS WILL SPEAK

Dr. Arthur J. Tiege, chairman of the department of geology of the University of Southern California, will talk on "A Revision of the Pliocene and Pleistocene of Southern California," at an annual program in geology at the California Institute of Technology at 8 p.m. today.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

DON'T STUFF CHILD WITH UNDESIRABLE KNOWLEDGE

Nothing pleases the young mother as much as an exhibition of her young hopeful's store of knowledge. All her friends are treated to Jimmy's recitation of numbers or ABC's and his uncertain stumbling when she pleads, "Don't you know who jumped over the moon, Jimmy? Now tell mother!"

The parrot-like recitation of words or numbers which have no personal meaning is not only valueless but sometimes injurious to the child. He often learns things which have no place at all in our modern systems of education and which are a waste of time and effort.

UNWISE POLICY

The following letter from "Young Mother" is somewhat doubtful of the policy she has embraced. She says: "Perhaps you will tell me honestly if I am doing wrong. My boy is 3½ years of age and I give him lots of sleep and play and still manage to teach him. He spells short words like rat and top and cat and can tell me the names of everything he sees. He listens to his own heart beat and discovered it for himself. He says his ABC's and can count up to ten.

"Am I giving him too much for his age? I do not force this upon him, but when he is not busy I go over with him the things he can spell. When he knows them I tell him that for being a smart boy I'll teach him another word."

I can't tell you how deplorable I think this all is. In the first place, we no longer teach ABC's, but give the child a whole word to learn. When he is older he can pull the words apart and find that they are made up of single letters, but what is really helpful in learning to read is not the consideration of words in terms of their parts, but always as a whole. Spelling comes even later. What can the repetition of these letters mean to him? You might as profitable teach him nonsense syllables; they would be just as useful to him.

MALADJUSTED CHILD

If the child is crammed full of knowledge before he gets to school what is there for him to learn in school? He'll be bored to tears because he already knows it all and if he is pushed into the next grade because he knows the word he is an unhappy and socially maladjusted child. This is the real injury we do the child.

Spend your time in teaching your boy how to use his hands. Inculcate and solidify good sleeping and eating habits. If he has learned how to dress himself, to keep himself tolerably clean, to have good table manners and is alert and interested in using his hands and his larger muscles, he is ready for the work that only school can give him. Answer his questions, talk to him in an intelligent and adult manner. Read to him, but let him learn naturally by such methods, do not stuff him with knowledge that is of no use to him.

HEALTH WORK DEMONSTRATED

Health education classes at the Young Women's Christian Association, 941 South Figueroa street, are giving demonstrations this week of their courses in gymnastics, swimming, tap dancing and other exercises calculated to overcome physical handicaps. A previous announcement stated erroneously that the demonstrations would begin next Monday. The doors of the institution will be open to women visitors every day this week from 5:30 to 9 p.m., and from 10 to 11 a.m. today, Thursday and Friday.

CLUBS SET TABLES IN TOURNAMENT

BY OLIVE GRAY

The first of a series of table-setting contests took place at Barker Brothers' yesterday. Breakfast tables were first in order, each table being laid by a chosen committee from several of the women's clubs of Los Angeles and vicinity.

Points entering into the contest were: General effectiveness, beauty of color scheme, originality and correctness of detail. All articles for the tables were selected from merchandise in Barker Brothers' store.

The prize of the day was awarded to the Los Angeles Women's Advertising Club, a committee from several of the Los Angeles newspapers acting as judges. Names of the clubs were withheld until after the awards. The prize was a silver flower basket. The president of the Los Angeles Women's Advertising Club, Mrs. Helen Cooper, and Mrs. A. Honeywell represented the prize-winning club.

The winning table was in tones of orchid, the china enlivened by bouquet tints, perfecting a harmony that extended even to the rug beneath the table and the upholstery of the chairs.

Each day this week tables for different occasions will be laid, prizes going to the winning club of the day, and on Saturday next the grand prize, a chest of 1847 Rogers Bros. silver plate, will be awarded to the club winning the most points for the entire week. On the occasion of the final presentation Mme. Rachelder, adviser for the International Silver Company, will give a talk on correct use of silver for all occasions.

Clubs participating in the table-setting tournament are: The Santa Monica Bay Women's Club, Twentieth Century Club of Eagle Rock, Echo Park Mothers' Club, Highland Park Ebell Club and Los Angeles Women's Advertising Club.

Today luncheon tables will engage attention. Bridge tables will be featured tomorrow, formal dinner tables on Thursday, tea tables on Friday and buffet supper tables on Saturday. Flowers for the tables are furnished by Steffens.

Much interest is evinced in the contests, the main aisles of the first floor at Barker Brothers' being thronged with spectators for yesterday's event.

"A medley of never-to-be-forgotten songs—"Tipperary," "Buddy" and "Pal of Mine"—musical presentation of O'Hara's "Guns"—A Columbia highlight—KHJ and KNX at 7:15 tonight.

When President Hoover speaks to you this morning—KHJ and KFI at 8—it will be at the opening of the Goodwill Congress of the World Alliance.

KFI's Memory Jane—9:30 tonight—the Kickapoo Indian Medicine Show comes to Goshen Center.

KHJ's Joe and Vi—they discuss the nation's prosperity—and will tell you "What's Wrong With the Country"—Joe is prepared to be a "bull" and risk $20,000.

The last episode of KMPC's serial mystery—"The Red Chattala"—9 tonight—a floating madhouse—fiends at last dissemble.

"A musical reverie that leaves listeners in that quiet, peaceful mood best suited for a good night's sleep"—KFWB at 9:30 tonight—"Land of Dreams"—A United chain program.

Devotees of the memorial concerts over KHJ—8:15 tonight—will hear the first of a new series—musical dramatizations of historic objects—always excellent popular and concert music.

And that is Armistice Day on radio.

ORATORICAL DIRECTOR ON VISIT HERE

Chief of International Contest at Bedside of Father in Hospital

Randolph Leigh of Washington, director-general of the International Oratorical Contest, arrived here yesterday for a visit with his father, Armistead C. Leigh, of 1174 Victoria avenue, ill in Good Samaritan Hospital, and will remain pending the elder man's recovery.

Twenty-four nations will participate in the contest in 1931, Leigh stated. The event, he added, has been made part of the school curriculum in a number of cities and is gaining continued support from boards of education.

On his arrival here Leigh received word that the District of Columbia School Board has passed a resolution commending Edmund Gullion, Washington High School student, for his victory in the 1930 contest held last month.

Herbert Wenig of Hollywood, and Gullion are the only American students who have won in international competitions. Wenig, representing Hollywood High School, won the contest in 1925.

Blind Man's Dog's Bravery Wins Medals

Valor and fidelity being a constant challenge to the human heart, even when displayed by a dog, an important Los Angeles society, acting as agent for a kindly woman in the East, has bestowed a silver medal on Almo von Eckenweiler.

Almo is one of those dogs known as "His Master's Eyes," being trained to lead the blind. His owner is W. A. Christensen of Los Angeles, who is blind.

On September 8, last, Mr. and Mrs. Christensen were trapped in a fire in the Key Route Inn in Oakland. Almo led the couple through the suffocating smoke to a window where there was a fire escape.

The medal was awarded Almo by Mrs. Diana Belais, president of the New York Anti-Vivisection Society, and has been presented by Mrs. Marion Kirkeby, president of the Animal Welfare League of Los Angeles, it was announced yesterday.

SPEEDWAY DEATH HELD ACCIDENTAL

Death of George Cline, 12 years of age, of 1147 Lillian Way, Glendale, Sunday afternoon when a racing car on the Ascot Speedway crashed into a fence, yesterday was declared accidental by a Coroner's jury. Testimony at the inquest, conducted at the Coroner's office, disclosed that the machine, driven by Chester Gardner, 8723½ South Hoover avenue, tore away a portion of the fence, which struck the boy and fractured his skull.

CHEST ARMY TO PUSH DRIVE

Armistice Day Will Be Devoted to Effort to Swell Totals for Report at Tomorrow's Rally

Fifteen thousand unpaid volunteer workers of the Community Chest will observe Armistice Day by getting in all the additional subscriptions possible to report at the Wednesday noon meeting at the Biltmore. Practical application will be given the old axiom "The Better the Day the Better the Deed." Headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce Building, Twelfth and Hill streets, will remain open throughout the day for the benefit of workers desiring supplies or information, or those who may have subscriptions to turn in.

Advices received at headquarters are to the effect that team workers were busily engaged over the week-end in calling on prospective donors. Campaign officials direct attention to the rapid gains that have been made in quota percentages by the thirty committees comprising the central division. The personnel of these committees is made up of leading business and financial men. Mayor Porter's "Million Dollar Committee" and its two groups of workers headed by Harry Chandler and Russell H. Ballard, are engaged in a friendly but spirited contest. Ballard's group held the lead until last Wednesday when Chandler's committee made a gain of more than 30 points in a single day and now is setting the pace. Other committees of the central division have indicated their determination to reach their respective quotas, and substantial gains are expected by next Wednesday.

Chairman George W. Dryer of the business division, and Fred Seaver of the industrial division, both signify their intention of registering 100 per cent returns before the campaign closes. Mrs. Albert C. Crutcher of the residential district declares her forces are giving hearty co-operation. She is urging all divisions to work hard to complete their calls on prospective subscribers and turn in completed reports at the earliest date possible.

SHEFFIELD ON TRIAL AGAIN IN DECEMBER

The retrial of M. B. Sheffield, former Los Angeles police officer, accused of bribery and extortion, has been set for December 15, next, according to the records of Superior Judge Schauer's court. After his conviction, Sheffield won a new trial in the higher courts upon charges of misconduct of the case by the District Attorney and errors by the court.

GIRL MUST PAY LIBERTY FOR FINERY

Aileen Shook Sentenced to Six Months in Jail Before Probation

Six months in the County Jail is the price that Miss Aileen Shook, 19-year-old San Diego girl, must pay for her love of finery, Superior Judge Schauer ruled yesterday in granting the girl's application for probation on a forgery charge.

Miss Shook, who is a daughter of a former Federal bankruptcy referee in San Diego, was charged with forging merchandise orders on Los Angeles department stores. She pleaded guilty to one charge involving clothing valued at $25 and asked for probation.

Judge Schauer also ordered the girl to complete a course in business training when she finishes her jail sentence. The sentence is to date from October 27, last, the date the girl pleaded guilty to the charge.

OFFICER ACCUSED OF ATTACKING GIRL

COMEDIENNE OF STAGE IN FILMS

Charlotte Greenwood Cast in Universal Picture

Monroe Owsley Signs Long Contract With Lasky

Leni Stengel Gets Vampire Role in Radio Film

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Charlotte Greenwood isn't to be allowed to depart from Hollywood. While busy nightly at El Capitan Theater in "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," her days are spent working in pictures for Christie.

CHARLOTTE GREENWOOD

But this isn't all. Following the run of the stage comedy, it is on the cards that Miss Greenwood will be featured in two pictures.

One is a feature-length comedy for Christie, the other the comedy, as yet untitled, which John Murray Anderson will direct for Universal.

In the meantime, the two-reel pictures in which Miss Greenwood has starred for Christie have proven successful wherever released.

MONROE OWSLEY TO STAY WITH LASKY

Paramount has decided that Monroe Owsley is too valuable an artist to lose. The organization has therefore signed him on a long-term contract, we learned yesterday.

In the meantime he has been assigned by Paramount to play opposite Claudette Colbert in her next starring vehicle to be filmed in New York.

LENI STENGEL WINS R.-K.-O. VAMPIRE ROLE

Once launched on her career of vamping, Leni Stengel, foreign actress, is sailing right into some of the most desirable parts obtainable at the Radio picture studios.

LENI STENGEL

Miss Stengel was yesterday awarded a featured feminine role, that of another vamp, in "Assorted Nuts," the latest Bert Wheeler - Robert Woolsey fun production, according to the announcement yesterday of William LeBaron of R.-K.-O.

Dorothy Lee once more plays opposite the comedians and Edward Cline is directing.

Universal Picks Leads

TIM McCOY

Leads were yesterday chosen for "Heroes of the Flames," the newest serial to be launched at Universal City.

Tim McCoy was chosen as male lead, while pretty little Marion Shockley, a newcomer, has been given the feminine lead. Miss Shockley is said to be an excellent horsewoman and all-round athlete.

But, more than that, she gives promise of becoming a very fine actress, according to reports received about a Universal comedy in which she has played the lead.

Miss Shockley's name is to be changed, by the way, after which there is a likelihood that the young lady will be signed on a long-term Universal contract. The present is her first important role, bits heretofore having been her lot.

Bakewell Wins Test

That very clever juvenile, William Bakewell, is likely, we learn, to land the best role of his career.

This role is the juvenile lead with Joan Crawford in her next Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle, "Dance, Fools, Dance."

Bakewell has just finished the juvenile lead in "The Great Meadow" for M.-G.-M., and was given a film test yesterday for the Crawford picture. He has played featured roles with most of the major film companies.

Jack Trent Wins Role

A young actor who has been slowly winning his way in the films is Jack Trent.

Trent has been playing featured bits in pictures, but yesterday won a real part, when he was signed by Paramount to play in "Dishonored," Josef Von Sternberg's new production.

Anna Nilsson to Travel

Anna Q. Nilsson, after her long illness, is gradually getting rid of her canes and crutches and, further, is to take a trip to Europe to visit her parents, we learned yesterday.

At the height of her career, some two or more years ago, Miss Nilsson received a fall from a horse while riding, and she has been invalided ever since. Now, however, she is making a brave recovery.

The actress expects to spend the holidays with her parents, and then come back to Hollywood.

George Arliss Here Soon

George Arliss has decided not to return to the stage at present, but to give all his attention to pictures. He will therefore return to Hollywood and Warner Brothers' studio on January 1, to begin work on his next starring vehicle, "The Ruling Passion." He is still in England,

THRILLER DE LUXE AT VINE

"Green Bottle," Weird, Chilly Mystery Meller, Receives Premier

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

B-r-r-r-r! This time the plot IS thick! And there are clutching hands, mysterious papers, menacing oriental villains, knives, guns and everything to make of "The Green Bottle" delightfully nightmarish evening.

"The Green Bottle" last night arrived at the Vine Street Theater, as the concentrated essence of all the good old movie serials and other thrillers, and at moments the audience did not know whether to laugh or to go into a panic.

The play is a brand-new one. It was written by John T. Murray, in collaboration with Ernest Young, and they apparently haven't missed a thing calculated to produce the shivers.

The prologue sounds like the battle of Vimy Ridge. The first and second acts, or at least the latter of the two, literally bristle with suspense-filled situations, and the third act would make even a Fu Manchu turn jade with envy.

What with all that happens on the stage, one would unquestionably feel like giving the palm of real praise to this melodrama. It might be said to justify itself, too, in furnishing ample spooky entertainment.

The second act of the play is carried out with a degree of craftsmanship, and really keeps up very considerably the tone of excitement. The third act, too, has a succession of film serial thrills. And the prologue what with the Chinese revolution evolving full blast off stage, is plentifully dynamic.

Lest you should be curious about the significance of "The Green Bottle" itself one might note that it is supposed to contain a paper, on which is written a formula giving the secret of the atom. Whoever possesses this secret could become a world ruler. The bottle is such a nimble affair during the three acts that nobody has the chance to essay the job unfortunately.

The trouble with this piece is that it seems to be something of a conglomeration of mystery ideas, and an echo of other thrillers that preceded. Fu Manchu is not the only familiar picture suggested in the plot. There is a touch of "The Bad Man," and even of the good old "Bat" in a situation or two.

Those who do heavy duty in the play include principally Oscar Apfel as the Chinese villain, Bobby Clark as a comical cockney, Al Bridges as a caballero from Mexico, Boyd Agden as an eccentric scientist.

The ladies of the cast are Nita Cavalier, Constance Dawn and Frances Morris. Arnold Gray, John Alexander, David Sherwood and Gordon DeMain appear. Very good is the acting of Wing who plays a Chinese servant. Apfel, Clark and Agden merit particular credit for their efforts. George Sherwood's staging of the play is excellent.

Bootlegging and smuggling enterprises also are involved in the plot, but then they are of secondary importance. Any way, you can prepare for a real blood-curdling two hours and a half if you go to see "The Green Bottle." Some of its comedy may be unconscious, but hat's nothing to worry about either.

Brenon Seen in Comedies Back in 1904

That Herbert Brenon, motion-picture director now making "Beau Ideal" for R.-K.-O. Radio Pictures, was playing light comedy roles on the stage in 1904, was disclosed when he met Joseph DeStefani, stage actor, during a rehearsal recently.

DeStefani recalled that Brenon was the light comedian and he the juvenile in "Duchesse DuBarry," when it was presented in 1904 at the Elysium Theater in the French quarter of New Orleans.

After several months of repertoire work together their paths separated. Brenon went to Hollywood and fame, and DeStefani remained on the boards. DeStefani, who is playing a supporting role in "Beau Ideal," recently completed a three-year engagement with Henry Duffy.

Huston Plays New Type Role

Following his portrayal in the stellar role of D. W. Griffith's "Abraham Lincoln," which is said to have caused a sensation wherever released, Walter Huston is creating an entirely different personality as Warden Brady in "The Criminal Code," now being recorded in sound and shadow at Columbia studios. This is a composite character molded by the actor, it is said, from several personalities of the public-official type whom he has come upon in his wanderings.

"HER WEDDING NIGHT" NEXT AT BOULEVARD

With the screening of Clara Bow's latest starring vehicle, "Her Wedding Night," for a three-day run at the Boulevard Theater Thursday, a new policy will be inaugurated. Two complete changes of program will be shown each week. The regular change dates will be Sunday and Thursday.

DOUBLE BILL AT BARD'S

In addition to Jack Oakie in "Let's Go Native" Bard's Eighth-street Theater is this week also presenting "Sins of the Children," with Robert Montgomery, Louis Mann, Leila Hyams and Elliott Nugent. A short subject, "An Irish Fantasy," is also on the program.

PICTURE RETITLED

Actress Collects More Laurels

Sue Carol

FLAMING YOUTH PICTURED

"Truth About Youth," a torrid story of modern youngsters and featuring Loretta Young, comes to Warner Brothers Hollywood Theater Friday for a one week's showing.

The story is said to differ from the usual picture of flaming youth. It was adapted from the stage play "When We Were Twenty-one," by H. V. Esmond, and once served as a starring vehicle for Maxine Elliot.

The picture also serves to bring Conway Tearle back to the screen. David Manners plays the romantic lead opposite Miss Young. The other member of the cast is Myrna Loy, and William Seiter directed.

Winnie Lightner in "The Life of the Party" is the current attraction at both Warner Brothers theaters.

Quartet Opens Winter Season at Beaux Arts

BY I. M. J.

The Bartlett-Frankel string quartet opened its winter season Sunday evening at the Beaux Arts Auditorium with a program of Mozart and Dvorak quartets interspersed with a prelude by Scriabin, an arrangement by Pochon of the Flonzaleys of "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" and a popular serenade by Victor Herbert. The addition of Sylvan Noack in the position of first violin, proved a distinct asset. The audience was of a fair size.

This quartet consisting of Emile Ferir, Nicholas Ochi-Albi, Anthony Briglio and Noack, all members of the Philharmonic Orchestra, is sponsored by Mrs. Cecil Frankel and is playing its second season. For the purpose of spreading the gospel of chamber music, a gospel of which Los Angeles hears far too little, the organization is taking its place with other constructive music ensembles. Its school concerts which are so generously financed by Mrs. Frankel, are especially noteworthy.

In Sunday evening's program the suave violin tone of Mr. Noack and his refined phrasing lent a new luster. Each man in the group is of high rank in the music life of the city. But the position of the quartet as a unit is still in doubt. The quartet lacks unity. The instruments do not blend and the players are not temperamentally at one.

The Scriabin prelude is a rare little gem of modern quartet writing and was more than acceptable on this program. As an American gesture the Victor Herbert serenade, light and tuneful, was gratefully received and encored.

The next concert will be given on the 30th inst.

Marion Clayton Will Play Lead in "Peter Pan"

After a week of denials and counter-denials, the definite announcement that Marion Clayton will play the lead in "Peter Pan" at the Civic Repertory Theater was made yesterday.

MARION CLAYTON

Paul Irving, supervising director of the Civic Repertory, offered Miss Clayton the part early in the season, it is said, but she kept him in suspense until rehearsals were ready to start.

"Peter Pan" will go into production immediately under the direction of Donald Stuart. It will be the third presentation of the current Civic Repertory season, under management of the Bowl Theater Association. The play will run through the Christmas holiday weeks.

Marion Clayton scored a series of successes with the Civic Repertory last year.

New Revue Act to Be Offered

The Million Dollar Theater will sponsor the premiere on Thursday, the 20th inst., of a new revue presented by the Mosconi Brothers of New York and Hollywood.

"Bill Telaak's Revue" is the title of the tabloid feature which will include, in addition to Telaak, such dancers as Mary Dunn, Lucile Day, Maude Taylor and Mickey Green.

NEW FILM PROMISES THRILLS

Harold Lloyd Vehicle, "Feet First," Likened to "Safety Last"

"Feet First," the Harold Lloyd film comedy which starts at the United Artists' Theater tomorrow morning, contains some skyscraper thrills reminiscent of "Safety Last," which the noted comic made in 1924.

HAROLD LLOYD

That "Feet First" has thrills which exceed those of "Safety Last" was evinced recently when this picture was shown to preview audiences, it is said. While the comedian dangled from a painter's scaffold ten stories above the ground, or fell through an awning three stories below, women screamed and men laughed nervously.

"Feet First" includes a strong supporting cast. In it are Barbara Kent, Robert McWade, Noah Young and Alec Francis.

Comedian to Be Guest of Honor

Roscoe Ates, noted film actor who scored in "The Big House" and in "Billy the Kid," now showing at the Criterion Theater, will be guest of honor at George Olsen's club tomorrow night.

For years Ates appeared in vaudeville, where he starred in a stuttering act, assisted by his daughter and a police dog. He was induced by Fox to leave the stage for a part in "South Sea Rose" in support of Lenore Ulrich and after several other successes Radio Pictures tested him for the part of Jess Rickey in "Cimarron." He not only won the part but a long-term contract as well.

FOLLIES TO OFFER "GIRLS OF U.S.A."

"Girls of the U. S. A.," which starts at the Follies Theater at midnight Saturday, is said to offer a combination of comedy, songs, dance and feminine loveliness. Mary Sunde, Verne and Leona White, three noted burlesque dancers, are the featured soubrettes. Pauline Elliott is another who is fast gaining popularity.

Charles Fagan and George Clark, principal comics, are termed proficient and resourceful funny men. Associated in the comedy scenes will be Bob Stanley, straight man, and Charles Breedlove, juvenile. There are forty in the chorus.

TRADITIONS CARRIED ON BY RUSSIANS

Troupe Entertains With Colorful Songs, Dances at Auditorium

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The Royal Russian Chorus gave regal entertainment to a large assembly at the Auditorium last night. The songs, the singing and the dancing were of peasant Russia, strong, expressive, virile and animated. Most of the Russians in the audience, and there were many, responded to the sincerity of these performers with warm appreciation. A vibratory enthusiasm was maintained between the stage and the listeners all evening.

The chorus numbers ran the gamut from street songs to an aria from "Sneguorochka." Many of them were familiar to most of the audience and although the voices were not too refined, the spirit and the command of dramatic situations overbalanced faults. The Princess Slaviansky, daughter of one of the former great leaders of Russian chorus, was in charge. She made a spectacular figure, with a certain majestic mastery of the matters at hand, as she mounted the podium dressed in the jeweled costume of high color which she wore with much dignity. Upon closer inspection she proved to be exceptionally beautiful in face, also. Indeed, the entire company of eighteen was fascinating in appearance and the colors were accentuated by good lighting.

Mlle. Mara played most of the accompaniments and added much to the program with her artistry. A coloratura soloist had a rarely beautiful voice and a typical Russian basso went down to A flat with ease and fine resonance. Unfortunately he was not given a solo.

The dancing was primitive, but honestly characteristic and truly remarkable acrobatic feats were performed. A graceful tribute to America was made in the excellent harmonic singing of "Love's Old Sweet Song" and "Ol' Man River." They revealed the melodic beauty of these folk-songs.

This was a rare evening of real Russia.

SECOND CONCERT OF GIESEKING LAUDED

Walter Gieseking gave his second Los Angeles concert at the Town House yesterday morning under the direction of Genevieve Gray, and many were turned away. Another concert by this great artist has been arranged by Mr. Behymer for Saturday evening at the Philharmonic Auditorium.

Again the audience sat spellbound while Gieseking took his listeners to the high places of art. It is not easy to create a tense, listening stillness in a small, low-ceilinged room filled to overflowing with lovely ladies, but this young German giant achieved it after the first measures of the opening Bach Partita in C minor. His Bach is so uplifting, so illuminated with passionate understanding, that even after the overwhelming beauty of the Beethoven Sonata in C minor and its long variations, another Bach was welcomed. This time it was a Bach suite and it was given as an encore.

One does not often hear overtones in Beethoven, but they were there in Gieseking's Beethoven. The Adagio theme became a hymn of praise under his hands.

Three intermezzi by Brahms and the Chopin Ballade in A flat major were revealed in truth and clarity and with a variation in tone power that was miraculous. A more than usually graceful modern work followed these as an encore. It was "Garden Music" by a composer, unknown in this country, Liemann of Leipzig. The rippling notes possible to the uncanny facility of Gieseking make beautiful garden music, indeed.

"Album Leaf," by Joseph Marx, of strong personality, led the modern group. Debussy's "Engulfed Cathedral," the Ravel "Jeux d'Eau" and the fourth sonata of Scriabin completed the list with a Debussy "Arabesque" as encore. The Scriabin sonata was so tremendous in import as Gieseking portrayed it that one wished to hear a whole Scriabin program played by this master. Truly, such sounds as he made with the indications of Scriabin can well be said to be the language of God.

Pantages Books Chevalier Film

"Playboy of Paris," a comedy romance starring Maurice Chevalier, will be the screen attraction at Pantages Hollywood Theater beginning Thursday. Supporting Chevalier are Frances Dee, O. P. Heggie, Stuart Erwin, Eugene Pallette, Dorothy Christy, Cecil Cunningham, Tyler Brooke and Frank Elliott.

The Chevalier personality and whimsicality is said to be at its best in this story of a waiter with aspirations to "paint the town red" who falls heir to 1,000,000 francs only to find himself tied to his job.

The stage portion of the new bill will be headed by Fanchon and Marco's "Seasons idea," staged by Larry Ceballos. Cecil B. De Mille's "Madam Satan" is the current attraction.

ILLNESS DELAYS OIL LEGAL TILT

Action Involves Millions in Royalties on Wells

Battle Over Kern County Petroleum Acreage

Sudden illness of a defendant in an action involving millions in oil royalties yesterday led to Superior Judge Yankwich continuing for ten days trial of the suit for an accounting of F. H. Weimer and Lester Lipp against Raleigh Whitson, Signal Oil and Gas Company and others.

Whitson suffered a heart attack on the witness stand, and Dr. Edward J. Moffett advised the court that his patient could not continue for at least ten days.

PRODUCING WELLS

The lawsuit involves eighty acres of Kern county oil land, with five producing wells, and royalties to which conflicting claims are made. R. L. Sheehan, who had acquired prospecting rights from the government, transferred them to the plaintiffs. Various interests were assigned Bakersfield men who subscribed $10,000 to enable Whitson to develop the property.

To raise development funds, he assigned certain interests to the Signal company, which bought in the rights of persons who had subscribed to the original $10,000. Signal spent $500,000 bringing in five wells.

RIGHT CONTESTED

The plaintiffs contend that Whitson had no right to transfer any interest without consulting them. Whitson holds that while there was a joint venture between them, the plaintiffs terminated it when they refused to contribute for the development of the property. The Signal company, its counsel asserts, was an innocent purchaser, unaware of any violation of any agreement by Whitson.

The case was transferred from Kern county for convenience. Attorneys John B. Haas and John D. Home represent Whitson, Attorney M. G. Brittan represents the plaintiffs, and Attorney Robert Harms appears for the Signal company.

MAIL PILOTS GIVEN GUNS FOR AIR-MINDED BANDITS

At first blush it would seem rather ridiculous for Uncle Sam to require pilots of mail-passenger planes to carry side arms. For who (besides the motors and wing) is going to hold up an airplane?

Aerial "stick-ups" are still in the realm of fiction, but bold bandits have been known to make off with United States mails on the ground, and the Postoffice Department has undertaken the task of seeing that they don't molest the mail sacks at air terminals.

In consequence, some thirty-odd pilots, stationed at various points between here and New York City on the new line of Transcontinental and Western Air, have been equipped with revolvers and automatics, and all members of the ground crews also are armed whenever there is mail at a terminal.

The guns are not merely ornamental, either. "Si" Morehouse, chief pilot for T. & W.A., demands marksmanship comparable to that of the Los Angeles Police Department. Regular practice is held, and at frequent intervals the pilots stand inspection. Morehouse also demands personal neatness, and when the pilots are least expecting it he lines them up and casts a critical eye on their raiment.

Steckel Upheld in Dismissal of Policeman

Removal from the department of Officer Robert E. Morris by Chief of Police Steckel for "conduct unbecoming an officer" was approved by the Police Commission at a special session yesterday.

According to Steckel, the action was taken because Morris is asserted to have interfered on the 2nd inst. with Officers Cummings and Goldsberry while they were making the arrest at 332½ New High street, of a woman of the underworld, that he was accustomed to drinking while on duty and that he has not paid his just debts.

The commission approved a fine of five days pay imposed on Officer William F. Mole, to be paid in installments, for striking A. M Echols with his fist on October 8 during an argument over a traffic citation.

DEAN TO ADDRESS CLUB

Dr. Mary Sinclair Crawford, dean of women at the University of Southern California, is to address members of the Women's University Club on "Quality of Education in This Country and in Europe," tomorrow at 11 a.m.

Costume Revue Town and Gown Session Feature

A California historical luncheon, featuring a costume revue with native daughters exhibiting gowns worn by their Golden State ancestors, will be given by the Town and Gown Club of the University of Southern California tomorrow in the Student Union. The program is in charge of Mrs. C. E. Norenberg, president of Californiana, society of native daughters, assisted by Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish, Mrs. Charles F. O'Brien and Mrs. A. O. Evans.

Speakers will include Grace Stoermer, Mrs. Florence Dodson Schoneman and Mrs. Byron Thorpe Carr. As guests of honor Margaret Churchill and John Wayne, Trojan alumnus, will tell of their experiences in filming "The Big Trail."

Mrs. R. B. Von KleinSmid is president of the Town and Gown Club.

FAMILY OF DODGE GETS ESTATE BULK

A widow, two sons and a daughter of Albert Dodge of Pasadena, who died the 1st inst., will inherit most of his $173,000 estate, according to the decedent's will, on file yesterday. Myrtle Colton Dodge, 71 N. Meredith avenue, Pasadena, will get the home place. The Masonic Home at Covina will get $1000. The residue goes to relatives.

BASEBALL STAR WEDS CO-ED

Shires Enters Matrimonial League

Jurist Performs Ceremony

Charles Arthur Shires, Washington baseball player, self-styled "The Great," posed modestly before a battery of news cameras yesterday before and after a civil ceremony that made Miss Elizabeth Greenabaum, 18-year-old University of Wisconsin co-ed, his bride.

The wedding was performed by Superior Judge Crawford immediately after the marriage license had been obtained in the clerk's office across the hall from the courtroom. Accompanying the couple was the bride's mother, Mrs. A. L. Greenabaum of Chicago, Eddie Kane and Walter Percival, screen actors; Kate Campbell, actress (in private life Mrs. Percival,) and Al Schacht of the baseball vaudeville team of Schacht and Altrock.

"This is only batting practice," said Shires after the ceremony. "There will be a reach church wedding later. The details have not yet been arranged: I'd rather face Lefty Groves than that preacher, too."

Then the Washington first-baseman, whose colorful career has won him considerable fame, proceeded to pronounce some more "wise cracks."

"This isn't one of those contracts you can void with ten days' notice, is it, judge?" asked the bridegroom as he handed Judge Crawford a $10 bill to close the deal.

"Most of my customers remain tied for life," replied the judge. "And your new boss can't sell you to the minors, either."

"I suppose I'll have to become a hold-out now, with another mouth to feed," the diamond star mused. "Unless they convince me that two can live cheaper than one, eh, what?"

Shires left the courtroom in a hurry, saying he had to get back to the Universal Studio, where he has been engaged to make a baseball picture.

NOOSE USED BY WIDOW TO END LIFE

Thousands in Stocks, Liberty Bonds and Cash Lying Nearby

With bureau drawers in her room stuffed with oil, mining and real estate stock, and with $20,000 worth of Liberty bonds lying on a table, the body of Mrs. Lila L. Greene, 50 years of age, a widow, was found hanging in a clothes closet in a rooming-house which she managed at 613 1-2 Stanford avenue, yesterday morning.

Mrs. Greene had hanged herself some time Sunday, according to Detective Lieutenant Hickey, using a piece of clothes line fastened to a large spike driven into the top of the closet door frame. While no note was found indicating the woman's reason for ending her life, Hickey reported discovery of a will bequeathing all her property to a niece, Mrs. Byron Greene Kline in Leroy, Ill.

Besides the bonds and stock certificates she had pinned to the will government checks totaling $1600, which she had received as interest on the Liberty bonds, and several hundred dollars in cash.

Acquaintances informed Hickey, the latter said, that Mrs. Greene had been manager of the rooming-house for about two years, taking charge shortly after the death of her husband, Charles Greene. Numerous medicine bottles found in the room indicated that ill health might have prompted her action.

Husband's Fist No Beauty Aid

Facials administered by her husband's fist were complained of yesterday by Mrs. Flavia Frances Jones, beauty parlor operator, in winning a divorce from Lewis H. Jones, oil worker. The Joneses married February 12, 1917, and separated May 30, 1923.

Mrs. Jones testified that her husband accused her falsely, punched her, breaking her glasses, and knocked her down. Judge Smith awarded Mrs. Jones custody of her five children, and ordered Jones to pay $50 a month.

Rev. A. Ray Moore Lauds Ministers' Social Value at Methodist Parley

Lauding the value to society of ministers, and pleading for better salaries for preachers, Rev. A. Ray Moore and Frank H. Ballinger, in addresses before Methodist ministers at First Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday spoke in praise of the efforts of laymen to induce the Southern California Conference of Methodism to create a $1,000,000 endowment fund for retired preachers.

Mr. Ballinger told the audience that more than $400,000 already has been raised toward the endowment fund and said that within a few weeks he expects the entire amount will be subscribed. The amount to be paid the superannuated minister will be $25 a year for each year of service in the ministry.

"It is easy for the bishops to tell a young minister to go out and preach the Gospel, without thought of remuneration, but it is not so easy for a man to continue in service, year after year, with barely living salary and without any assurance that he and his family will be cared for in his old days," said Mr. Ballinger.

Special honors were accorded Rev. D. C. McClary, who was 90 years of age last Sunday and who has been a preacher for seventy years. Mr. McClary, who is known as "the poet of Southern California Methodism" responded to the ovation accorded him by reciting several original poems.

C H HAMILTON

C. H. Hamilton, director of the South African Tourist's Bureau in New York, a government enterprise, has just arrived in Los Angeles and will be the guest speaker at the English-Speaking Union's banquet at the University Club Thursday evening. He is accompanied by Mrs. Hamilton.

Mr. Hamilton's subject will be on South Africa, its diamonds, its gold, its great men, its dramatic history, its 5,000,000-acre big-game reserve, its interesting tribes and its amazing railroad system.

Glider to Make New Loop Test

A second attempt to break his own record of seventeen loops in a motorless glider will be made over Grand Central Air Terminal, Glendale at 4 p.m. today, by Lyman Voelpel.

The glider pilot executed fifteen complete turns last Sunday.

Today's attempt will be made in the record-setting craft—the only two-place motorless biplane ever built. Voelpel will be towed behind a powered plane to 5000 feet before being cut loose to start his exhibition.

INVALIDS AT HOME SHOWN FILM COMEDY

For many their first view of talking motion pictures, the elderly inmates of the Mt. Sinai Home for Chronic Invalids yesterday were shown "Check and Double Check" through the courtesy of the Orpheum Theater. The film co-stars Amos 'n' Andy whom the invalids had heard many times via the radio. In addition to "Check and Double Check" the patients were entertained by Frances Wills and Helen Mann, dancers.

All Major Companies on Full Production During Winter, Says Schulberg

An indication that employment conditions in the Hollywood studios will be on the upgrade during the coming winter months is contained in a statement made today by B. P. Schulberg, managing director of production for Paramount, who has just returned from New York.

According to Schulberg all the major studios are planning an active winter production schedule. He states that Paramount has recently purchased four new stories which are to be adapted immediately to the talking screen. Six new feature pictures are to be started within the next thirty days at the Hollywood and New York studios. In addition to the six soon to start, eight now are in production and another eight are being edited and made ready for early releases.

Council Orders Improvement of Boulevard

Continuation of Sepulveda Boulevard to the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle was ordered by the City Council yesterday in directing City Engineer Jessup to bring in the necessary ordinances for the improvement of the artery from Beverly Boulevard to Wilshire Boulevard.

The improvement will include a fifty-six-foot pavement of concrete topped with Warrenite wearing surface at an estimated cost of about $200,000. The job extends about three miles. The Sepulveda tunnel under the crest of the Santa Monica Mountains, with an improved roadway north and south, was opened recently.

OIL PROTEST PLANNED

Permission for the sinking of an oil well on the Grand View Terrace tract, Mt. Washington, will be protested before the City Planning Commission Friday, the 21st inst., at 2 p.m., Mrs. Anna McIlvain, secretary of the Glassell Park Improvement Association, announced yesterday. The hearing will be conducted in Room 360, City Hall.

Coach Otto Klum and his University of Hawaii football squad arrive tomorrow morning following a long ocean voyage from Honolulu. The Roaring Rainbows, as the islanders are called, docked at San Francisco this morning and will go down on the Padre tonight, arriving in Glendale at 9:15 a.m. Klum's charges will stop at the Huntington Hotel and practice at the Rose Bowl in preparation for Saturday's game with Southern California.

BOB HALL

PRAISES PLAYERS

Backing up what he said in a newspaper interview yesterday morning Jones said to his players: "Playing as you did against Stanford and California you were the greatest football team I ever coached." No ifs, or ands, or buts, just a straightaway statement complimenting his charges.

What the Trojans of Southern California, and the Bruins of U.C.L.A. will do to each other for the next three years may be demonstrated out on Spaulding Field, Westwood, this afternoon, when the freshman football teams of the two institutions get together.

FRED OSTER

The Bruins were supposed to have the best freshman team ever assembled on the U.C.L.A. campus, at the start of the present season, and it probably was, at that, although Freddy Oster's yearlings dropped a 21-6 encounter to Stanford in the only really big game they played to date.

Annual Armistice Day Game at Hadley Field

Record Crowd Expected to Watch Struggle

Five Sophomores on Quaker Starting Line-up

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Striving to retain whatever chance they have of taking the Southern California Conference football championship, the Whittier Poets will take the field today an even - money bet to beat their ancient rivals, the Pomona Sagehens.

CHIEF NEWMAN

The Poet-Sagehen game is the feature spot on Whittier's Armistice Day program, and will be witnessed by a capacity crowd at Hadley Field.

Coach Chief Newman's Poets are the only outfit in the conference that has a chance to take the title away from Fox Stanton's Caltech Engineers.

TECH LEADING

While Tech is now leading the conference race with three victories and no defeats, the Engineers still have to meet San Diego State. If the Aztecs should turn in a win over Tech and Whittier win all its remaining games, including today's tussle with the Sagehens, the title would go to the Poets.

However, this afternoon Coach Eugene Nixon's Hens are figuring on not only stopping Whittier's more or less powerful offense, but on uncorking an offense of their own that they hope will be good enough to give them the victory.

While Pomona has scored only one touchdown so far this season, Sagehen fans claim that they will make up for it this afternoon. Last week Nixon's crew exhibited quite a lot of scoring ability in practice, which if repeated today will no doubt result in one or more touchdowns.

The Sagehens' defensive work so

BEARS' MENTOR STANDS GROUND

University President Is Neutral in Fray

Editorial in Newspaper Predicts "War"

BERKELEY, Nov. 10. (Exclusive) Predicting the possibility of an "athletic war," with an investigation into present coaching conditions and conditions generally in other universities of the Pacific Coast, the Daily Californian, official mouthpiece of University of California students, fired the first gun today in a quarrel long brewing, not alone with the undergraduates but with alumni.

"NIBS" PRICE.

The first shot has come from Arthur M. Arlett, editor-in-chief of the Daily Californian, who tears into the entire question of the California football disappointments in the last few years. Arlett offers no solution, but declares in no uncertain language:

"The job must be started and begum at home."

Coach "Nibs" Price, of whom it is asked in the questionnaire if he should be retained, remarked:

"I have absolutely nothing to say, but I will not resign under fire."

Jack McKenzie, assistant to William Monohan, graduate manager, in the absence of the latter, said:

"The matter is one which must be handled by one or both of two sources, the president of the university or executive committee of the Associated Students."

Robert Sproul, president of the university, said: "There is only one thing I can say; that is, I am in complete accord with the students in their belief that the football team is their team and that all problems solely connected with its playing activities are theirs to solve."

The editorial, which has the student body and others arguing heatedly tonight, is self-explanatory and follows:

"Piled high above the ghostly figures of 74-0 lies the record of the California's football aspirations, the hope of students, the faith of alumni and the work of coach and players have all been exploded at once,

WARNER ADOPTS SHIFT

"Pop" Tries Out Notre Dame Movement on Cards; Bars All Scribes From Field

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 10.—"Pop" Warner, for years a bitter opponent of the shift, has been converted.

Supposedly in the privacy of the Stanford Stadium, the "Old Fox" gave his Cardinals their first lesson in the intricacies of the Notre Dame movement this afternoon. Warner had intended to keep the innovation a secret but the news leaked out.

Indignant, Warner declared that from now until the end of the season newspaper men will be barred from Stanford football practice.

"POP" WARNER

Warner's shift, which may make its first public appearance Saturday when the Cards play Caltech, is a combination line and backfield maneuver.

Starting from the usual huddle the Cards today hopped into Formation C, with line balanced and the wing backs inside the ends. A signal, and, presto, a tackle shifted to the other side of the line, the ends moved in close and the backs jumped into Formation A with quarterback and fullback in close and the halfbacks stationed outside the ends.

"Nothing to get excited about," Warner said when besieged by news hawks. "Just a little experiment. I used it once before at Pitt and my Stanford team of 1924 could have used it in the big game of that year if it was necessary."

But on the campus the Warner shift was the cause of a lot of gossip tonight. It was even suggested that 74-to-0 thing the U.S.C. Trojans did to California last Saturday has caused Warner to have a change of heart toward the shift.

WOLFE WHIPS TERRY

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10. (AP)—Eddie (Kid) Wolfe, Memphis, Tenn., outpointed Lou Terry, St. Louis, in a fast ten-round boxing bout here tonight. Both weighed 133. There were no knockdowns.

TROJANS VS. IRISH

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP) — The duel between Notre Dame and Southern California in the Los Angeles Coliseum, December 6, will bring together two of the nation's most formidable elevens.

Notre Dame's spectacular 60-20 victory over Penn and Southern California's crushing 74-0 triumph at California's expense last Saturday affords an interesting basis for comparison of the offensive strength between the two outfits. What advantage there was lay with Southern California.

The Trojans, making twenty-two first downs against California, rolled up the staggering total of 763 yards gained by rushing and passes. Notre Dame, depending almost entirely on running plays, made fifteen first downs against Penn and gained 586 yards.

Southern California gained 474 yards on running plays and the estonishing total of 289 yards on passes of which the Trojans attempted fourteen and completed eight. Notre Dame, finding no trouble gaining through the line, attempted only four passes and none was completed. Three were intercepted by Penn, while California intercepted three Trojan aerials.

The Lumberjacks from Flagstaff arrive here this morning thirty strong for the game. They are one of the strongest teams in the Southwest and in their only other game here to date this season they thumped Whittier College, 20 to 0. Despite that the Firemen on their season's showing to date will rule slight favorites to carry off the honors tonight.

East Still Staggering From Shock of Notre Dame's Decisive Win Over Pennsylvan

SIZE OF SCORE STUNS EXPERTS

Smart Signal Calling and Blocking Cited

Army Praised for Victory Over Illinois

Fesler of Ohio State Hailed as One-Man Team

BY EDWIN B. DOOLEY
Former All-American Quarterback

JACKSON HEIGHTS (N. Y.) Nov. 10. (Exclusive)—The East is still staggering from the shock of Notre Dame's overwhelming victory over Pennsylvania, Army's triumph over Illinois and Columbia's 54-to-0 defeat at the hands of Colgate. Everyone expected Rockne's eleven to beat the Quakers but not by more than a couple of touchdowns. We mentioned in this column a short time ago, that after seeing Pennsylvania's forward wall in action we didn't believe Notre Dame would have much trouble ripping it to pieces, especially with such backs as Schwartz, Savoldi, Carideo and Brill doing the ball toting. But no one ever dreamed of such a whitewashing as Wray's boys received.

Pennsylvania's finely tuned offense, emphasizing as it does, deceptive formations and hidden-ball plays, couldn't get under way because of the fierce charge of the Notre Dame line. The South Benders on the other hand swept through, over, and around Pennsylvania at will. Perfect blocking and intelligent signal calling were two factors that contributed much to Rockne's successful offense. Then, too, Notre Dame's perfect mastery of the shift, its precise execution of every assignment, and its remarkable poise at all times, helped to weaken Pennsylvania morale and win the game for the international Irish.

SURPRISE WIN

Army's triumph over Illinois was, despite the Cadets' successful campaign, something of a surprise. Army had registered a win over Harvard and had tied Yale, but the general opinion among football critics in these parts was that the West Pointers were not a great team. The setback Maj. Sasse's eleven handed to Bob Zuppke's Illinois outfit increases tremendously the prestige of Army in gridiron circles. And yet with all the versatility and power the cadets possess, we feel that Notre Dame will put a bad blight on Army's record.

Colgate's swamping of Columbia is mentioned chiefly because of the nation-wide publicity the New Yorkers received. Last week when they reared up on their hind legs and beat Cornell. Evidently Lou Little has an erratic team at Morningside Heights.

Dartmouth trounced Columbia by 52 to 0; Lion rooters unanimously claimed that score was not a fair criterion of Columbia's defensive power. Intercepted passes helped Dartmouth pile up its total, which otherwise would have been in the thirties. Colgate, however, earned every point and we wonder what Lion fans will say about their team now.

The football war map of this sector shows Fordham and Army moving steadily to the front. There are great teams in the South, like Alabama and Georgia, which are as strong or stronger than the best in the East, but it is difficult if not impossible to determine a reliable medium for a comparison of the respective powers of outstanding teams. Dartmouth, not having been beaten, deserves some consideration when discussing prominent elevens, but the Green team loses some prestige when you consider that it has played only two big games, and won but one of them and tied the other.

Fordham by trouncing Detroit demonstrated once again that it is a remarkably powerful team, and one that St. Mary's or any other eleven will find hard to outclass. Maj. Cavanaugh has been coaching football long enough to know a real eleven when he sees one. He is a realist, if ever a coach was, and he doesn't look at things through pink glasses. And Cavanaugh is convinced that he has a great football team, and he'll tell you so if you ask him. This Saturday the Maroon team faces St. Mary's here in New York, and if the home team can come through it will have established itself as the greatest team Fordham ever had, and will rate in the forefright of football elevens of the country.

LONG TIME COMING

For thirty-two years Lehigh University has been trying to beat Princeton at football. Year after year it sent a team to the Palmer Stadium to meet the Tiger and each time it came home badly vanquished. But last Saturday it accomplished what all Lehigh men thought impossible. It beat Princeton. That makes four straight games which Princeton has failed to win in as many weeks.

Old Nassau's alumni are beginning to get impatient. It's embarrassing to have to keep apologizing for one's team. The trouble seems to be in the coaching. Princeton lacks blocking instruction and has not even a semblance of an intelligently devised offense. It has material, but lacks direction. Consequently it can't cope with its rivals. Its hands are tied and it goes out on the field each week trying desperately to win by sheer pluck and fighting spirit.

When Ohio State ran wild against Navy at Baltimore Saturday and spectators of the State of Maryland were treated to a rare football picture, they saw Wesley Fesler, great conference wing man, do everything a good player is supposed to be able to do. They saw him play a smashing game at end on defense, a brilliant game as an official Ohio State punter. In ten kicks Fesler booted the ball 500 yards. He turned in the longest run of the day, threw two passes that resulted in touchdowns and did more tackling than any man on the team.

Without doubt this phenomenal Big Ten athlete is one of the best players the game ever had. He runs with his weight forward and hits with a terrific forward lunge. Time and again he crashed the Navy line and the driving force of his plunge laid a midshipman out on the ground. All in all Fesler is the greatest one-man team we have ever seen in action.

The SPORT LIGHT
by Grantland Rice

Attack and Defense

A season somewhat remarkable for the growth and development of defensive football play, the attacking power of four teams has been something to talk about. In the first group there are Notre Dame and Southern California. Just back of these you find Alabama and Northwestern. Northwestern has had its full strength only a brief part of the season, but when Hanley, Russell, Bruder and Rentner are all working ,they make up one of the best backfields in the game.

And you might note that all four backfields are lugging the ball back of strong forward walls, who make or break most of the backs. It is a matter of some doubt as to whether any line in the country can quite match Alabama's crimson barricade, headed by "Big" Sington.

Tulane's Chance

Camp followers of Tulane have felt that the Green Wave of the South has been overlooked in the general melee. Tulane has her big chance on Saturday when the unbeaten Georgia team comes to New Orleans after its two northern victories over Yale and N.Y.U., which happens to be one of the big accomplishments of the year.

The Toughest Year

Last fall the Army had a good football team and couldn't win a big game. The same somber fate seems to be chasing Harvard this fall. No team in the country has known such ill luck as Arnold Horween's Crimson squad. Star backs, linemen and ends have been hurt all season. Yet against Army, Dartmouth and Michigan, Harvard's defense has allowed only 20 points. The attack has suffered most from the casualty list, but with something approaching full strength there is still a full share of danger for any team in this Harvard squad.

You can add to the list of 1930 features Fordham's slashing charge in the last quarter at Detroit. Any team that has gone this far without a defeat—dating back to 1928—is under a growing strain each week. Fordham was trailing by 7 points at this juncture. And Fordham had a tired and weary team. But the vital spark came back for a last counter-attack that carried the day. There was more to this in the way of spirit than the mere 13 points can show.

Penn's team discovered that facing a football attack and being struck by lightning are two entirely different details.

BRUIN JUNIOR VARSITY PLAYS DEEP-SEA MEN

The junior varsity football team of U. C. L. A., coached by Cliff Simpson, assistant frosh mentor, will play an Armistice Day battle today on the Navy Service Field in Long Beach this afternoon with the U.S.S. Lexington eleven. The Bruin team will consist of second and third-string football players from Coach Bill Spaulding's Westwood varsity.

MARTINEZ KAYOES WHITE IN FOURTH

Joe Martinez scored a four-round technical knockout over Johnny White last night in the main event at the Culver City Arena. Martinez won all the way and had White down for a nice count in the second round. In the semi-wind-up Speedy Sparks outpointed Bucky O'Brien. Joe Arcienega and John Willis battled to a four-round draw which proved to be the best fight on the card. In the other bouts Manuel Trevino decisioned Al Hamilton. Lawrence Navarro stopped Chick Morris in the second round and Leon Thompson put Art Adams away in the second round of the curtain raiser.

SONNENBERG WINNER

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 10. (AP)—Gus Sonnenberg, recognized by some States as heavyweight wrestling champion, defeated Dan Koloff, Homestead, Pa., in two out of three falls here tonight.

MERCURIES WANT REVENGE

Chafing under a 3-to-1 loss to the Hollywood Sheiks last Sunday, the Los Angeles A. C. soccer team is out for revenge Sunday when they battle the strong Magyars at Loyola Field.

Polo Trophy for Americas Is Sponsored

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 10. (AP)—The American Ambassador, Robert Woods Bliss, has offered a cup for permanent polo competition between the United States and Argentine army teams. The offer was contained in a letter from the Ambassador to Minister of War Medina calling attention to the current visit of the United States team which will contest in the finals of the Argentine open championship against the Santa Paula team tomorrow. The American Ambassador declared such contests serve as a "wholesome means of encouraging good fellowship and mutual understanding." In his reply the Argentine Minister of War accepted the proposal.

Bowling Notes

The Coast Paper Box Company team and the Martin E. Pollard Chevrolets had a hot battle at Jensens in the Major League last week. The Box Company team won 4 points after a close match. The second game was a tie, being won by the Box team in the roll-off by two pins. "Bud" Fisher had the best scores with 236, 211, 223 for a total of 670. Emerson and Harper of the winner passed the 600 mark. Carl Noe for the "Chevvys" had a count of 651. Box Company totals were 1041, 960, 1030, total series of 3031.

David Haney Realtors won two games and totals from the Ben Fahy Fords at Beverly Hills. Joe De Paoli had the best individual total with 615 and Paul De Camp the best game score with 245.

The Luxors, by getting a 1009 count in the second game, managed to get 1 point from the Westwood Recreation team at Westwood. Len Torion, 620, and Freddie Howe, 601, were the only men to get above the six hundred mark.

The Richfield Oil won two games and totals from the Bohsene Westinghouse Radios at Beter's Santa Monica. Harry Lundberg cracked a 641 and Castellistie had a 601 score.

Harold Lloyds won three game and totals from the Ocean Park Pier at the Angeles. The second game by two pins. Gregg's 600 was the best total score. Frank Stuber had the best game score with 235.

The Angelus Academy won the entire series from the Taylor Oil at Pekomans. Harry Miller was high with 617, followed by Joe McNeil, 609, and Mathison, 602.

The Santa Monica Outlook team won 3 points from the Pacific States Life at Venice, and the special prize for each week for the team high score with 1071. Hammond, D. Fles, Welthuis and Johnny Reed bowled better than 600. Reed was high man with 636.

There were seven scores of a thousand or better this week.

EASTERN MERCANTILE

The Fullerton Recreation won three from the Maywood Chamber of Commerce at Maywood. Al Johnson was high man with 599.

W. J. Cox Motor Sales of Whittier dropped three points to the B.P.O.E. No. 1345 at Fullerton. Stern of the "Bills" was the best with 554.

Jack's Fleshelms whitewashed the Alhambra Laundry at Monrovia. The shoe boys were in good form totaling 2731. Humphries led all the way with 589.

Grand Cafe won two games and totals from the Maywood Merchants at Alhambra. Hank Womeldurf had the best total with 601.

Dock Philbrick took his East Side Brew Company team out to Whittier and trounced the Murphys for three points. Phil had a 197, 224, 234; total, 655.

The Grand Cafe team won the special prize for high-team score.

HARBOR MERCANTILE

Earl Becker and his F. E. Wolter Corporation league leading team broke even with the Pacific Gas Radiator team at Huntington Park. However, Earl was not in very good form. Oscar Brown copped the plum for the high individual series with 640.

The Moonstone Alleys stepped on the Mechanical Pattern Foundry for three at Huntington Park. McDonald had the best series for the winners with 624, while Henschen was the best for the losers with 660. Hensch had three nice games with 221, 214 and 225.

But even then, Holtzer bounced right back with a rapid two-fisted assault to the body.

One of the features of the evening was the introduction from the ring of Marshall Duffield, football player de luxe of Southern California. He was given a wild ovation, and then the bugs howled for Orv Mohler. The latter, however, apparently was not in the house.

SORIO STOPS PORTE

Baby Sal Sorio, making a return to the Olympic ring, won by a technical knockout in the sixth round from Len Porte, a black boy. The latter's lip was cut clear through to the teeth, and Referee Freddy Gilmore stopped the bout during the intermission. The bout was scheduled for eight heats.

Hymie Miller took a six-round decision over Charley Ernst, an old-timer, and Carl Johnson, stablemate of Taylor's, scored a knockout over Willie Fausto in the third round. It was one of the technical variety, Fausto—getting up at the count of four from a right-hander, but so woozy that he didn't know what it was all about. Johnson looks good, and is a good two-fisted fighter.

CHASTAIN STOPS LONG

SPRINGFIELD (Mo.) Nov. 10. (AP) Clyde Chastain knocked out Danny Long of California after two and a half minutes of fighting in Convention Hall here tonight.

PALUSO DEFEATS TRABON

LAWLESS COPS BOUT

ARMY AND NAVY STILL AT OUTS

Service Institutions Fail to Patch Up Differences

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Whether the country's two service institutions will resume competition on the football field remained a problem tonight for which no formula had been evolved that would bring an affirmative answer.

After a conference at the War Department Secretaries Hurley and Adams joined in a statement saying no basis had been found for an agreement to end the dispute over eligibility ruled for players who have stood in the way of football games between West Point and Annapolis.

Last week on a basis of a compromise proposal by the Navy which had been accepted by the Army, although not entirely favored by it, it had been thought a settlement was in sight. A last-minute withdrawal of the latest offer caused the collapse of the negotiations.

Secretary Hurley said the breakdown could not be considered final and the further negotiations which the Army was ready to carry on would result in an agreement.

The present negotiations have been concerned with the resumption of the general athletic relations and not the suggestion from outsiders that the two services play a post-season game this year to aid unemployment funds. This latter question has not been considered yet, Hurley said.

Any game which might be arranged for 1931 would have to be played out of season, because the Army has completed its schedule for the regular playing period next year.

PRICE REFUSES TO QUIT POST

"Buried as most of the details of this catastrophe are, there is one fact that stands out above all others. Whenever the task is begun, and whatever is accomplished, the job must be started and finished here at home. There is a mighty legion of disappointed alumni who would like to assume command; there is a flood of sports writers who will fill their columns with a variety of solutions to solve our problems, but on the campus there are the people whose team it really is, and the steps to be taken should be taken by them.

"Just what they must do is problematic. Periled by such a crushing defeat, their course for the next few days is indefinite, but when they do begin to act they will have to be thorough. There will be more to look into than just loss of one game, or a few games; there will be the whole problem of what is the matter with California's athletic activities. Certainly something is the matter; neither the alumni nor the sports writers can fix it. Some of the many aspects of the situation we take the liberty of suggesting:

COMPETENT STAFF?

(1.) Does California have a competent coaching staff? Does the head coach, though being a Californian, a good sport and a former assistant coach justify the paying of a large salary, or should the associated students hire a good sport who has been a wonderful head coach, regardless of his alumni affiliations? Is the salary paid because of the school attended or because of the job to be filled?

(2.) If California were to hire some one else as coach would he be able to do any better with the material at hand? Would he be faced with exactly the same problems of lean years as the alumnus coach?

(3.) Is a profitable amount of material coming to California?

If there is a lack of it in an institution of this size, what is the reason? Should we begin to subsidize?

(4.) As a matter of fact, who does subsidize? Who can find out subsidizers? And having found out, who has the spirit and the courage to say so in open meeting?

(5.) Is California adequately represented as a Pacific Coast Conference school? Has California been such a good sport and high-principled college that its representatives have taken the defeatist attitude toward the possibility of cleaning up colleges? Is young blood necessary perhaps to force the hand of schools whose administrations refuse to recognize the conditions in the institute because of economic benefits to be derived? Is California afraid to call a spade a spade because of the dangers of forcing "a professional team off a profitable schedule?

MATERIAL WASTED

(6.) Is some of the available material at California wasted by poor efforts? Are California's athletes tired out from too strenuous practice? Do they have longer hours of practice than other similar colleges? Do the coaches show them where they are wrong in their work, or are they left to shift for themselves in the face of caustic criticism?

(7.) Is there some kind of undercover politics or system of intrigue below the surface of the California varsity? What happened before the big game last year that shifted the morale of an otherwise successful team? What happened to mar the spirit of the men before the U.S.C. game started last Saturday? Why isn't it possible for a California team to have the same enthusiasm and steam-roller attitude as her opponents?

(8.) Would it be advisable to have the graduate manager maintain closer control over the coaching situation? Would it be a good idea to leave the head coach as he is, but to let someone else than him have the say in the choosing of assistant coaches? Are all, and which, of the present assistants living up to the real California standards of athletics themselves? If not, can the players be expected to get much inspiration?

"These are a lot of questions. There are a lot of others. We don't pretend to know the answers to them. If California had lost the U.S.C. game by a slim margin, these questions would have waited until later, but now they are bound to come up and as we have said, perhaps, the success with which they are asked and answered rests within our own circles. Until they are answered and until something definite is done, California athletics are not likely to perk up very noticeably."

OWEN SILENT

W. B. Owen of Stanford, president of the Pacific Coast Conference, declined to comment, saying that if the California situation is one of conference responsibility it is a matter for the entire conference.

Visibly crestfallen, the football team returned this morning and was greeted by a small crowd, most of whom were relatives or friends of the players.

Coincidentally, it was confirmed that Frank Medanich, center, who fractured an ankle in the U.S.C. game, will not play again this season.

Chocolate to Face Feather King in Bout

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Bat Battalino of Hartford, Ct., will defend his world's featherweight championship against Kid Chocolate, Cuban flash, in a fifteen-round bout in Madison Square Garden December 12. The bout will top the card for the New York American's annual Christmas fund show. Battalino has held the 126-pound title since September, 1929, when he outpointed the champion, Andre Routis. Chocolate long has been rated as an outstanding challenger for the crown, but suffered a surprising defeat at the hands of Fidel La Barba in his last start. The Garden announced that La Barba has been signed to meet Bud Taylor, Terre Haute (Ind.) body puncher, in a ten-rounder at the Garden the 28th inst.

JORDAN LEADS JONES IN BILLIARDS MATCH

Charles E. Jordan, local defending champion, got off to a flying start in the opening qualifying round of the Southern division of the western sectional three-cushion billiard tournament at the Clifford Jones Billiard Parlor last night. Jordan defeated Clifford Jones, 50 to 43. Another round will be played tonight, with the player first chalking up 100 points, meeting the other winners in a round robin.

J. N. Bozeman assumed a slight lead over Alfredo Alducien, Mexican champion, in a hotly contested match. The score was 50 to 47 in favor of the former. Paul Evans took his place among the leaders by outscoring Jack Van Gelder, 50 to 48. William Lane won over Jack Bayne, 50 to 23.

ERNIE HOOD SIGNED FOR PASADENA BOUT

Ernie Hood will meet the winner of the Jimmy Mack and Cliff Campbell go which takes place Thursday night at the Pasadena Arena. Morrie Cohan, promoter at the Crown City Arena, announced that Hood signed with him yesterday for the bout which will be staged within two weeks.

TUNNEY AWAITS COURT VERDICT

Judge and Jury Weigh Facts in Tim Mara's Suit

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—One Judge and a dozen referees, a strange array, indeed, for a retired heavyweight champion to face, took over tonight the question of what part of $526,812.42 — if any —Gene Tunney owes Tim Mara.

GENE TUNNEY.

Attorneys Emory R. Buckner, for the defense, and Martin W. Littleton for Mara, a Broadway Bookmaker, who seeks more than one quarter of Tunney's ring fortune of $2,000,000 for alleged breach of contract, summed up their cases today before Justice Peter A. Hatting in Supreme Court.

Once more picking over the testimony they carried the scene along different lines back to the halcyon days of the prize ring—when the late Tex Rickard ruled the fighters' roost, Jack Dempsey was considered the invincible heavyweight and Gentleman Gene was just another challenger for fisticuff's richest prize.

Buckner sought to convince the jury, which will retire to bring in a verdict tomorrow after hearing Justice Hatting's charge, of the flimsiness of Mara's assertions that he "advised, co-operated and assisted" Tunney in getting his title shot at Dempsey in 1926. Littleton based his summation on the written contract for 10 per cent of Tunney's purse for a Dempsey fight given Mara by the retired champion in 1926, along with two unsigned contracts for 25 per cent of Gene's future earnings if he became the title-holder.

The latter pair of contracts are bolstered by a letter from Tunney to Mara, dispatched after Mara avers he reached an oral agreement with Gene. This oral pact, he says, replaced the written document in which the bookmaker was told: "You may rest assured, you will get 25 per cent of Gene Tunney's earnings after he becomes champion."

After the summations the total sum involved in Mara's assertions was set at $526,812.42 by the court. This includes the 10 per cent of Tunney's $200,000 purse for the Dempsey match in Philadelphia September, 1926, plus $4950 interest and $435,000 from Gene's earnings as champion plus $66,862.42 in interest.

Buckner insisted in his summation that Billy Gibson, then Tunney's manager but working under a contract about to expire, contrived with Mara to have Gene sign all the contracts in 1926 because they included a provision for him to continue for life as Tunney's manager. Mara's attorney replied Tunney was about to discard Gibson and make Mara his manager.

"This man," shouted Littleton, pointing to Tunney sitting smiling at the counsel table, "marched to glory over the prostrate bodies of his friends. He won the championship, increased his stature on their bodies and when he needed them no longer, he said: 'See my lawyers.' Of course Tunney cannot see now why Mara was of any value to him nor can he see why Billy Gibson was any good to him."

Gibson, declared incompetent by the court, originally was a joint defendant with Tunney but the action against him was dismissed for lack of evidence earlier in the trial.

CORBETT, WALKER GO HERE IS POSTPONED

BY SOL METZGER

Here is the new Army attack, the offense that defeated Harvard and that Major Sasse is priming now for the final big test with Notre Dame the end of this month. It's the sort of play that gets touchdowns. They in turn, make a coach satisfied with life.

From a double-wing back formation the No. 1 back is in motion to the left, the defensive full covering him. It's a neat way to get that troublesome gent out of the course of the play. After No. 1 passes his center the latter snaps the ball to No. 2, who also starts to the left.

It's a reverse. That's why guard No. 7 swings out and dives into the legs of the defensive left end, and why linesmen No. 8 and 9 swing to the right and lead the interference off the defensive left tackle, one of them helping his right end, No. 5, take that tackle, if he is not already disposed of.

No. 4 gets the ball from No. 2 and follows No. 3 off tackle, sweeping wide to the unguarded right territory in the hope of getting into the open and running to glory.

Alquist Runs Fine Race in Mountain Run

At last Sunday's run of the Marathon Club of Southern California a new and promising candidate appeared in the person of August Alquist who won the last Mt. Wilson trail climb.

R. M. Angier, in the absence of his Indian teammate, Smith, easily led the pack, from scratch, with a time of 1:08:25; but Alquist, with a handicap of 4:15, was second in 1:13:50, while Harold Hesson, with a handicap of six minutes, was third in 1:19, actual times, and Dick Dawson fourth in 1:22:50.

The course extended from the Western avenue picnic ground in Griffith Park, 1000 feet up over the shoulder of Mt. Lookout, and around to Griffith Playground, a road distance of eleven and one-half miles.

With the addition of Alquist to their squad the marathoner's chances are much brighter for a successful raid on the ten-mile race being staged by the U.S.I.V., in San Francisco, on Thanksgiving Day. On Admission Day they won three individual trophies in the Italian-American race in South San Francisco, but failed to acquire a team trophy because they lacked a fifth man to finish. Now, however, Coach Jess Tingstrom has his eye on the huge team prize that is being offered.

OXY-POMONA DUCATS TO GO ON SALE TODAY

Tickets for the annual Occidental-Pomona football struggle will go on sale this morning at Silverwood's, Phil Ellsworth, Oxy graduate manager, announced yesterday. The Tiger-Sagehen grid battle is the oldest collegiate rivalry in Southern California and yearly draws record crowds. This year's game is listed for the Rose Bowl, a week from this Saturday.

BRUIN ELEVEN RETURNS

Spaulding Gives Westwood Outfit Two-Day Rest Because of Good Showing

BY FRANK ROCHE

The appearance of the Bruin football team on the U.C.L.A. campus yesterday following their somewhat amazing showing against Oregon University last Saturday was the cause of a general celebration at Westwood which almost resulted in classes being called off at the State institution. The lads and lassies of Westwood made much whoopee over their football warriors, staging an impromptu rally which will long be remembered at U.C.L.A.

Coach Bill Spaulding thought his boys did so well against Mighty Oregon that he gave them a two-day vacation from their football duties. The Bruins look on the result of the game as a "moral victory." Although that doesn't ring anything up on the register the Westwood students seemed to be very well pleased with the results. The score was 7 to 0 in favor of the Webfoots.

BILL SPAULDING

Bruin followers who accompanied the team to Eugene declare that only the heavy, sluggish going caused by showers the night before actually caused the Bruins to drop the decision to Oregon. Hayward Field was a sea of mud, according to the correspondents when the teams started the game.

Five times the Bruins rose to supreme heights and held the Webfooters back when the ball was down within their 5-yard line. The only time the Oregon team scored was in the first period when the leading scorer of the squad, Kitzmiller, put the ball on the 3-yard stripe and Rotenburg went over with it.

Norm Duncan turned in the game that Spaulding has been looking for from him all season. It was Duncan who backed up the line, according to Bruin attaches, when things were the worst. Norm also got the Westwood team out of several tough holes with his punting. One of his punts was made from behind his own goal line.

Kitzmiller paid in full for his dashes in the Bruin game as late reports from Eugene indicate that he is through for the season as his ankle was badly twisted in the third period. This means he is lost for the Oregon State game and to Oregon for good as he is a senior.

The Bruins draw a bye Saturday. On November 21 they play Oregon State at the Coliseum in a night game. They close their season against Idaho on the 29th.

KITZMILLER OUT OF OREGON STATE GAME

EUGENE (Or.) Nov. 10. (AP)—Word went out from the University of Oregon football camp today Johnny Kitzmiller, captain and one of the leading scorers of the Pacific Coast Conference, will not be able to play in the Oregon State College homecoming game at Corvallis Saturday.

Kitzmiller injured his leg in the U.C.L.A. game Saturday when he fell in a drainage ditch after being tackled. He was on crutches today.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

PRODIGIOUS PLURALITIES

POP WARNER: Southern California is one of the three greatest football teams I have seen in thirty-eight years of coaching.

Howard Jones: The Southern California team of 1930 is the greatest football team I ever coached, and that includes the Ted Coy team at Yale in 1909.

Just a couple of statements by two of the leading football coaches in the country.

Add Knute Rockne to the list, and say they are the big three of the gridiron coaching world.

Mr. Howard Harding Jones, the well-known track coach, played a round of golf at Rancho yesterday morning, and between strokes he offered a word or two in behalf of his boys who have won two major games by outstanding scores this year.

It's hardly necessary to mention the scores unless you have forgotten the size—41 to 12 against Stanford and 74 to 0 against California.

The way his boys came through in two major conflicts of such importance is what causes Mr. Jones to unbend and praise their efforts.

It is doubtful if two such big games on any team's schedule where the elevens were rated fairly even at the start of the season were ever decided by such prodigious pluralities.

POTENTIAL ALL-AMERICANS

"WE HAVE two more big games on our schedule this year—Washington and Notre Dame," Jones said yesterday, "and we might lose both of them, but my boys deserve all the praise in the world for what they have done.

"It's true they lost to Washington State, but the way they came through against Stanford and California completely obliterates that upset.

"When I say this season's Trojan team is better than any I ever coached I mean it.

"And I say that at the risk of censure by Yale men who recall the feats and exploits of the Coy team of 1909.

"Also those who recall my best Iowa eleven.

"But I never before had any team unfurl such dynamic and sustained outbursts as Southern California has done against Stanford and California this fall.

"It has been said and truthfully, that my Southern California eleven this year has several potential All-American players. I won't name them.

"I will say this, however. If Pommerening of Michigan was an All-American tackle in 1928 then I have two All-Americans in Bob Hall and Ernie Smith, who are so far ahead of him there is no comparison.

"Either would have him on his back in any game in which they opposed him."

MORALE IS RESPONSIBLE

AND then Jones went into what he considers the real reason for the remarkable success enjoyed by the Trojans in the Stanford and California games.

"It's morale," he said.

"Of course, we've got the material. No coach can win without it.

"On the other hand, you may recall that at the start of the season the northern newspaper men gave Pop Warner a big bulge on material.

"They were making All-Americans out of Neill and Tandy and others. They raved about Caglieri and Hillman, Rothert and Moffatt.

"They're all good football players, particularly Moffatt.

"But we only had two new first-stringers in the Stanford and California games this year.

"One was Mohler, the other Ernie Smith.

"And last year we just beat Stanford 7 to 0 and were defeated a week later by California, 15 to 7.

"That's why I say morale is responsible for the beautiful manner in which my boys have clicked in their two biggest games of the year to date.

"As I said before, we have two more big games on the schedule—Washington and Notre Dame.

"We may lose both, but I predict that if my boys play as they played against Stanford and California no team in the country can beat them.

"Their morale and teamwork were perfect in those battles."

POETS FACE SAGEHENS

far this season has been up to par, only the Arizona Wildcats being able to score freely against them. Arizona scored three of the four touchdowns registered against the Claremont eleven this season. San Diego State tallied the other.

NOT SO HOT

On the other hand, the Poets' defense as well as their offense has not been so hot. Newman's gang dropped its first two games by large scores, Arizona State, 20-0, and Occidental, 25-0. The next week they started clicking and ran wild over Cal.-Christian, 39-7. Santa Barbara State eked out a 13-6 victory over the Poets the following week-end. In its last contest Whittier rallied in the last quarter to nose out San Diego, 19-13.

Indications are that the regular Pomona line-up will open against the Poets. This means Stew Hagestad and George Warmer at ends; Curt Inman and Vic Hansen, tackles; Jack Witherspoon and Nip Walker, guards; Tom Barry, center; Capt. Al Putnam, quarterback; Hager and Bob Baynham, halfbacks, and Don Murdy, fullback. If Hager is unable to play George Stancer probably will get first call at his berth.

This leaves several strong substitutes, including Wykoff, end; Heartt, guard; Datson and Hickox, tackle, and Somfeld, center, on the line; Perry, Tscharner and Rimmel in the backfield.

If Hager is able to work at his best the Hens will have three strong ball packers in the starting line-up. Capt. Putnam has shown a return to the form which two seasons ago carried him to the top of conference halfback rating, and Baynham—recently recovered from an injured leg—also is strong. Putnam and Hager will alternate hitting the line, with Baynham running the ends. Escharner and Stancer also are open-field runners.

GOOD KICKERS

Punting duties will be handled by Hager and Murdy. Both of these men are powerful kickers and their work may form an important part of the Blue offense. Putnam, Hager and Baynham handle the passing duties.

The Sagehen freshmen meet the Poet yearling in the preliminary contest which is scheduled for 12:15. The varsity game will be called at 2:15.

Five sophomores are on the Whittier varsity line-up, which indicates that Newman's outfit will be just as tough or tougher next year. The entire left side of the line are sophomores, with Bonner at end; Bob Gibbs at tackle and Daugherty at guard. The other two are Merle Mashburn, half, and Vincent Sinatra, full. Sinatra is a very dependable player, getting his early training from Clark DeGroot at Roosevelt High.

The Poets will see action again this week, meeting Lee Eisan's LaVerne Panthers Saturday night at LaVerne. Two other games involving conference games are scheduled for this week-end, Occidental going to Santa Barbara to take on the strong Roadrunner eleven, while Cal-Christian takes on the Redlands Bulldogs on the Redlands' field. Both the Oxy-Santa Barbara game and the Redlands Panther tussle are listed for Friday night.

MARSHALL IN TOUGH SPOT

De Glane Plans to Give Colorado Wrestler Hard Battle at Olympic Wednesday

Everett Marshall has had some close nontitle mat battles with the topnotchers of the game here during the past year, but his finish bout with Henri De Glane, world's champion Greco-Roman grappler, scheduled for the Olympic tomorrow night, is expected to be the toughest he has ever had.

EVERETT MARSHALL.

The match is rated as a "natural," with the possible outcome a toss-up, although the local fans who have seen Marshall in action against such stars as Ed Lewis, Champion Gus Sonnenberg, Joe Stecher, and several others of this caliber, look for the airplane spin exponent to win.

In the past two weeks that De Glane has been in daily training here, he has shown more clever and scientific wrestling in the gym than any first-rater to step on the local mat, according to veteran mat critics. He is a master with holds used by the great grapplers of both Europe and America, but specializes in a group of body slams, arm and head-holds that have rarely been used here by any wrestler.

De Glane went through his final workout in preparation for this bout, yesterday. Although he has not attempted to perfect any defense or counter-offenses against Marshall's best holds, he showed his trainers how easily it was to break the airplane spin, the grip that Marshall has used so successfully in his local bouts. The Frenchman declares the hold is an old Greco-Roman grip under a new name, and that he knew at least three ways of "beating" the hold.

"I never prepare myself against any hold when I am training for a match," De Glane stated in speaking of tomorrow night's match. "I work out my defense, instinctively, it seems, in the ring. I never go into a ring prepared with this and that kind of defense, although I know a great many wrestlers who do. I find I wrestle easier when I don't.

"Also, I don't have what you call a winning hold, or a grip in which I specialize. Your opponent always knows what to look for when you have a special hold. Many times he can tell from the way you move just when you intend to apply it. By not having a special hold, your opponent never knows when you are after the grip that you intend to beat him with."

This bout is expected to develop into one of the most scientifically contested mat battles seen at the Olympic this year, while the other finish bout, which will bring together Ed (Strangler) Lewis and Jose Dominguez, is expected to prove one of the roughest. This will be Lewis's first appearance in an American ring in six months.

KAYO EXPECTED IN LEGION GO

Fay and Doman Clash in Friday Night Bout

Al Fay will get knocked out or will knock out Vigo Doman in the main event at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium Friday night. This opinion is shared by the smartest fight men in Hollywood. Royal Elliott plastered Fay with many a right-hand sock which showed that Jack Kearns's heavyweight has a weakness on the defense. If Doman ever connects with just half as many rights to the whiskers as did Elliott, the fight will never go the limit of ten heats.

From the East has come word from Jack Kearns to his chief lieutenant Teddy Hayes that Fay must win this shot and to have him in the best of shape. Kearns wants a knockout as he is after a Fay-Max Baer fight. If not in California, then any place. Fay will outromp and outsmart Doman. He will beat him to the punch claims Hayes, and as Doman's chin is none too strong there is that chance that the easterner may win by a knockout.

Young Papke has a tough assignment. He fights Richie King in the semi-wind-up. King has been stopped twice of late. Once by Bobby Reister and once by Bobby LaSalle. Papke is just a green kid and unless he can get over a kayoe he might find the going pretty tough as King is a gamester who has a good sock.

The third colorful fight on the bill is the special event. Pickle Heintz, heavyweight champion of the Navy, fights Gus Heib. Sailors believe Heintz to be the best fighter developed in the Navy since Jack Sharkey's time. Heintz is a big fellow with a great sock.

HAWAIIANS DUE HERE TOMORROW

practice, "I told the boys, before the California game, that if they mopped up on the Bears I would call them the greatest team I ever coached. But little did I think they would make it 74 to 0."

Jess Shaw, guard, and Garrett Arbelbide, end, were the only players unable to don suits. Shaw was clipped from behind and has a bad leg. Arbelbide has a shoulder "point." Somebody wisecracked that Erny Pinckert was responsible for Barry's shoulder injury, Erny having cracked Arbelbide a terrific wallop on the back as the two left the field Saturday. At any rate it is unlikely that Arbelbide will play against Hawaii. Gene Clark will probably take his place.

The boys were all very frisky and enjoyed themselves on the field for fifteen or twenty minutes, after which Jones let them go.

Marshall Duffield and the other backs were inclined to minimize their own ball-carrying brilliance and give the credit to the line.

"They're certainly great players to work behind," said Marsh. "They made things easy for us and got little credit for it."

LINEMEN BOOSTED

All the players were loud in their praise of Shaw and Stan Williamson, pointing out that the latter outplayed three California centers. On many plays Stan shoved the Bear centers back into California's backfield. Stan's passing was of the highest caliber and his offensive charge had a lot to do with the way Trojan plays worked.

Marger Apsit also came in for his share of credit. He never carried the ball or caught a pass all day Saturday but was in there bowling over the Bears in his usual efficient manner.

My friend Fred Chase is right. Arbelbide did not block that second punt in the third quarter. Bob Hall did it. "But what difference does it make?" said Bob smilingly. "The fact that we blocked 'em is all that counts as far as I'm concerned."

Pinckert admitted that it was a grand and glorious feeling to pack the pigskin now and then. "I sure enjoyed it," said Erny, "but my gosh, you sure do a lot of running, don't you, when you lug that old apple?"

Jones, after sending the varsity to the showers, spent a few moments with the frosh team, which closes its season today against the U.C.L.A. freshmen.

A lot of people engaged in heavy cogitation on the Trojan-Notre Dame game will do well to recall how California defeated Pennsylvania, 12 to 7, last year, and went clear across the country in midseason to do so. Brian Bell, Associated Press sports writer, said Saturday that the present Pennsylvania team is not as good as last year's. The Irish trimmed Penn, 60 to 20, and S.C. mopped up on California, 74 to 0. Do your own figuring.

THOMPSON FORCED TO CANCEL BATTLE

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Young Jack Thompson, former welterweight champion of the world, will have no opportunity to win back the title until after the first of the year.

The Oakland (Cal.) Negro will be unable to box until that time due to an attack of boils.

Consequently, his proposed return match with Tommy Freeman, the title-holder, must be set back. They had agreed to box in Cleveland the latter part of this month.

SWIMFEST CARDED

The fall swimming season in Southern California will be ushered in the 30th inst., when the annual desert championships are decided at the El Mirador Hotel at Palm Springs.

Loyola Babes Face Compton Jaysee Today

Coach "Deacon" Pine's Compton Tartar eleven will meet the Loyola University freshman team in an acid test on the Tartar field this afternoon at 2:30. Both the Tartars and the "Baby Lions" have gone through their schedule without a defeat. Compton is leading the Southern California Junior College Conference with three wins and a tie, and holds a scoreless tie with the Trojan freshmen in a preseason game. Loyola has played two games so far this season. The Lions have victories over San Bernardino and Ventura Jaysees.

The Lion Cubs have a powerful squad coached by Sam Dagley, former Santa Clara football star. They have a fast, snappy backfield composed of former prep stars. They are Whitelsey at quarter; Atkinson and Newman at the halfs, and McBride at full. McBride was captain of Poly High last year.

According to reports, Coach Pine will not send his first string against the Cubs, because the Tartars have an important conference battle with Pasadena this Saturday. However, the second string is also plenty strong, having defeated the Taft Jaysee, 32 to 0. The northerners had not been beaten or scored on previous to this encounter.

Allen to Head Hockey League

John L. Allen, Jr., owner of the Oakland Sheiks, has been elected president of the California Hockey League for the coming season. He succeeds Jim Tuthill.

A thirty-six-game schedule has been drawn up by the moguls, with eighteen games scheduled for the Winter Garden rink. The local season will open a week from Thursday, with the Los Angeles Millionaires facing the San Francisco Tigers. The Los Angeles team is a combination of the Richfields and Hollywood Millionaires of last season. The Hollywood franchise has been bought by Frank Dyer.

Dyer has not yet decided which city his club will represent, but is expected to move either to San Jose, Sacramento or Berkeley.

ROMAN HARRIERS WIN

The cross-country team of Los Angeles High School defeated the Washington High Harriers yesterday afternoon, in a race over the mile-and-a-half course at Washington. The final score was Los Angeles, 24; Washington, 33. Hotchkiss, star Washington harrier, was the first to finish, his time being 8 minutes, 44 seconds flat. Holloway was the first Roman to finish, coming in second.

Connie Mack Releases Veterans and Signs Up Three Youngsters

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10. (AP)—Connie Mack, who sits pretty near the top of the baseball world with eight American League pennants and five world's championships adorning his record, has started in to reorganize and strengthen his team for the 1931 season.

CONNIE MACK

The tall tutor announced today he had given old Jack Quinn and the veteran catcher, Wally Schang, their unconditional releases and had obtained three young players from the Pacific Coast League to fill the gaps.

The three young players are Robert L. Johnson, right-handed hitting outfielder; Hank McDonald, right-handed pitcher, and Joe Palmisano, catcher, all of the Portland (Or.) club.

Mack also announced Nick Borelli, former Muhlenberg College star, had been released outright to the Dallas (Tex.) club. Borelli, a third baseman, although belonging to the A's, has not been with the team the last two years.

The veteran Quinn, who pitched marvelous ball for his age at times for Connie Mack, has been in the game for thirty years, first attracting attention when playing with Connellsville, Pa., in 1901. He is one of the few spitballers left in the major leagues. Jack played with many clubs before he came to the A's in 1925. Last year Jack, who only smiles when asked his age, did not do so well and Mack decided to make room for a younger man.

Wally Schang broke into baseball fame on the Athletics, having been the catcher for that famous trio of hurlers, Plank, Bender and Coombs. He was let out on a trade years ago and came back to the A's last year. He was used mostly for coaching young players.

and Stanford right handily this season.

The Bruin Cub line will be improved with the return of Schulte to the left-tackle position. He has been laid up since early in the season. Joe Keeble has been shifted from fullback to quarter, with Blackman taking over Keeble's old post. Bill Robb isn't scheduled to start, but will get into the game.

Russ Saunders and Cecil Hoff will be in charge of the Tro-Babes in the absence of Aubrey Devine, who is on his way east to scout Notre Dame. Ed Griffith, quarter; Williams, fullback, and Rosenberg, guard, have been the outstanding stars of the squad to date. The game starts at 2:30. Line-ups:

Book Off Press

"Game Fish of the Pacific," an interesting book written by George C. Thomas, Jr., and George Thomas III, both of Beverly Hills, has just come off the Lippincott press and its appearance is causing considerable excitement among local fishermen of the deep-sea class.

The senior member of the family is the author of numerous books on American roses and also of "Golf Architecture in America," but he has excelled himself in his newest creation and the stirring narratives he capably related of his many experiences in Lower California and Mexican waters make quite exciting reading while his talented son contributed much of the art used throughout the book in the form of colored illustrations.

Many of the trophies killed on the trip of the good ship Radio, Mr. Thomas's own schooner and the same one that MacMillan used in his last cruise to the Arctic regions, are on dsplay in the Olive-street windows of the Dyas store. D. Scott Chisholm accompanied the party on the Mexican trip and contributed many photographs as illustrations.

Army Eleven to Meet Gobs

BERKELEY, Nov. 10. (AP)—Two fighting football elevens, one representing the Army and the other the Navy, will meet in the Memorial Stadium here tomorrow in the service classic of the Pacific Coast.

The soldiers are favored to win the game because of the hardening schedule they went through this year, but followers of the game do not expect a victory by more than a one-touchdown margin. The Army will center its attack around Nodgie Ganuzzi, plunging quarterback.

The Navy eleven will be seeking its first victory since the game was inaugurated five years ago. The team is heralded as the strongest ever to represent the sailors, with Steve Bancroft, California star of two years ago, leading the linesmen at tackle, and Gilbert Lefebre, halfback, furnishing the main backfield threat.

WINTER LOOP CLUBS IN DOUBLE-HEADER TODAY

Local baseball fans will get a chance to see two of the strongest Winter League teams in action at Wrigley Field today when Fred Haney's Kelley Kars tackle Wes Kingdon's Commercial Clubmen in a Armistice Day double-header.

Both outfits boast a collection of hard hitters and figure to provide a full afternoon of excitement at the local park. The Kelley Kars have in their line-up such sluggers as Walter Berger, Boston Brave home-run king, who has hit four circuit clouts in his last two games; Wes Schulmerich, Jigger Statz, Ral Hemsley, Pittsburgh Pirate catcher; Johnny Bassler and Cedric Durst.

The Commercial Club also has an array of hard hitters. On the Clubmen's roster are Fuzzy Hufft, Johnny Moore, Louie Almada, Jack Fenton, Frank Brazill and Joe Mellano, all of whom have proved their ability with the willow.

Skipper Kingdon will probably use Jim Turner and Hollis Thurston, two very capable chuckers, on the mound for the Commercials in today's contests. Fred Haney expects to send Frank Shellenback and Win Ballou, the Kelleys' two aces, against the Clubmen.

The holiday bill begins at 1:30 and ladies will be admitted free.

LIONS PREPARE FOR CALIFORNIA AGGIES

Football practice was resumed in earnest at Loyola University yesterday afternoon when Tom Lieb sent his men through two hours of hard scrimmage in order to get them in shape for Saturday's encounter against the California Agriculture College. The Lions meet the Aggies in Sacramento on Saturday afternoon, it being the only encounter of the year that they play away from home.

Although the Lion mentor realizes that his eleven will be heavy favorites to take Saturday's game he is not taking any chances on letting his men become overconfident. The Lions lost the Pacific game last year by getting too confident and Lieb is not going to let it happen this year.

ABIE MILLER ON CARD

Carlo Curtis has picked Bobby Garcia to meet Abie Miller in the six-round wind-up at the Main Street Athletic Club Saturday night. Garcia is a club fighter and a real puncher. He will be the toughest test Miller has faced since the Jewish boy deserted the amateur ranks after winning the national bantamweight championship.

Salesmen, Solicitors —10-B

Our Business Was Never Better

WHY

Because they are very successful. One man made $3000 last month. Several made over $1000 last month. Many made over $500 last month.

BECAUSE THEY DO NOT HAVE TO FIND A NEW CUSTOMER EVERY TIME THEY MADE A SALE.

BECAUSE we can give them leads.

BECAUSE we train them thoroughly.

BECAUSE we have a very small turnover. Some of our men have been with us four years.

BECAUSE we have opened 4 branches in the last 6 months, and can give them plenty of opportunities for advancement.

BECAUSE when they make a sale they make a friend for life.

SOVIETS SEE HUGE PLOT

Several Nations Accused

Confession Said to Reveal Powers' Plan to Seize Rich Resources

Eight Russians Imprisoned for High Treason and Face Death

MOSCOW (U.S.S.R.) Nov. 11. (AP) [illegible] a dossier of indictments and purported confessions in the hands of the people's commissar of justice there emerged today soviet charges of an international plot to overthrow the government and to parcel out some of the country's most valuable natural resources among the nations which fringe her borders.

Eight Russians said to be anti-soviet are in prison under charges of high treason, the punishment for which is death. The asserted confession of one of them—the counter-revolutionist, Ramsin—names a group of outstanding figures in half a dozen nations as coconspirators with the leaders of the plot in Moscow.

Sir Henri Deterding, British oil magnate, is named as one of those who aided in financing the preliminary revolutionary campaign. Former Premier Poincare and Foreign Minister Briand of France are called "arch conspirators," and the name of Britain's "Lawrence of Arabia" is the final dab of color in the picture.

MANY NATIONS LISTED

From Ramsin's purported confession the government has reconstructed the elaborate plot. It was hatched in Moscow and Leningrad, but with foreign capital in Paris and supported by active sympathy from Great Britain, France, Poland, Finland, Rumania and other "capitalistic" nations.

There was to have been a diplomatic "incident" on the Rumanian border, and Rumania was to have declared war. In quick succession, Poland, France and England were to have followed her example.

An army of 600,000 men under the white general, Loukomsky, was to have marched on Moscow, gathering strength of numbers as it went by enlistment of discontented peasants, simultaneously while an army under the white general, Denikin, moved on Leningrad.

France was to supply arms and ammunition and the British fleet was to steam into the Baltic and the Black Sea, seizing the Crimea and Leningrad. All this, planned last summer, the soviet government asserts, broke because of discord between France and Italy and the uncertainty of Germany's attitude caused the plotters to delay their open attack.
